Many in Gatzke Area Seek Admission to Middle River School District
(Warren Sheaf)

Petitions from 40 freeholders in Gatzke school District 438 to have their lands set-off from this district to the Middle River School District No. 440 were filed with the Marshall County Board of Commissioners in session here yesterday.

Reasons behind the petitions in the main were that the freeholders did not want to belong to the proposed Grygla high school district because of distance involved, that Middle River was their natural trading point and that they believe their taxes will be less by joining with Middle River.

County commissioners accepted the petitions and ordered that a public hearing be held on June 2 at 2 p.m. when the petitions will be considered. The commissioners will hear both pros and cons on the petitions. Since the meeting yesterday, additional petitions have been received.

Phone Company Expands
(Lancaster Herald)

The Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission has approved the sale of the Malung Cooperative Telephone Co. of Roseau County to Wikstrom Telephone Co., Inc., Karlstad, which now serves 15 communities in Northwestern Minnesota.

The Malung company has about 250 subscribers.

Earlier this year the Wikstrom company purchased the telephone systems of Wannaska in Roseau County and Middle River in Marshall County. All systems will be converted to dial operation next year, according to George Wikstrom, president of the Karlstad company.

With the three recent acquisitions, the Wikstrom company now provides service to Karlstad, Donaldson, Strandquist, Greenbush, Halma, Viking, Williams, Roosevelt, Holt, Newfolden, Lancaster, Lake Bronson, Middle River, Wannaska and Malung.

Store Burglarized
(Lancaster Herald)

A break-in was reported at the Lancaster Co-op Store Tuesday morning. Manager Hubert Nelson informed the press that between $35.00 and $40.00 in silver was stolen from the cash register. Burglars gained entrance thru the north side door using what appeared as a steel pry. Sheriff Ingebrigtsen and Lancaster Police Harvey Tauer are investigating the case.

No clues have been reported at this writing.

Wash Plant Ends Season
(Karlstad Advocate)

The first season of operation for the KMR Packers, Inc., Wash Plant here in Karlstad came to an end a week ago when the last of the potatoes were put on the road to market, April 27th. According to reports emanating from the plant it has not been a tremendous year for the new establishment, but in view of many set-backs it has been a satisfactory year and the plant itself showed a good first year profit.

With the first year bumps out of the way, the ownership of the new plant is looking ahead to next year with much optimism and has every reason to believe they will have a good and profitable year.

Approve Church Building
(Warren Sheaf)

Approval of a $25,000 building program, election of new church officers, and a reception for outgoing District Superintendent Dr. Ira B. Allen, Detroit Lakes, highlighted the Grace Methodist Church annual conference held here Sunday night.

To Vote on Bond Issue
(Red Lake Falls Gazette)

Red Lake Falls taxpayers will be confronted with a special bond election Monday, June 8, as a result of city council action Monday night. The bond issue would be for money to be used to build a winter sports arena.

The councilmen in attendance unanimously approved the proposal that the issue be submitted to the voters for action next month. Estimated cost of the project would be approximately $40 to $45 thousand dollars, payable over a 20 year span and applied on personal and real estate taxes of local residents.

Langen States Poverty Plan Is Harmful To Valley

Says Creation of Jobs Is Actually Only Shift From One Area to Another

"The Area Redevelopment Administration has admitted its own failure to create jobs," said Congressman Odin Langen as he noted ARA's complete endorsement of the Appalachian Regional Development Act of 1964. "And this failure, coupled with new proposals, adds up to further problems for the Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota."

Langen cited the agricultural proposal in the Appalachian package as the latest proof of ARA's failure. "It's a typical ARA gimmick," he said, "that calls for $22-million next year and millions more over the following four years to develop 9.5-million acres of grazing land to icrease cattle production. But with cattle prices dangerously low, the market flooded with imported meat, and our present cattle production at a high level, it's competely ridiculous to put this new land into livestock. Our own cattlemen will be hurt even further."

Langen said that the ARA Administrator's own testimony on the Appalachian proposal was an admission of past failure. "He admitted that ARA has invested 30 per cent of all its funds to date in the hard-hit Appalachian area and that the Accelerated Public Works program has invested 23 per cent of its project funds in Appalachia. But the increase in jobs for the area lags far behind the new jobs created in the country as a whole and the main reduction in unemployment has come about because many people moved out after failing to find work.

Jehovah Witness Sessions Held

Bagley Host to 785 at Bible Conference Sunday

Meeting schedule of the Thief River Falls congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has returned to normal after a weekend of special activity at Bagley, according to R. H. Wetenkamp, presiding minister. A total of 785 persons were in the audience Sunday afternoon at the Bagley high school auditorium for the climax of the three-day Bible convention.

Speaking on the subject, "Facing Up to the Urgency of Our Times," E. R. Brandt of New York told the delegates that our times are urgent for many reasons. He stated, "nearly all peoples today find themselves faced with the pressures of widespread immorality and materialsims." "History proves that the wise men of this world have proved unable to provide the needed guidance, but God's word, the Bible, acts as a light to show us the path out of these urgent times to safety," he concluded.

A district director of ministers for Jehovah's Witnesses, Brandt currently organizes Bible conventions in Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Upper Michigan Peninsula and northern Iowa. At the Bagley gathering 15 were baptized.

Faribo Turkeys Sold To Doughboy Industries, Inc.

Wisconsin Firm Buys Minnesota Cooperative For More Than $4 Million

Doughboy Industries, Inc., of New Richmond, Wis. announced at its annual stockholders meeting in Minneapolis Tuesday that it has purchased the production facilities and assets of Faribo Turkeys, Inc. a Minnesota cooperative with annual sales of $20 million.

The co-op, which has been in existence since 1947, has turkey processing plants in Faribault and Madelia, hatcheries in New Haven, Iowa and Rochester and several turkey breeding farms in the Rochester area.

The acquisition, biggest of its kind in the history of the turkey industry, involved a purchse price "in excess of $4 million," Edwin J. Cashman, president of Doughboy Industries, said.

Doughboy, a company which manufactures a diversified line of agricultural, industrial, recreational and electronics products, has played a major role in the development of the Upper Midwest turkey industry through its feeding and management programs.

Last year, it was pointed out, Faribo Turkeys produced 5,112,885 turkey poults and processed 42,291,673 pounds of meat at the Faribault and Madelia plants. These birds were marketed under the Norbest label and this marketing arrangment will continue.

Between 500 and 520 people are employed in the Faribault and Madelia plants and the hatchery division has 65 people on a permanent basis in Rochester and New Haven, Iowa. The total annual payroll is approximately $1,250,000.

They Told Me I'd Get A Set Of Stainless Steel Cookware

"If they could put siding or roofing on our house"

WARNING!

The 'Itinerant Salesman' and 'Peddlers' Are On the Road

Like the grizzly bear, the "itinerant salesman" comes out of hibernation each year with the advent of warm weather. Like the bear, they are "hungry" after a long time without food, and they are on the road now . . . "peddling everything from house siding jobs and house and barn roofing jobs to farm fire alarm systems, cesspool dredging and "attractive" painting deals.

In many cases, to "close a deal," these people offer "shiny premiums" . . . just for signing up. And in many cases, the contract you sign for work you expect done is "loaded" with fine print, which again in many cases protects not you — the buyer — but which contains an "out" for the vendor.

Such home improvement work as new siding on a house, or a re-roofing job, or chimney rebuilding, are too important for a hasty decision made as a result of high-pressure salesmanship. In this field, the local firms represented below are entirely capable of furnishing you with any of the materials or workmanship you can secure anyplace else. These firms are your friends — people you know — and they are part and parcel of our community. So, if you find yourself in the act of making a "hasty decision," take time to think it over. You can very likely "do better" right here at home.

NO Pictures?

Don't be sad, sweetheart. The book has no pictures, but it's a wonderful story . . . the most wonderful story in the world! You'll hear about it in Sunday School, and when you're older you'll be able to read it for yourself.

Her eager young mind is ready to learn, and she'll find it easy to understand the glorious truths of the Bible if they are presented to her in pictures, stories and songs. The happy hours she spends in Sunday School could be the beginning of an unshakable Christian faith that will sustain her all her life.

You feel that your children deserve the best. Give them an early introduction to the beauty of the Christian religion . . . give them the security of a loving Christian home . . . and know that these are the greatest gifts you could provide.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

47 At Crippled Children's Clinic in City Thursday

A total of 47 boys and girls suspected of having heart, orthopedic or other physical disabilities had examinations at the field clinic conducted by the Crippled Children services of the State Department of Welfare in Thief River Falls on Thursday. The clinic was held at Northwestern hospital. Sixteen of the 47 were from Pennington county, according to Mrs. William Holmes, local chairman.

On the clinic staff conducting the clinic were an orthopedist to examine youngsters for crippling bone and muscle conditions; a pediatrician who saw the younger patients; public health nurses and a consultant from the crippled children services to assist the doctors and to aid parents in arranging for needed hospitalization or home care.

In most cases, according to the welfare department, help can be given to the children whether their crippled condition is the result of accident, disease or has been present since birth.

Locally the clinic was sponsored by the Zehlian art group of the Thief River Falls Women's club. Special assistance was provided by Norman Peterson, hospital administrator, and Frank Harger, physical therapist.

Volunteer workers from the women's club included Mrs. Harold Buck, appointment chairman; Mrs. William Holmes, chairman; Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen, co-chairman; Mrs. Harold Rasmussen and Mrs. Harold Elofson, registrars; and Mrs. Randall Noper, registered nurse.

Assisting student nurses under Farmes were Sandra Halvorson, Judy Hagen and Cathy Oski, Thief River Falls; Charlene Fruholtz, Bejou; Cheryl Paulson, Gonvik; Janice Larson, Strandquist; Carol Dau, Viking; and Corliss Elfstrom, Lancaster.

Professional nursing students from Lutheran Deconess hospital, pital in Minneapolis who assisted were Karen Ommen, Astoria, S. D.; Garyle Schubert, Buffalo; Virginia Utke, Oriska, N. D.; and Theodora Schroeder, Battle View, N. D. Mrs. Francis Hamerlinck is the instructor for these students. Parent counseling was conducted by Miss Irene Anderson of the Minnesota Department of Health, first district. The clinic was organized and supervised by Mrs. Laura Stenskog of the crippled children services.

Cliff Markuson Named Manager of State Dairy Group

Succeeds H. R. Searles In Filling Vacated Post of L. H. (Lew) Conlon

A former Minnesota Dairy Industry committee (MDIC) field representative, Clifford Markuson, will become general manager of the statewide dairy promotion organization July 1, it was announced last week.

Markuson has been state manager of the Idaho Dairymen's association, Boise, since leaving MDIC in January, 1962. Both organizations are state units of American Dairy association. He will succeed Prof. H. R. (Shorty) Searles of St. Paul, retired University of Minnesota dairy specialist, who has filled the Minnesota post on a temporary basis since the April 1 resignation of long-time manager L. H. (Lew) Conlon, St. Paul.

Markuson's appointment was announced by Walter Larson, president of MDIC and chairman of its executive committee. Larson, a Lake Elmo dairy farmer, said 16 men were considered during the six-week selection period. He said Markuson was the unanimous choice of the six-member excutive committee.

Larson said announcement was delayed 48 hours, pending notification of MDIC's more than 20 directors and alternates, after the decision was reached May 12.

"With the managerial experience he has attained in Idaho added to his knowledge of our state program, our staff and our industry people, the executive committee has full confidence in Cliff Markuson," Larson said.

Reached in phone by Boise, Markuson said he would return to Minnesota as quickly as he could wind up business and personal affairs in Boise.

A native of Long Prairie, Minn., Markuson lived in Hutchinson for a number of years prior to taking his current position in Idaho. He joined MDIC's field staff in 1958.

Bruggeman Herd Tops Pennington D.H.I.A. in April

759 Cows On Test During Month; Average 1,053 Lbs. Milk, 39.1 Pounds Fat

Don and Mark Bruggeman's dairy herd topped the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the month of April, according to the monthly report compiled by Orville Peters, supervisor of the testing association. The herd averaged 1,310 pounds of milk per cow with an average of 47.9 pounds of butterfat and average test of 3.66 percent.

Herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd. The amount of milk or butterfat produced is averaged out over all the cows, giving the farmer a record of the earning power of the herd for the month. If there are a number of dry cows in the herd, the average for the month may be low even though the cows which are milking produce a large amount of milk.

During the month of April there were 25 herds on test with a total of 759 cows for an average of 30.3 cows per herd—90 per cent of which were milking. Average amount of milk produced per cow was 1,053 pounds with 3.71 percent butterfat or 39.1 pounds of fat per cow.

Herds owned by Don and Mark Bruggeman and John Burtness each had two cows completing lactation with more than 500 pounds of butterfat. In the Bruggeman herd were cows producing 17,190 pounds of milk and 618 pounds of fat in 365 days and 12,770 pounds of milk and 501 pounds of fat in 322 days. Burtness had cows which produced 16,890 pounds of milk and 626 pounds of fat in 365 days and 14,000 pounds of milk and 548 of fat in 365 days. Wallace Reierson had a cow producing 13,070 pounds of milk and 512 pounds of fat in 326 days.

Herds in the top 10 for the month in the Pennington association were as follows.

Herd	Avg. Milk	Avg. Fat
Don & Mark Bruggeman	1310	47.9
Myron Carlson	1149	45.3
Earl Erickson	941	45.2
Mordy Morrison	1281	45.1
Darrow Lundeen	1316	44.6
Wallace Reierson	1171	43.4

Hospital Open House To Be Held This Week

HONORED on Sunday, May 24, with an open house at the Knox elementary school gymnasium will be Miss Olga Bloomsness, teacher in the Thief River Falls school system for 39 years. Open house will be held from 2 to 4:30 p.m. and is a community-sponsored event in recognition of the service she has rendered the Thief River Falls area. The public is invited to attend.

Grand opening of Northwestern hospital's new rehabilitation unit is scheduled for this weekend with visitation hours set from 2 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday and 2 to 6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Visitors will be given guided tours of the new unit and are asked to use the new entrance fronting on First street.

Final inspection of the building was held on Friday with representatives of the architect and general contractor making the inspection with members of the hospital board building committee. Built at a total cost of $849,000, the rehabilitation unit was completed 100 days ahead of schedule and will be ready for occupancy on June 1.

It was in the early 1900's when hospital service began in Thief River Falls with the building of Bethany hospital. In 1914 Mercy hospital was built at Fifth street and Duluth avenue, the building now used as the Masonic hall. In 1930 St. Luke's hospital was built at the present hospital site and was designed to accommodate 46 patients.

When a merger of Mercy and St. Luke's hospitals was effected to form Northwestern hospital in 1950, an addition to the St. Luke's building was planned. This unit was completed in 1954 to make a 110-bed hospital. In 1958 a chronic and convalescent care unit was developed, and the growth of this unit resulted in the construction of the new addition just completed. The hospital now has a capacity of 150 patients.

Total project cost of $849,000 includes approximately $75,000 for remodeling and expansion of services in the existing hospital building. When final costs are computed and federal assistance payments made, hospital indebtedness for and equipment will be less than $100,000, reports Norman Peterson, hospital administrator.

The unit is located on the north end of the hospital building and adds approximately 29,000 square feet of space to the hospital. Services are located on three floors and are arranged to make the most efficient use possible.

Appearing with Wednesday's edition of the Times will be a four-page section giving further information on the new addition and a number of pictures of areas and services of the hospital.

Ore-Ida Retracts Request for Water Use in Processing

The hearing held in the court house Wednesday afternoon by state officials on the application of Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., of Ontario, Ore., was postponed indefinitely following a statement by Glenn Green of Burley, Idaho. The company's project engineer, Green said thatthe company no longer was interested in the use of river water in their potato processing plant and was not in position at this time to announce definitely where the plant would be located. Ore-Ida had petitioned to use water from the Thief River in the area north of the golf club.

Robert Brown, deputy commissioner of the Department of Conservation, presided at the hearing. With him in conducting the hearing were Sidney Freisen, director of the Division of Waters, and Lawrence Vauhel, representing the attorney general.

Robert Wurst, Thief River Falls attorney, spoke briefly in behalf of the company and introduced Green who stated the company's present position. He said that the location of the plant would be announced within 10 days and that construction contracts had already been let. He added that the location would definitely be in northwestern Minnesota. Building contracts have been let to the Adamson Construction company of Grafton, N. D., and the Minco Metal Distributors of Fargo.

Following adjournment there was an informal explanation of the overall operation of the plant that would be built, presented by James Howard of Pocatello, Idaho, speaking for the company as a consulting engineer. He discussed the general plans and the overall operation of the plant including the disposal of waste.

School Election Tuesday Evening

Thief River Falls annual school election will be held Tuesday with balloting from 4 to 9 p. m. in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. Incumbents Morris Owen and Robert Bredeson are unopposed for election to three-year terms on the board of education.

In the 1962 election, a record vote of 1,941 was noted with incumbents Lloyd Howick, John Burtness and Rufus Olson returned to the board. Previous record vote was 1,700 several years ago.

Parents of the scouts will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Noper's Motel Fireside room to discuss transportation, finances and itinerary with chaperones.

As part of the fund-raising campaign, the girls will serve a chili supper from 5 to 7 p. m. Wednesday in Trinity Lutheran church, and the public is encouraged to attend. Further information on the 4,000 mile trip will be included in Wednesday's edition of the Times.

Gamble's Holds Two Anniversary

Two anniversary events are being observed beginning this week at the Gamble's store in Thief River Falls. This month marks the 35th anniversary of the first Gamble's store in this city and the 25th anniversary of Stan Pladson's employment with the company. He has been manager of the Thief River Falls store for the past 18 years.

PROGRESS in construction of the new junior high school and elementary schools in Thief River Falls has been rapid the past several weeks. The above photo was taken early last week when concrete block was being laid for the west wall of the gymnasium in the junior high school building. This wall had been constructed previously but was blown down in a heavy wind storm two weeks ago. At present the wall has been completely constructed and workmen are applying their efforts to other walls of the building. Contract for construction calls for completion of the elementary building by September 1 and the junior high school building by December 31. "Curly" Roberts of the architectural firm of Hammel & Green told the Times recently that the work was ahead of schedule. It was not expected that the loss of one wall from wind would cause any appreciable delay. The junior high school will furnish a central heating plant for both buildings and gymnasium, cafeteria and library which will be used by elementary students. The two buildings will be connected by an entry-way of brick and glass.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. WALTER LIETZOW

Some simmery-summery days do call for something rich and filling in the dessert or salad line, though the housewife just doesn't feel like fussing in that kind of weather. On such occasions, this salad idea will fill both requirements. There's nutrition along with taste-and eye-appeal in the colorful fruits and in the protein-rich walnuts, cottage cheese and whipped cream. Unmolded on a bed of greens it's exceptionally attractive. Mrs. Lietzow says it's really good, and her family considers it a favorite.

FRUIT SALAD

1 Pkg. lemon-flavored gelatine dessert
1 cup boiling water
⅓ cup cottage cheese, medium curd
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
½ cup walnuts, chopped
½ cup maraschino cherries, sliced or chopped
1 cup crushed pineapple, drained

Dissolve the gelatine dessert in the boiling water and chill until partially set. Fold in the remaining ingredients and pour into a 1 quart tray and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce, if desired.

This dessert can be made ahead of time, but it is best not to keep it longer than a day.

Today's homemaker cooks less than formerly, now that three of their five children are grown. But she says she still loves it more than anything else she could name. Their eldest daughter, Marian, is a medical secretary at a Minneapolis hospital; Eddie attends the school of engineering at the U of M; and Clare (Mrs. Erling Thompson) will soon be moving with her family to South Dakota. She is the mother of the Lietzow's only grandchild, a small son, James, 2½ years old. Lorraine, who was a Girl State'r is to graduate from Lincoln high school next week, and Ronnie, a Boys State'r, is in the junior class.

Mom raises a big vegetable garden even now, and does a great deal of canning, pickling, and jelly-making each summer. She raises flowers, mostly of the indoor variety, and reading and TV also account for some of the time made of her spare time. They live on a farm 12 miles west of town, and they grow grain, hogs, and some beef cattle.

Their summer fun is picnicking whenever possible; the children never fail to plan picnics on the slightest provocation, and this is something they especially look forward to when they are home together. The head of the household is partial to fishing, and Ronnie feels the same way about that particular sport.

They are members of Zion Lutheran church and Mrs. Lietzow is in a church circle. The Numedal Homemakers club is another of her activities, one from which she derives both pleasure and instruction.

Miss Carol Rolland of Grand Forks, N. D., spent the weekend at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Rolland of this city.

PUBLIC OPINION

To the Editor:

I would like to take this means in defense of some of the statements made by Elvon Hamilton in his Public Opinion letter in last Wednesday's Times.

As you know, the results of the election were very strong in favor of building the proposed addition. The board is of the opinion that the citizens of the school district voted this way because they were convinced that the school is in need of the additional facilities.

In this day and age you either go forward or backward, whether it be on a farm, in a business, or in a school. Occasionally a new piece of equipment has to be added and that is actually what we are doing in adding to our facilities. I feel that the children of the Goodridge area are not second rate children and that they are as entitled to good facilities as the children of any other district. I feel that it is our duty as parents to provide these facilities.

I am very sorry that Mr. Hamilton feels that he went to the polls uninformed. I don't think that more than one information meeting should be necessary after all the publicity and discussion which had taken place.

It does not seem right to me to hear this opposition to the progress of the Goodridge school while at the same time many who are doing this opposing have their names on a petition asking that their property be set out of the Goodridge school district. I wonder if these people who signed this petition were informed that in the event that they were set out of the district they would still be liable for their share of the bonded debt of the district they were leaving.

As to the minutes of the board meetings, these have not been published as an economy measure. They are, however, public property, and are available to anyone who wants to take the trouble to go to the superintendent's office to look at them.

Mr. Hamilton criticised the school board for the emergency aid that we received some years ago. This was received out of the goodness of the hearts of the state board of education. This was used to equip the home economics room and to brick up the windows in the old building. I don't think that the board should be criticised but rather commended for getting some of these state funds.

I sincerely hope that there will be a good turn out for Tuesday's election.

Sincerely,
Ernest L. Swanson

Dear Editor:

I was happy to read an ad of two of my neighbors who have filed for the election to the Goodridge School board May 19. These men have expressed opposition to the building program until it can be ascertained what steps Grygla will take. I would think that this would be the program that every taxpayer would be interested in. I do not know the voting record of the two whose terms are expiring, but in general I think the Goodridge board has too many members whose taxes aren't effected a great deal by this building program. Dr. Brown used a real sharp pencil, outlining for the district voters as well as the readers of the Times the mill rate this proposed building would take. When the probability that Grygla builds their own school becomes a reality, I would estimate Dr. Brown's figures would hardly cover a third of all extra expenses if we would use these added facilities fully with the decreased revenue and students from Grygla.

If I were to bury my predilections in this matter I would have to admit that Goodridge is no longer the center of education for these parts. Since Goodridge residents must bond themselves to the limit of their ability to provide education for the Grygla pupils and since Grygla can provide education for their own for their bonding limit, why not let them do so. At least I think we could be neighborly and wait to see what their wishes are. As I stated, we no longer are in a center to provide education for all the area. After Thief River Falls lopped off an area to the west, they are only four and one-half miles from the edge of our district. Give Thief River Falls' busses another five or ten minutes' drive and they will clean up the rest of Goodridge. However, the way I feel about it, we don't need to worry about what is left of us. We have such a capable Department of Education at St. Paul, that they probably have already run us through some kind of electronic computer and had us come out on a punch card of some sort.

May I urge all Goodridge voting members, who want to take a wait and see attitude, to turn up at the polls.

Ed Koglin

P. S.

I wonder if taxpayers of the Goodridge area are aware that the Minnesota Department of Education has recommended that plans for building be held in abeyance until the proposed reorganization of Grygla-Gatzke and part of Skime has been voted upon. They also stated that since the above area is in a state of flux it is hard to tell if the people of that area will approve such a merger. This proposal is to be acted upon in the near future.

In the event that the proposed reorganization should be approved by the voters, then the Goodridge district would lose about 100 secondary pupils from the Grygla territory. This is one factor that should be considered before any building is undertaken at Goodridge.

For the school year 1962-63 there were 255 pupils enrolled in the Goodridge high school. If a high school is established at Grygla it would reduce the enrollment at Goodridge to between 150-160 pupils. The State Department further advised that a secondary school could be maintained under these conditions but the per pupil costs would be much higher than at the present time.

BISHOP Mangal Singh, resident Bishop of the Bombay, India area, will be visiting among twenty-two Methodist churches of the Minnesota conference from May 21 to June 9. This visitation will preceed his attendance at the Minnesota annual conference, June 9-14, at Hamline university in St. Paul. He will visit Community Methodist church at noon on Sunday, May 24.

Dear Editor:

Will you kindly give me enough space to answer a recent letter in your Public Opinion column by Mr. Elvon Hamilton of Moylan township, Marshall county, in which he expresses great concern over the impending taxes that will result from the bond issue approved by the voters of the district for school construction.

Now just how much of an impact will this have on a farmer? I will try to use very conservative figures in making my point. I will take a quarter of land in central Moylan township without buildings, all under cultivation and non-homestead with a taxable valuation of $522.00 (see note below). The taxes last year including ditch taxes, $175.60 or $1.10 per acre. Assume now the land seeded to oats, seed 3 bushels at 65 cents makes $1.95; 60 pounds of fertilizer at $4 a total of $7.05. Now estimate the cost of plowing, cultivating, harrowing, seeding, swathing, spraying and combining, another $7.05. This makes a total per acre expense of $14.10. The estimated yield is 50 bushels with a value of 50 cents per bushel which gives a gross income of $25 per acre or a net income of $10.90 before school construction. The estimated cost of construction is 32 mills. 32 mills times $522 valuation divided by 160 acres is 10 cents per acre or one-fifth bushel of oats.

Now some people say that 32 mills is not a realistic figure and that Dr. Brown, in spite of his Doctor's degree in education, cannot figure correctly, so let us agree with them and assume that he can't figure. (Politically I know he can't figure). Even so he must be half right and if you double the estimate you will have only two-fifths of a bushel or 20 cents per acre.

You write about uninformed and misinformed people. It may seem strange to you but I have lived here a long time and find these people highly intelligent and well informed and I sincerely believe they know what they were voting for.

I know also, Mr. Hamilton, that you signed a petition in which you requested that your land be transferred from the Goodridge district to the Grygla district in the event they secure a high school. I have no quarrel with the people of Grygla in their desire to improve their school facilities, that is their business not mine, and you of course have every right to sign any petition you desire.

However, by this act you demonstrate to everyone that you align your interest with the school and community interest of Grygla. You should therefore, in good conscience, forego attempting to speak for the practical and progressive interest of the Goodridge community.

Any candidate for the Goodridge school board that you sponsor that has signed this petition automatically takes the position that he merits election on the premise that he will obstruct the plans and defy the wishes of the majority of the people of the Goodridge school district who in effect authorized construction by voting for the bond issue by an overwhelming majority. In your letter you write about democracy. Is this your kind of democracy?

If one-fifth or two-fifths bushel of oats per acre or its equivalent in other crops or products will mean the difference between solvency and bankruptcy on the farm, then I must frankly admit my complete bewilderment or lack of intelligence.

Your truly,
Roy W. Anderson.

(Note: Assessor's formula for tax comutation on non-homestead farm land: $522.00 (Assessed valuation times 3 equals $1,566; Assessed full and true value times 3 equals $4,698.00 (estimated market value).

Dear Editor:

It would be nice if people would be more in favor of education, such as building churches, schools, and hospitals rather than to discourage improvements. We need to educate our people not only in teaching or other professions but also to educate our people to honesty, care for property, clothes, food and to pay bills. This is harder to do in a crowded school. I have several houses rented out and two had hoped to have this as an income on my old age, but, as it is, the up-keep is so great two go in the hole every year. This would not be so if people had learned respect and how to take care of other people's property, public property and ones' own property. Taxes go for some improvements somewhere and I would gladly pay taxes rather than repairing property that should have been taken care of.

Mr. E. F. Haugen

Dear Editor:

Bob Vielguth's well written alert (Times, May 11, "Public Opinion") impresses me deeply.

As a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, I state unhesitatingly: the timely warning ought to be sounded in many pulpits today!

I, too, wish hereby to express sincere appreciation of pertinent observations and warnings in this paper's editorials. I've read not a few of these comments with much interest and profit. Having pondered the valued contribution by younger Vielguth, Anoka, I'm moved to send this expression of MANY THANKS.

Sincerely, in God's Grace,
Leonard W. Lindholm

Hanestad Scatters 4 Hits in Shutout

Prowlers Blank Red Lake Falls In 6-0 Victory

Warren Hanestad, a senior right-hander in his first season on the Prowler varsity squad, spun a four-hit game on Wednesday night to register a 6 to 0 shutout of the Red Lake Falls Eagles in a night game played on the Fairgrounds diamond.

The Prowlers will conclude their pre-tournament schedule this week, meeting the Ada Vikings in a night-game on the Fairgrounds diamond tonight, with game time at 8 p.m. On Tuesday night, May 19, the up-and-coming Warren Ponies will be here for a game against the Prowlers on the Fairgrounds diamond, game time at 8 p.m. Coach Jim Oftedahl's Warren club, getting fine pitching from southpaws Paul Knutson and Peter Gilbert, has run up a winning streak of eight games in district conference play, and will be rated highly in next week's District 3 tournament at Red Lake Falls.

The Prowlers, after picking up an unearned run in the third inning of their game against Red Lake Falls here on Wednesday night, erupted for three runs in the fourth inning. Dave Ellingson opened the fifth with a single to right field; Karl Poppenhagen sliced a double down the left-field foulline, with Ellingson sprinting around the bases to score. Hanestad struck out, and Buzz Olson also whiffed, with the catcher dropping the third strike and being forced to make the throw to first base. Dave Erickson singled to left field, scoring Poppenhagen. Wayne Smith boomed a double to the fence in right-center, scoring Erickson, and giving the Prowlers a 4 to 0 lead.

The Prowlers added a pair of runs in the sixth inning, taking advantage of a pair of walks, a couple of Eagles' errors, and a wild pitch.

Meanwhile Hanestad was hurling a steady game for the Prowlers. It was not until the fourth inning that the Eagles were able to garner a base hit off the Prowler redhead, and that came on Bernard Demarais lead-off single. Jim Gagner, attempting to sacrifice, popped to Hanestad, and the pitcher's throw to first base doubled Demarais.

During the seven-inning game, Hanestad collected nine strikeouts and did not issue a base on balls.

The Softball League Opener

At about 6:30 this evening, on the East Side diamond, the city softball league will play its season-opener. And given the honor of starting the 1964 schedule will be the V. F. W. team and the newly-organized Thorp Loan team.

The Vets will rely on the twirling of Wally Grovum; and given good support, which he usually gets, Wally can be tough enough. He has a delivery that puts impetus on "spinning" the ball, and although the pitch comes up to the plate as "big as a balloon" it is difficult to get good wood on the ball. The result is usually a fly ball.

But much of the interest in this evening's (Monday) opener will be centered on the pitcher for the Thorp Loan squad. Wiley Bogle, a Soo Line fireman, a native of Glenwood but who has pitched softball in St. Paul for a number of seasons, has been very impressive in early season practice sessions. He has an abundance of stuff and if the Thorps can get him some runs to work on, well, the Vets will have some problems.

The Vets claim to have strengthened their lineup considerably by the return to action of Roy Pederson. Roy is a capable glove man, but whether or not he can hit Bogle is something else again. As a hitter, Roy carries a splendid recommendation for the Warroad Muskies' Bob Evenson!

The city softball league will be a six-team circuit, and the other teams in the loop are the Bridgeman's (and pitcher Bob Carlson is just about ready to celebrate his silver anniversary as a softball pitcher), Hartz Stores, Hamm's Beer, and Rasmussen Insurance.

The Hartz, perhaps, are the best-balanced squad in the league, and they have a pair of capable pitchers in Kermit Malberg and Dwight Tangquist.

Baseball's Final Week

Coach Ralph Skay's 1964 Prowler baseball squad will be concluding its pre-tournament schedule this week, and making its final appearance on the local field. The District 31 tournament (and the Prowlers are the defending champions) will be played at Red Lake Falls, starting on May 23rd.

The Prowlers will play the Ada Vikings of District 30 on the Fairgrounds diamond here tonight, Monday, with game time at 8:00 p. m.; and on Tuesday night the Warren Ponies will come over here for a game against the Prowlers.

The Tuesday night game could develop into a fine one and the two teams, the Prowlers and the Ponies, are rated as district tournament favorites. The Prowlers, though, have been forced to reshuffle their lineup considerably the past week, having such players as Don Mathieu, Rick Jensen, and Tommy Cummings sidelined by various ailments. Mathieu is receiving treatment for an infection in a "strawberry" burn in his leg; Jensen came up with a "crick" in his back, and which is stubbornly resisting treatment; and Cummings is plagued by elbow trouble in his throwing arm. These injuries do not appear too serious, and the boys may be available for the games this week.

Why not drive out to the Fairgrounds on Monday and Tuesday and watch the Prowlers. And, too, its the final home appearance of such Prowler athlests as Jack Leedahl, Dave Erickson, Rick Jensen, Don Mathieu, John Hellquist, Dave Ellingson, Warren Hanestad, and Howard Dalager.

Just About Ideal

As far as the pike fishing season-opener this past week-end was concerned, there were not complaints from the anglers, weatherwise, that is. The weather was ideal and for many of the fishermen the walleyes were in a cooperative mood.

From the reports that have been received, it appears that the Lake of the Woods, in the vicinity of Wheeler's Point and Morris Point, was the area's "hot spot". Limit catches, in a couple of hours of fishing, were the rule on Saturday and Sunday.

Waskish, which as usual attracted its hosts of fishermen (and there must have been two or three thousand anglers concentrated there) did not prove to be the producer of pike as in former years. And one reason for this falling off in fishing luck was the lack of walleyes in the Tamarac river. The Waskish fishermen had to venture out on Red Lake, and they had to find the "holes" where the walleyes were feeding. When these spots were found, the anglers filled their limits.

Springsteel Island, which is a mecca for fishermen, gave evidence that the walleye run is not yet on and it will be a week or two before the pike move into those waters. There were a number of limit catches made off Buffalo Point, and these pike ran to a larger size than those taken at Morris and Wheeler's Points. Just as a guess, Springsteel Island should be just about right on Memorial Day.

Have to report that the Camp Friendly boys—Maynard Troland, Jack Junker, Bob Gaarder, Bill Herzog, and the others—had wonderful luck fishing out of the Riverview Camp on the Rainy river. And so did the Elks Club party of Lloyd Brunsberg-Bob Craik-Nick Carlson-Cotton Langevin-Stan Cockrell. And in this group, it was agreed that Jimmy Anderson proved to be the best fisherman. Phil LeGault, the old Thieves' manager and southpaw pitcher, made the trip up here from Gladstone, Michigan, and except for a "road block" that he ran into at Hurley, Wisconsin, he and his two companions had an uneventful trip. And they left here on Sunday afternoon loaded down with limit catches of Lake of the Woods walleyes.

Trunk Highway Projects at Detroit Lakes
(Detroit Lakes Tribune)

Two public hearings are set for this week on over $2.5 million in highway improvements for Highway 59 and 10 near Detroit Lakes.

The Highway 10 project, carrying a $1,011,000 price tag, will be from a western terminal five miles southeast of Detroit Lakes to a point one mile south of the Becker-Otter-Tail County line.

The project will bypass the town of Frazee. The new fourlane road will run south of Town Lake.

Estimated cost of the construction work on the 6.3 miles of highway is $400,000. Presently it is anticipated that the contract work will be let in the spring of 1967.

It is anticipated that the surfacing work will be let in 1968, at an estimated cost of $611,000.

The highway 59 state plans call for a 17.8 mile project that would run from 3.5 miles north of the south Becker county line to Pelican Rapids.

The work proposed on trunk 59 involves a complete reconstruction of the road to a new alignment and grade. As much of the old right of way is being used as can be salvaged to construct this modern highway. The new road will provide for legal load limits throughout the year.

Roseau county farmers were in the fields this week with a will! Some got into higher spots on Monday (a few had attempted some planting the week before but rains drove them in again) and by Tuesday farm work was quite general.

Soil conditions are good with ample moisture. A long fall permitted a lot of fall work on fields in preparation for spring and farmers are now taking advantage of every minute.

Choosing Career Should Require Careful Thought

Average Worker Devotes 100,000 Hours To Work; Selection Is Important

Ask "What is the right career for me?", and there will be some 650 possible answers. This is the number of jobs listed by the "U. S. Occupational Dictionary."

An average American girl or boy can expect to put over 100,000 hours of work or 40 years of his or her life into a chosen occupation. This is a long time, especially if it is on the wrong job, reminds Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent. Teens cannot afford to make a mistake, for future happiness and prosperity will largely depend on the step-by-step decisions made in the next weeks, months or years.

Study of two or three careers is not enough, Miss Offerdahl said. Many young people take the first job offered without thinking about much more than their first paycheck. In fact, some teens give more time and thought to selecting clothes that will last only six months than in choosing a job that may last a lifetime.

More than 36 million Americans are not happy with the jobs they hold. They regret now that they did not look further before taking their first job. Futures should be charted rather than left to chance. The more career possibilities investigated, the better prepared an individual will be to make a wise choice, Miss Offerdahl added.

Tenagers should look for a career that fits their other goals in life. To a great degree, it will determine where they will be living, who their frinds will be and how much money they will be making.

Vocational counselors and informed people in various fields can explain each of these aspects.

U. S. Grant Will Enable State to Expand Service

Two one-year grants totaling $42,110 from the U. S. Public Health service will enable the Minnesota Department of Health to improve and expand health service programs for migrants.

A $35,555 grant will make it possible for the department to employ several public health nurses to devote full time to migrant workers and their families. The second grant for $6,555 is to carry forward a greatly expanded sanitary survey program of migrant housing launched last year with a similar USPHS grant.

In past years, the influx of migrants into Minnesota during the peak crop season has placed a heavy burden on local public health nursing services. In some of these areas the ratio of public health nurse to population is less than the state average, which is one public health nurse per 16,000 population. In certain other migrant areas there are no existing public health nursing services.

New Stretch Fabrics Gain in Popularity

Blouses and shirts that don't pull out of skirts and slacks, bathing suits and foundation garments that give figure control but are not harmed by body oils, men's suits that hold their shape and are comfortable — these are some of the garments you can look for in increasing number.

The garments with these special properties are made of snap-back yarns which are being used in more and more apparel in which stretch and elasticity are employed to achieve comfort, fit and support, according to Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent.

A spandex yarn owes its stretch to its chemical structure rather than to a curl and crimp. It is similar to a rubber thread in this respect. Like rubber, the fiber is elastic and returns to its orginal shape. Most yarns are stronger and more durable than rubber thread and are more resistant to most chemicals and to laundering conditions.

Appearing in the stores now are slips with straps and bodice of spandex yarns to assure better fit. Other garments you can look for are women's blouses and sport shirts with lengthwise stretch to prevent them from pulling out of skirts or slacks, men's suits and men's and women's shorts with crosswise stretch. Foundation garments, swimwear, football pants and surgical and support stockings of these yarns have been available for some time.

Among the desirable properties of these fibers are:

They are stronger and lighter weight than rubber, although rubber has better elastic recovery; they are not affected by perspiration or damaged by body or cosmetic oils; they may be washed in automatic washers and tumble dried; and since they are white, they can be dyed.

Editorials . . .

"If we wish to be just judges of all things, let us first persuade ourselves of this: that there is not one of us without fault; no man is found who can acquit himself; and he who calls himself innocent does so with reference to a witness, and not to his conscience."
—Seneca

We View With Pride

Residents of Thief River Falls may well take pride in the rehabilitation unit which has been added to Northwestern hospital in this city. They will have even more pride in the facility after visiting it this weekend during open house hours on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Included in the new addition, which will bring total capacity of the hospital up to 150 beds, will be a number of services which are not to be found in Minnesota north of the Twin Cities. Several of these services and new pieces of equipment are explained in a special four-page section appearing in Wednesday's Times.

A building permit for the addition was issued a year ago when building permits set a record high for the city. Other major building authorized by the city council at that time were the new junior high school and elementary school and the J.C. Penney company building. Each of these was of major importance to Thief River Falls.

It is interesting to note that the open house for the new hospital addition comes in the week following National Hospital Week. The national week is designed to develop greater public understanding of hospitals and their activities.

As the American Hospital association notes, the need for understanding is obvious. The well being of the hospital and community are inseparable. The hospital could not maintain or continue to improve its health services without community support. Without a hospital, a community would suffer serious handicaps in health care.

Northwestern hospital is a community venture. Expansion of its services is a right step toward providing the community with the most modern, up-to-date hospital possible. Thief River Falls has taken the lead in this area in becoming a medical center. We expect that the new addition will be a forerunner of more things to come. Congratulations are extended to the hospital board of trustees for the new addition.

An Elementary Lesson

"This is Jack. See Jack run. Run, Jack, run. See the ball. Jack sees the ball. Take the ball, Jack. Run, run, run." If a person were to substitute the name Whitney for the name Jack in the above, he would have a lesson in elementary politics. Wheelock Whitney, candidate for the U. S. Senate GOP endorsement, is taking the "run" advice in its most literal sense.

Whitney, who has assigned himself the monumental task of unseating incumbent Sen. Eugene McCarthy, stopped briefly in Thief River Falls last week. He has promised the Republican party that he will campaign 16 hours per day, and his schedule of 18 to 20 community stops per day seems to indicate that he will be doing just that.

Some indication of the fruits of his labor may be gleaned from the fact that he received the endorsement of 63 county Republican conventions. He was able to do this by going out on a county and community level, actively seeking the endorsement and showing a dynamic vigor which can't help but attract attention. He will use the same approach in shooting at the Senate in the general election.

Whitney said last week that he plans to visit at least 90 per cent of the communities in Minnesota. He recognizes that it is virtually impossible to visit them all (just look at a current road map), but he also realizes that it is important for him to meet people on a local level. He knows that a television picture tube image is a very impersonal thing — and meeting people is elementary in politics.

We like to see any political candidate seek an office with enthusiasm. Whitney has shown this enthusiasm and added campaign knowledge to it. No matter what the outcome in November, Whitney himself and the GOP can feel satisfied that they will have "run a good race". And Sen. McCarthy, who is now ending his first six-year term in the Senate, will know he has had competition.

If You're Average . . .

If you are an average Minnesotan, you will spend from now until June 29 working to pay taxes for state, school and local governments. On a yearly basis this amounts to 11 cents of each dollar earned, and is exclusive of the generous bite taken out of pay checks by the federal government.

Figures given are based on U. S. Census Bureau compilations of the relation between personal earnings and government cost at these levels for 1962. They meant that in that year, every person working for a living devoted an average of five weeks and four days paying for local and state government spending. Government spending increases during 1963 were expected to add another day's work to the tax load.

These are averages, however, and averages can be deceiving. More than one person has gone into water over his head in a stream which only averaged a foot deep.

But it is interesting to note that Minnesota was the fourth highest state in the country in tax demands on its producing citizens, beating all the major free-spending states. New York took an average of 10.55 cents out of its citizens' dollars; California took 10.48 cents, Michigan took 9.79 cents and Illinois took 8.6 cents.

Minnesota's rate was higher than all its neighboring states of North and South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin. On a per capita basis, state, school and local government costs in Minnesota amounted to $251 or eighth highest in the nation.

Granting that these costs are high, we none-the-less maintain that we object less to state and local tax expenditures than to federal spending. There is more opportunity on the state and local basis to get dollar value return for tax funds spent.

Who Said That?

The following item was taken from "Minnesota News Features", published by Orlin Folwick. Quotations printed represent the one-time views of well-known figures in national politics.

I'd rather be right than President—Henry Clay.

If nominated I will not accept; if elected, I will not serve — Gen. William T. Sherman.

The President is the last person in the world to know what the people really want and think — James A. Garfield.

I am convinced that the office of President is not such a difficult one to fill, his duties being mainly to execute the laws of Congress — Adm. George Dewey.

There are only two occasions when Americans respect privacy, especially in Presidents. These are prayer and fishing — Herbert Hoover.

No man will ever bring out of the Presidency the reputation which carries him into it. — Thomas Jefferson.

Seriously, I do not think I am fit for the Presidency — Abraham Lincoln.

I am a military man, not a statesman. I would just like to be mayor of Galena long enough to build a sidewalk from my house to the station — U. S. Grant.

I am a man of Congress. I don't think I have the disposition, the training or temperament for the Presidency — Lyndon B. Johnson.

I have grave doubts about my intelligence and abilities to fill the job. On the other hand, when—with the exception of Thomas Jefferson and possibly Lincoln — have we ever had the best possible man for the job—Barry M. Goldwater.

Six Mistakes of Man

It was 2,000 years ago when Cicero, Roman philosopher and statesman, listed the "six mistakes of man." Even on our complex society of today, the six mistakes are still true. They are as follows:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we cannot be changed or corrected.
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind, and acquiring the habit of reading and study.
6. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do.

Aint' It The Truth

"Do as I say, not as I do" is the advice often given in essence by parents to their children. As Americans we have been guilty of the same reasoning when dealing with other nations in the world, and it has made American statesmanship as difficult as walking a slack wire on snowshoes.

Imagine being a foreign diplomat and telling a foreign country something like this: "Your country and our country have to stick together if the free world is going to have a chance for survival. We have to isolate the iron curtain countries and their allies. If we trade with them we will only be helping their plans to destroy us.

"Just a few years ago we liberated an island off the coast of one of our southern states. Well, things didn't go so well there and we've been having a few little problems lately. If you want to stay on friendly terms with us, we'll sure appreciate it if you don't trade any more machinery and vehicles and industrial goods with them. You can't really trust them any more.

"By the way, if anyone mentions anything to you about a few million bushels of wheat that Russia got lately, I'd like to talk to you about it. You see. . ."

Aside from the fact that only 38 per cent of the wheat sold is being shipped on American vessels, and other injustices to our nation's economy, the wheat deal with the Soviet Union has hurt United States prestige in the free world. Thomas W. Gleason, president of the Maritime Union, summed up his opinion of the situation by saying, "I wish someone was working as hard for American unions as they are for the Soviet Union." And he has a point that we can hardly ignore.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

NORTHWESTERN BELL

MAIN STREET, U.S.A.

BY BERT MILLS
Washington Editor of "National Publisher"

President Lyndon B. Johnson is paying less and less attention to his personal security, and more and more people are becoming alarmed about it.

The President himself denies he is taking unnecessary risks and has announced his intention of continuing to mingle with crowds of strangers. He claims he tries "to exercise reasonable precautions."

Former President Harry S. Truman, who once escaped an assassin's bullets himself, has stated that he is "very much concerned" about Johnson's disregard of his personal safety. "I think he is taking too many chances," Truman added.

Newspapermen assigned to the White House agree with Truman. Some reports of Johnson's recent Appalachia trip concentrated on the numerous security violations which caused Truman to remark, "I'll bet the Secret Service men had a fit."

For the first time since John F. Kennedy was killed while riding in an open car, President Johnson rode in a top-down convertible in Pittsburgh and elsewhere last month. When asked about it at a press conference, Johnson said he plans to do it again upon occasion.

He said: "I see no difference in sitting in a seat in an open car or standing on an open platform." There is a difference to the Secret Service, which has a chance to check platforms which the President will occupy but cannot possibly investigate every vantage point on a lengthy motorcade route.

Speeding Incidents Recalled

On his Easter trip to Texas, President Johnson drove his own car at speeds well beyond the 70-mile-an-hour limit, without even a Secret Service man in the car. Those entrusted with guarding the President could not keep up with him in following cars.

When a railroad strike was averted by White House intervention, the President was anxious to announce the settlement over television. He was unwilling to wait for technical arrangements to be made for him to broadcast from the White House.

So Johnson decided, with almost no advance warning, to rush to a Washington broadcasting studio. It was a six-mile trip, made in nine minutes through rush hour traffic at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.

This was the sort of seemingly unnecessary headlong dash that makes Secret Service men old before their time. But when the President orders a fast rip without safety precautions, he gets his wish. Thus far there have been no mishaps.

Probably the closest call involving the first family was not in an automobile. Mrs. Johnson was a passenger on a plane struck by lightning in midair. No damage resulted but the President's wife was so frightened she cancelled her return flight from Cleveland to Washington, traveling by auto instead. It was a nine-hour drive which ended at 2:30 a. m.

Lesson of Dallas Forgotten

After the assassination in Dallas last November, measures to protect the President were strengthened. Even the White House car used for parades was sent back to the factory for bullet-proofing. LBJ ruled but all foreign trips and forbade more than two members of his Cabinet to fly in the same plane.

The Secret Service does not talk about its precautionary measures but it is known that extra steps have been taken to protect Johnson. On a Florida trip there were rumors of a possible threat on the President's life and his schedule was re-arranged quickly.

Thus far, the President's trips have been mostly non-political, theoretically at least. Until nominated in August, Johnson can maintain the fiction that his travels are as the nation's leader and not as a candidate. However, Johnson made it clear on his Appalachia trip that he is already acting the candidate role.

He made impromptu stops, allowed himself to be surrounded by well-wishers, and was separated from his security men on numerous occasions. Reporters on the tour regarded the whole performance as taking unnecessary risks.

Ironically, the Presidential car was equipped with a "blowhorn", an electric powered megaphone. The idea was to allow the President to make impromptu speeches to crowds at the curb, without leaving his car.

On two occasions, Johnson used shake hands proved too strong and soon the President gave up broadcasting in favor of mingling. He has served notice he plans to continue to do just that.

It looks like a hard summer for the Secret Service.

At least $6 billion in federal tax dollars will be at stake soon when the House takes up an urban mass transit bill which the Kennedy and Johnson administrations have been trying to get passed for more than two years.

The key issue is the old quarrel of urban versus rural areas. Major cities have tremendous transportation problems and want Uncle Sam to adopt a new subsidy program to help develop mass transit systems. Congressmen from non-metropolitan areas bitterly oppose using their constituents' taxes for this purpose.

The Senate passed the Urban Transportation Act on April 4, 1963, by a close vote of 52-41. Five days later the House banking and currency committee reported its companion bill. In the 13 months since then, the House bill has been stalled in the House rules committee.

The bill has been held up by House leaders for fear it would be defeated. Speaker John McCormack D., Mass.) said months ago that he was delaying the measure in hopes of attracting sufficient Republican votes to insure passage.

Of course, if House Democrats were solidly in favor or urban mass transit legislation, no G. O. P. help would be needed. There are about twice as many Democrats as Republicans in the House and the majority could roll over supported the White House position.

But many House Democrats are from the rural areas of the South and are just as opposed to a new spending program for the exclusive benefit of major cities as their Republican colleagues. So the outcome is in doubt and tremendous pressures are being exerted on both sides of the issue.

Starting Cost is Low

Supporters of the transit bill deny that billions of federal dollars will be required. The initial price tag on the bill awaiting House action is only $500 million, a relatively modest sum. Opponents contend the ultimate cost would be $10-$15 billion. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce, which opposes the program, assesses the eventual cost at $6-$10 billion.

Subsidy programs have a way of starting small and growing more expensive with each passing year. Also, transportation is an expensive business. New York City in 1961 had an investment of $2.37 billion in its municipally-owned mass transit system. Washington's own proposed plan bears a price tag of $793 million.

The pending legislation "provides for a program of federal loans and partial grants to assist states and localities in financing the capital facilities and equipment needed for the extension and improvement of comprehensively planned urban mass transportation systems." The bill passed by the Senate includes a $375 million bond guarantee program, with the U. S. backing up to 75 per cent of revenue bonds issued to finance transit development.

The House version omits the bond guarantee feature and raises the ante to half a billion dollars in subsidies, over a four-year period. Big cities with unsolved commuter problems are itching to get their hands on these funds.

A relatively new group has been formed to lobby for the legislation. It is called the Urban Passenger Transportation association. Among its leading members are two transit trade groups, the American Municipal association and the mayors of some big cities.

Local Solutions Urged

Opponents of the legislation charge that big city traffic jams are not a federal responsibility. The chairman of a Senate subcommittee on intergovernmental relations, Senator Edmund Muskie (D., Me.), polled 460 state and local officials, asking whether they thought the U. S. should intervene in mass transit.

Only 118 of these officials said "yes." Senator Muskie, originally a co-sponsor of the Senate transit bill, withdrew his name from the bill.

To the charge that cities cannot solve their own transit problems with state help, San Francisco supplies an answer. A billion dollar system is being developed, including an underwater rail tube. A bond issue approved by the voters, surplus bridge tolls and future revenue from fares will supply the funds.

The minority report by the dissenting Republicans called this San Francisco case "a most illuminating demonstration of the fact that when residents of an area become convinced they have a transit problem that needs to be solved, they can and will proceed to solve that local problem n a local basis."

As a psychiatric aide, in the Cambridge State school and hospital, I met and spoke to retarded people—from your area and only God knows how much they need help.

EMOTIONAL EFFECTS OF ADOPTION

Q. We plan to adopt a 6-month-old baby who has been temporarily cared for by another couple. Would a child this age be upset by a change of "parents"?

A. Most authorities are of the opinion that an adopted child does not necessarily undergo emotional disturbance through a change of parents at a very early age. There is probably very little risk up to 6 months of age, provided, of course, the change is a satisfactory one. The very young child seems prepared to accept anyone as a mother figure who will provide adequately for its needs and will give it the loving care required for healthy mental and physical development. From about 6 months upward, however, by which time the child has begun to identify the mother figure, there may be an ever-increasing risk of difficulty in acceptance of a replacement parent.

The personal interest we take in the health of those we serve is of equal importance with the professional skill we put in the dispensing of prescribed medicine.

Your Minnesota Hostess

Hi! It's time for another Summer of happy visits to public gatherings. Just before you read this I'll be demonstrating beer cookery to Mr. and Mrs. Jaycee's at Brooklyn Center. Then there'll be visits to Winona, Menahga, Eagle Lake, Taylors Falls and many other Minnesota communities. Won't you come up and say hello, if I'm on the program at your favorite festival?

Beer Mugs In Israel . . . 3000 Years Old

Archeologists excavating 11 miles south of Beersheba, early in 1964, uncovered several beer mugs "with strainers over the mouth" believed to be approximately 3000 years old! It's nice to know our modern beer no longer needs straining . . . and fascinating to note King Saul's soldiers refreshed themselves with our favorite beverage, when warring against the Amalekites in the Judean desert in Biblical times.

Swiss Beer Steak
2 lbs. round or rump steak, 1½" thick
3 tbsp. flour
1 tsp. (and ½ tsp. more) salt
3 tbsp. vegetable oil
one bottle beer (12 oz.)
4 chopped carrots
2 chopped onions
2 cups canned tomatoes

Combine flour and salt; rub into meat. Pound with saucer rim. Turn meat and repeat, using all flour. Saute in oil in deep skillet, browning well. Remove meat; saute carrots and onions in same pan. Return meat. Add beer, tomatoes and ½ tsp. salt, plus a pinch of basil. Cook tightly. Cook slowly 2½ hours, till fork-tender.

IT'S A FACT! LAST YEAR I MADE 41 APPEARANCES AT 35 COMMUNITY CELEBRATIONS... JUDGING TALENT CONTESTS, SERVING AS MISTRESS OF CEREMONIES AT CORONATIONS, DEMONSTRATING BEER RECIPES AND LEADING GROUP SINGS. EACH VISIT IS A GIFT TO THE COMMUNITY FROM MINNESOTA BREWERS. THIS SUMMER I HOPE TO MEET YOU IN MY TRAVELS!

THE DAY DISASTER STRUCK FAIRMOUNT, NORTH DAKOTA

TUESDAY, MAY 5

5:20 P.M.— Low-hanging gray clouds scud ominously across the skies over Fairmount. Rain runs in wind-swept waves across the streets and lashes at walls and windows.

5:24 P.M.— The wind has increased to gale-like proportions. Branches snap and trees are uprooted before its awesome fury. Suddenly the wind increases to tornadic velocity, creating a fantastic path of utter devastation. Townspeople, huddled in basements against the onslaught, can only pray that the storm will pass.

5:30 P.M.— The comparative silence left in the wake of the passing storm lends an eerie quiet to the town. People emerge cautiously from their shelters, a fearful eye on the sky. Miraculously, no one is killed. But the damage to homes, business places —in fact, everything above the ground, is frightful.

5:34 P.M.— Otter Tail representatives begin operating switches to localize the trouble on the company's lines, resulting from the heavy storm damage at Fairmount.

6:15 P.M.— The vanguard of the more than 80 Otter Tail specialists who will work unceasingly to restore electrical service to Fairmount arrive. They quickly estimate damage from the standpoint of restoring electrical service and dispatch the reports that will bring more Otter Tail crews, materials and equipment pouring into the area. Their first objective: emergency power to restore water pressure and service in case of fire and for public health. One mobile sub-station and three mobile generators are rushed to Fairmount.

Through Otter Tail's shortwave radio network, 30 winch trucks, digger trucks and material trucks with a total of a half million dollars in equipment are ordered to the town.

11:45 P.M.— Service has been restored to about one-third of Fairmount. Strategic facilities are receiving power for operation of critical services.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 6

9:00 A.M.— Electrical service has been restored to about two-thirds of Fairmount and total service restored to all of Fairmount, with minor exceptions, by Wednesday evening. Otter Tail crews have worked a total of more than 2,000 man-hours with little sleep — but the crisis is past.

For more than a half-century, Otter Tail has built its reputation as a good neighbor, a willing servant — on service. In Fairmount, as on other occasions in the past, we hope we've proved that the reputation has been earned by achievement — and will continue to be so deserved in the years to come.

Expanded Recreation Program Is Announced

New Recreation Director Begins Work This Week

Expanded recreation for the people of Thief River Falls is the purpose of an intensified program adopted by the city council and the park and recreation committee. James Foley has been employed on a full-time basis to direct the program and began his duties on Monday.

"We are planning a program to provide recreational opportunity on a wider latitude of ages and abilities than in the past," Foley told the Times Tuesday. "An intra-mural baseball program, for instance, will be arranged for boys of all ages and abilities so that everyone who wants to play will have the opportunity to do so."

Foley and the park and recreation committee are looking for volunteer helpers and leaders to assist with the recreation program. Persons interested in lending assistance are encouraged to contact Foley at his office in the city auditorium basement or calling 681-4816.

With the expanded program, older pre-school youngsters and senior citizens will be given recreational opportunity not available in the past. Boys' and girls' "Smallfry" activities will be announced soon for children aged 5 and 6 with activities including a story hour, handcrafts and organized games. Senior citizen activities will also be announced soon.

Legion Auxiliary Poppy Sale Set

Will Be Conducted in City Friday and Saturday

All services in connection with the observance of Poppy Day are performed without compensation by volunteers of the American Legion auxiliary who contribute many hours in preparation, sales and distribution locally of funds collected.

Incumbents Fare Well In Area School Votes

RECIPIENT of the $50 scholarship donated by the Business and Professional Women's club of Thief River Falls, is Miss JoAnn Kraemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kraemer of rural Thief River Falls.

The grant was established to assist a deserving senior to attend the area-vocational school in a field of her choice.

163 Votes in Local District Tuesday

Incumbents fared well in school board elections held throughout the area on Tuesday, although several contests had developed in the last couple weeks before the elections. Interest was generally average or above throughout the area, a major exception being the Thief River Falls district.

As compared to last year, when a heated contest resulted in 1,941 voters swarming to the polls, the Thief River Falls election had only 163 ballots cast Tuesday. Morris Owen and Robert Bredeson were reelected with 107 and 106 votes respectively. Both had filed for reelection. Dr. O. D. Beich and Curtis Charlson received 21 and 16 votes respectively as write-ins.

Goodridge had an exceptionally large turnout for a school board election with 308 ballots cast. Interest there centered around building or not building an addition authorized by approval of the voters in a recent bond election. Verner Arveson and Milford Hanson received 187 and 181 votes respectively to be reelected while Bennie Svanjord and Lynn Hanson polled 125 and 123 votes respectively in opposition to the incumbents. All had filed for election.

At Newfolden the 151 votes cast were considered a good number. Incumbents Wallace M. Johnson and Harvey Stolcke were reelected with 107 and 91 votes respectively while Arnold Larson and Marshall Myhrer, who had filed in opposition, received 54 and 43 votes respectively.

Gatzke also had an interesting race where incumbents Holgar Nilson and Delmar Hagen polled 118 and 116 votes respectively to win over Roger Kilen (83 votes) and Milan Abrahamson (82 votes) who had filed in opposition.

Plummer had a unique election where Robert Swanson, incumbent, was reelected with 77 votes, all coming on write-in ballots since he had not filed for reelection. Lloyd Arlt, who had filed, received 106 votes to replace Burton Carlson on the board. Mrs. Segrid Tillman, who had also filed, received 39 votes and Lawrence Granum received 14 write-in votes. A total of 125 votes was cast, slightly over the average for the district.

At Grygla incumbents Arnie Nelson and John Smeby were reelected with 42 and 40 votes respectively as 42 ballots were cast. Forty-seven votes were cast at Middle River with John Cwikla and Anneus Nelson reelected by receiving 45 votes each.

Fifty-seven votes were cast at Holt with Orville Larson and Orlin Ness polling 40 votes each and Ray Holmstrom receiving 26 votes. All were declared elected with one to fill the unexpired term of Earl Carlson who has accepted a position with the Northwest School of Agriculture and resigned from the board. Waldemar Wendt and Don Larson each received 14 votes as write-in candidates.

School Board Has Meeting Tuesday

Several items of business were transacted by the Thief River Falls board of education Tuesday evening, meeting in adjourned session and as a canvassing board for the school election held the same evening. Two items of business, including salaries of janitors, bus drivers, cooks and secretaries, were deferred to a later meeting due to the absence of board members Rufus Olson, John Burness and K. Russell Anderson.

The board approved a resolution calling for the purchase of a 50-foot wide strip of land extending east from the east edge of the new school property to a drainage ditch. The land was purchased from Leland Knight for $500 and will provide for drainage and power line right-of-way.

A lease agreement with the Falls hotel was entered into by the board. The lease is for the period of June 1 to January 1 and covers rental of space for the architectural drafting department of the area vocational-technical school. The department will be moved back into the school district's own buildings after the new junior high school is put into use.

Approval was also given to an agreement with Bemidji State college for student teachers during the 1964-1965 school term. Mrs. Elaine Sandahl was hired on a full-time basis as an elementary teacher. Eleven-month contracts were approved for Oral Johnson and Robert Roovo, respective junior and senior high school counselors.

Due to the waiting list in the vocational school business department, approval was given to hire another teacher in that department. Salary range would be $4,800

Dr. Joseph Knutson

Dr. Knutson Will Give Goodridge Graduation Talk

Dr. Joseph L. Knutson, president of Concordia college in Moorhead, will be commencement speaker Friday at 8 p. m. in the Goodridge high school auditorium. Rev. A. B. Heltne will pronounce the invocation and benediction and Ernest Swanson, president of the board of education, will present the diplomas.

Miss Lois Benson has been elected by the National Honor Society chapter to present a graduation address entitled "Reflections." As a member of this society she represents the top students of her class. Election to the group is based on character, leadership, scholarship and service.

Dr. Knutson is a graduate of Luther Theological seminary and spent 21 years as pastor of congregations in Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois. He became president of Concordia college in 1951.

Dr. Knutson has not hesitated to take part in politics, although he is conscious of his position as president of a church college. His chief political concern has been the role of the welfare state in changing nations into totalitarian powers. He believes the strength of a nation lies in the creative ability of minority groups and segments of society to plan their programs, solve their problems and make their contributions for the welfare of all.

Members of the graduating class include the following: Dennis Bendickson, Lois Benson, James Carlson, Galen Finley, Ellen Fulton,

G. Nereson Wins Masonic Award

Gary L. Nereson, senior at Lincoln high school, will receive a local Masonic scholarship award as winner in an essay contest conducted in Lincoln high school this year. Harry Solberg, master of the lodge, will present the honor certificate Thursday evening at a lodge meeting.

By winning the local contest, Nereson's essay will be entered in the state Masonic scholarship competition for two $500 and two $250 scholarships. These awards are made by the Grand Lodge of Minnesota, AF & AM, through the educational committee.

The contest, announced annually, is based on written themes on a subject chosen each year by the educational committee and on personal qualities such as leadership, scholarship, integrity and school cooperation.

Northern Lodge No. 236 plans to encourage participation in the event by sponsoring winning awards to seniors who compete in the high schools at Goodridge, Newfolden, Middle River and Thief River Falls. This will be done annually and increased participation is expected next year.

Julie Groslie Exchanges Vows With R. Madison

Miss Julie Groslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Groslie of Thief River Falls, became the bride of Ronald Madison, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Madison of Brainerd, Minn. at a 7:30 candlelight service held on Saturday, May 2, at Zion Lutheran church of this city. Reading the vows was the Rev. Leland Steen, who used the double-ring ceremony.

Jerry Jorisdal, organist, accompanied Mrs. Ronald Eagen of Thief River Falls, who sang "Wedding Prayer," preceding the ceremony, and "O Perfect Love" as the couple knelt at the altar. Following the ceremony the soloist sang, "O Happy Home."

The church was decorated with baskets of white mums and gladioli. Spiral candelabra flanked the altar. Aqua carnations and cedar greens, with white satin bows, decorated the aisle candelabra.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie, styled with bouffant skirt and a fitted bodice of appliqued lace sprinkled with iridescent pearls and sequins, and styled with a portrait neckline. Three roses centered the back waistline, and appliqued lace medallions enhanced the sweep of the train. Her ballerina-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. Her pearl earrings were a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Mary Davidson was maid of honor, Miss Marian Lietzow was bridesmaid, and Miss Luann Madison attended as junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were of aqua in street-length and accessorized in the same shade. They wore a pendant of a small silver bell with pearl center, gifts of the bride.

The bride's mother wore an aqua colored dress with white accessories and the mother of the groom wore a mauve colored sheath-styled dress with accessories to match. Their corsages were white roses. The grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Ella Madison, wore a dress of soft green shantung and a corsage of white gardenias.

Duncan Thompson of Brainerd was best man; Lyle Groslie and Tony Brenna, both of Thief River Falls, attended as groomsmen, and George Groslie of this city and Thomas Fitzsimons of Brainerd shared ushering duties.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The decorations were floral centerpieces and the four-tiered cake carried out the bride's chosen colors of aqua and white.

Mrs. Harry Dahl and Mrs. Robert Davidson, aunt and cousin of the bride, respectively, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Morris Langer and Mrs. Ernest Ballingrud poured. Miss Shelly Davidson was in charge of the guest book, and Miss Debra Langer served punch. Mrs. Larry Gausen and Mrs. Duncan Thompson assisted with opening of the gifts. Miss Norella Solum, Miss Carmen Pederson and Mrs. John Myerchin, all friends of the bride, assisted in serving.

The bride graduated from Lincoln high school and the area vocational school of cosmetology and is a beautician at Kathryn's Beauty Shop in Brainerd. The groom is a graduate of Washington high school, Brainerd, and the U. of M. He is with Edgewood Home Inc., of Brainerd. After a North Shore wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Madison will be at home at 15½ Kingswood St., Brainerd. The bride's travel ensemble was a mohair suit in aqua shade worn with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Brainerd, Minneapolis, Detroit Lakes, Twin Valley, Fosston, Nisswa, Bagley, Erskine, St. Paul and McIntosh, Minn., Fargo and Grand Forks, N. D. and Searles, S. D.

REPEATING vows of marriage at Zion Lutheran church of this city May 2 were Julie Groslie and Ronald Madison. The bride's parents are the LeRoy Groslies of Thief River Falls, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Madison of Brainerd.

10 Years' Scouting To Be Climaxed By Trip East

Shining eyes and thick braids of little Brownie Scouts in Troop No. 94 have changed with the passing of ten years of scouting. Today these same members of Girl Scout Troop No. 94 have become young adults who greet the world with shining eyes, but the thick braids have changed to bouffant hair-dos, in keeping with current fashions. In 1954 the girls dreamed of nature hikes, and cook-outs. Today these young women are about to climax their scouting years with a 4,000 mile trip via chartered limousine.

Before dawn on Memorial Day, May 30th, the trip begins which will take them to exciting Washington D. C. with its many opportunities to create interest in government past and present. A day in historic Williamsburg, Va., will bring alive Revolutionary War days of our country.

Three days in New York City will be crammed with activity, including one day at the World's Fair. The limousine will wheel nothrwestward to take in Naigara Falls before arriving in Detroit, Mich. for a two night stop-over where Greenfield Village and other points of interest will be shown by Detroit Girl Scouts. Last lap of the trip will include the drive over Mackinac Bridge along the shores of three of the Great Lakes, and finally back in Thief River Falls, in mid-June. Camping in State parks, at Rockwood National Girl Scout Camp, and the New York YWCA are included in overnight stops.

An education in history, travel and human relationships are the rewards to be had by these young women who have been and are yet working toward the financial goal set. They will serve a chili supper from 5 to 7 p. m. at Trinity Lutheran church Wednesday, May 20th. You are invited to bring the family.

Girl Scouts and their parents are: Linda Dahl, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dahl; Virjean Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart Hanson; Linda Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jensen; Linda Lian, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Lian; Evanne Lindberg, Mrs. K. E. Lindberg; Eileen Lund, Mr. and Mrs. Alrick Lund; Karen Maves, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Maves; Mary Patten, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Patten; Catherine Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Simon; Diane Stromsmoe, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stromsmoe; Valerie Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells; and Ann Winters, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Winters. Troop leader for eight of the ten years for Troop No. 94 is Mrs. Melville Simon, who will be assisted on the trip by Mrs. Bill Welsh of Crookston, Minnesota.

Parents will meet with the chaperones Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Fireside Room. Transportation, finances and itinerary will be discussed.

The Library Corner

And now that we now there is a sun...here is another cheery note! One bane in the existance of librarians is the number of books taken from the library and held over the due date. Fines are charged, (some are quite costly to the borrower) and make a great deal of additional work on the part of librarians. Some people keep books so long they are embarrassed to return them. Consequently, the library is minus a book; other borrowers are denied the pleasure of reading it...and replacement costs go sky high providing the book can be replaced (and oftentimes it cannot!).

Members of the board of your library resolved that Frances Shanahan, head librarian, shall permit all overdue books to be returned to your library during the week from May 18 through May 23, without any fine - no matter how long over due!

So, check your bookshelves, and if you find a book due last week, last year or last decade...return it to your library..."fine free"!

Perhaps you've heard of the Newberg and Caldecott medals... perhaps you haven't. The story behind these two American Library association awards is quite interesting.

The "Newbery" portion is derived from the name John Newbery, a man who published children's books more than two centuries ago. He was indeed the first man to actually publish books for children. Randolph Caldecott, a picture-book artist, lived a hundred years ago. The name of the person responsible for the origination of the awards is one Frederic G. Melcher, a New York editor, born in 1879. Hence, the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries are linked closely by these awards, so coveted by authors and artists of books considered contributions to literature for children. The awards committee is formed from members of the association making the presentation.

Naturally, all librarians look forward to placing the current award winning books on their shelves. This year the two books selected by the judges are "It's Like This, Cat" by Emily Neville and "Where the Wild Things Are" by Maurice Sendak. The first is the Newbery winner, the latter the Caldecott selection.

A list of previous medal winners is available from your librarians. Be sure your children have the opportunity to enrich their lives by reading each of the excellent books, sometime during the period from 6 to 60!

Summer time is good reading time and an excellent time for parents to read with their children! Read aloud during family-gathering-time and discuss the book in hand. Read books enjoyed by all the members of the group. Read others that aren't so much enjoyed...perhaps you'll whet the appetite, and encourage growth, mentally and spiritually, in other directions. Reading is educational and inspirational...not to mention recreational. (Pretty good exercise for the mind, no matter what the material!)

There are books for adult reading, too. Each one is a friend just waiting to be invited into your home. Try one of these:

Ernest Hemingway's last, "A Movable Feast", presents short sketches of the author's life in Paris in the '20's. Hemingway is gone from us now, but his works will live on. While "Lord of the Flies" still hits the best-seller list, the author, William Golding has "The Spire", his newest, now on the shelf.

So much for the new books...but back again to those hiding in corners, and on shelves, which should be returned. Remember...the week of May 18-23 all Carnegie Public Library books, over due...no matter how long over due, may be returned "fine free". You owe it to yourself to take advantage of this offer!

All this goes to prove just one thing...your library has the best guarantee there is! Your librarians absolutely guarantee you will find the best life has to offer...(bound nicely, in easy to read print)...all your's for the borrowing!

RAINFALL which has plagued farmers east of Thief River Falls this spring is evidenced by the flowing water in the above photo. This picture was taken in the north ditch of Highway 1 about nine miles east of Thief River Falls on Tuesday afternoon. Seeding west of the city is reported to be on schedule, but wet fields have delayed planting operations in the Mavie area and other parts of the farming area west of Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Johnson and Julie, and Mr. and Mrs. Obe Morben returned Monday after vacationing for the past ten days at Kent, Ohio, and Madison, Wis., where they visited with relatives.

Hospital Auxiliary History Reviewed

By Mrs. J. J. Wemack

"The name of this organization shall be Northwestern Hospital Auxiliary."

"The purpose of this organization shall be to promote and to advance the welfare of this hospital through ways approved by the governing board of the hospital. This purpose shall be accomplished by interpretation of the hospital to the public, through service to the hospital and its patients—"

Thus starts the constitution read at the founding of the Northwestern Hospital Auxiliary. After months of planning and organizing, the initial meeting was held April 8, 1953 in the Civic and Commerce room of the City Auditorium. Inspirational and informative talks were given by the hospital administrator and the president of the auxiliary of the Kittson County Memorial Hospital. After due consideration, with motions made and carried, the 80 women present signed in as charter members.

"Service to the hospital and its patients" as stated in the consitution, has been the catchword of these dedicated women for these past eleven years. In reviewing the history of the auxiliary, one finds an abundance of good deeds and scattered among them a few social high-lights.

The first project was to help with the clerical work in the starting of a blood bank for Thief River Falls. As a service to the patients the auxiliaries, in their "cheery cherry" smocks have distributed the donated magazines and books twice a week since 1953. The cheer dispensed at the same time is an important by-product of the auxiliary for "a merry heart doeth good like a medicine."

The sewing machines of the members were humming and hemming in 1954 while the draperies were being made for the entire new addition to the hospital. This huge project undertaken by 15 diligent Dorcases was completed in two months with at least 40 hours of service donated by each member of the serving committee.

Other projects produced by the busy hands of these and subsequent members were pajamas, slippers, and bibs for the Pediatric drian made a doll's wardrobe for a ian made a doll's wardrobe for a beautiful doll and that was presented for the "motherly" girls to play with while patients.

In the fall of 1960 the needlewomen undertook the sewing of "Pinkie the Puppet" — They have made about 400 of these toys which were presented to the children from ages 2 years to 10 years upon admittance to the hospital.

Thru the years the auxiliary has presented a packet of stationery to the adult patients, a "welcoming" gift for their use. The children receive a coloring book, a gift also from the auxiliary. The Pediatric department has always been a special love of the auxiliary and as such has received many fine gifts. The most recent presentation was a hi-fi with story records, and toys for all ages. Donations of records and books and toys have been received for this department from many generous non-members of the auxiliary as well as members.

In 1954 a Gift Shop and Coffee Bar was started by the auxiliary in the hospital. It was open to the visitors and staff of the hospital and served desserts donated by the members. Hand made gifts were offered for sale at the start and the proceeds were used to purchase necessary equipment for the hospital. The Shop is still very much a part of the auxiliary and is staffed by the members who serve a total of 400 hours a year.

On the social side of this hospital auxiliary is the annual Christmas coffee and cookie party given at the hospital for the employees, staff, and patients. There have been card parties, style shows, and "Tasters Teas." Some have profited financially and the set of dishes bought by the auxiliary for the hospital in 1961 is now paid for in full. During the Open House in 1954 the members served as coffee hostesses and guides to show the then new addition to the visitors.

A program started in 1960 by the auxiliary in cooperation with the hospital administration, was the "Candy Stripers." These girls are 14 years of age up to 16 years. They serve in several departments of the hospital after a training and orientation session. The hours logged by them for their service are over 2,000 since the inauguration of this project. They serve only 2 or 4 hours a week. The Candy Striper Philosophy seems to be: "If someone doesn't have a smile, give him one of yours." Because of this initial experience in the hospital, some girls are now studying for their careers in nursing.

The auxiliary is looking forward to more service projects in the new Rehabilitation unit and will be ready to start the orientation and training programs under the hospital staff's supervision.

It is the expectation of all 145 members that the coming years will be the most rewarding and as the Northwestern Hospital continues to grow and improve, so will the auxiliary for as Charles Eliot said, "To be of service is a solid foundation for contentment in this world."

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

"He that passeth by, and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears."

Proberbs, 26:17

Clean-up week was properly observed in Thief River Falls last week and this of course is a community effort that deserves the cooperation of all good citizens. But Thief River Falls needs more than just a one-week campaign, and this applies particularly to the business section of the city where no effort has been made to curtail litterbugging.

The city officials are in part responsible for this litter problem. In the first place adequate containers have not been made available for tidy waste disposal and immediate action should be taken to provide containers that are built especially for that purpose—several for each block.

Our ordinances dealing with litterbugging should be checked to determine whether or not they are adequate, and if they do not provide adequately for proper policing along with penalities to be imposed on offenders then the ordinances should be amended. The penalties probably should be mild at first and then gradually be made more severe. The state of California provides a $50 fine for litterbugging on all streets and highways and some cities provide penalties up to $500. Good law enforcement has made the people of California litter conscious and they don't dispose of their gum wrappers and empty cigarette packages on the sidewalks. And they do not empty the automobile ash trays on the streets.

And the program to change Thief River Falls from a city of dirty streets to a city of clean streets should provide the most severe penalties for those business establishments whose employees, and sometimes the owners, in sweeping their sidewalks in the morning, merely shift the accumulated litter from the sidewalk to the street.

From my observations, the citizens of Thief River Falls keep their residential areas neat and clean. They too have a litter problem but in general each resident assumes a personal responsibility for keeping his own residential premises, including his portion of the street, clean and tidy.

It is good to have a clean-up week once a year but what we really need is a 52-week clean-up program, with adequate containers to make waste disposal easy, and perhaps better ordinances, and active enforcement of those ordinances by the police.

It is a shameful fact that Thief River Falls is a city that actually encourages litterbugging. It would be wonderful if at least one of our many civic organizations would show some interest in this problem. It could be a very worthwhile organization program.

In rejecting a proposal that the Rules Committee investigate Senators who were alleged to have had financial dealings with Bobby Baker, the Democratic majority did not put an end to this scandal. Undoubtedly a thorough investigation would have been embarrassing for the party, but I am satisfied that it would have been in the best interests of good government in the future. Such an investigation probably should include such important officials as the President himself, for whom, it appears, Bobby Baker was the errand boy. And the public should know more about the activities of the Texas bankers who seem to have been closely associated with Bobby Baker and those whom he represented in the manipulations that made him rich—and others richer—in a short time.

The following comment on the Senate action in trying to put an end to the investigating, by the New York Times, an independent but certainly not a Republican newspaper, I think expresses the reaction of the majority of our people. Concludes the Times:

> "From the beginning of the Baker affair, the Rules Committee has acted in a manner bearing little or no resemblance to the zeal normally displayed in Senatorial investigations, except only in one phase in which it bore down excessively on witnesses' use of the Fifth Amendment. For the rest, the committee severely limited the scope of the inquiry, it displayed an unusual timidity in failing to follow up obvious leads; indeed, it roused itself from somnolence mainly in trying to bury the case. It obviously has no stomach for extending the investigation to members of the Senate itself.
> "The majority of the Rules Committee have only themselves to blame for the long and continuing life of the Baker affair. They are responsible for weakening the prestige and dignity of the Senate; by rendering immunity to its members, they have left the implication that there may be something to hide.
> "Public suspicion will not be dispelled until the Senate is prepared to investigate itself. There may be nothing unethical about the conduct of any Senator in the Baker affair; but the public cannot help being skeptical as long as the Senate refuses publicly to face the facts, whatever the facts may be."

Among the Democratic Senators who, in effect, pleaded the Fifth Amendment in voting against further investigation, were our two Minnesota Senators, Humphrey and McCarthy. Anything they do generally has the support of the Minneapolis Tribune. It is interesting to note, therefore, that in this instance the Tribune did not attempt to justify their action. Here is the concluding paragraph of a Tribune editorial under the Heading "A Shameful Performance in the Senate":

> "The probe into Baker's tangled financial affairs was so circumscribed that it gave the timid appearance of a whitewash. Thursday's action only served to reinforce that impression. It was a sad day indeed for the Senate's reputation and prestige."

CLEAN-UP week in Thief River Falls got off to a fast start Monday. The above photo shows a number of participants in the clean-up, paint-up, fix-up parade which was held Monday afternoon. Clean-up week continues with a residential trash pick-up by the Jaycees Thursday evening, park clean-up by the Boy Scouts the same evening and a retail promotion Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

McGinley Family Escapes Serious Injury in Mishap

Three Thief River Falls residents escaped serious injury last Thursday when the car in which they were riding overturned on a gravel road about 10 miles west of Larimore, N. D.

According to Mrs. John McGinley, driver of the car, the vehicle hit loose gravel and overturned on the road. Riding with her in the car were her son Joey, age 1½ years; daughter Marti, age 4; and her mother, Mrs. Clarence Meyer of Larimore. Joey was thrown through the windshield area, apparently after the windshield popped out of the car.

Mrs. McGinley and Mrs. Meyer received bruises. Joey received gravel bruises and Marti was uninjured in the mishap. The car received extensive damage.

LHS Snaps Warren 9-Game Win Skein With 6-5 Victory

Scoring two unearned runs in the fifth inning, breaking a 4-all tie, the baseball Prowlers defeated the Warren Ponies, 6 to 5, in a game played on the Fairgrounds diamond here Tuesday night. The game snapped a Warren winning streak that had reached nine games, and the win assured the Prowlers of being rated as the district's number one team when the tournament pairings are made.

The Prowlers scored four runs in the second inning on singles by Mike Benke and Jack Leedahl, a walk to Karl Poppenhagen, an error on Billy Dicken's sharp grounder to first base, and a single to right field by Rick Jensen.

But that Prowler lead was shortlived as coach Jim Oftedahl's Ponies, utilizing three bases on balls, a wild pitch, a single by Paul Knutson, and a double by Peter Gilbert, scored four runs in the third inning.

In the fifth inning, Dave Erickson reached first base when his ground ball was booted by shortstop. Benke attempted a sacrifice, and Gilbert, in making the throw to first base to retire Benke, hit the Prowler runner. Erickson, attempting to advance to third base on the ball throw was obstructed by the shortstop, and was awarded third base. Wayne Smith struck out. Jack Leedahl was given an intentional walk, loading the bases. Karl Poppenhagen ripped a ground single over the third base bag, scoring Erickson and Benke. Dicken filed out to right field, and Jensen was out, third to first.

The Ponies made a strong bid to get back into the game in the seventh inning. Paul Knutson was out on a pop foul to first base; Paul Horgen drew a walk; Mark Horgen was a strikeout victim; but Gilbert, who was the game's hitting star, sliced a double into left field, scoring Paul Horgen. A wild pitch moved Gilbert to third base. Kerry Olson ended the game by lofting a fly ball to centerfielder Don Mathieu.

Varied Business On Agenda for TRF School Board

(Continued from page 1) to $6,000, Supt. M. R. Hankerson said, and would be reimbursable by 50 per cent. Twenty additional students, the current number on the waiting list, would bring in approximately $6,000 in differential aid in addition to teacher salary aid. The new section will start September 1.

Authorization was given to Supt. Hankerson to hire an additional teacher for the vocational agriculture department and a librarian to serve the junior high school and elementary school. The superintendent was also instructed to prepare specifications for a new station wagon preparatory to calling for bids this summer.

Extend Deadline On Wheat Program

Friday Is New Final Date For Joining In Program

Wheat program signup period for 1964 has been extended one week, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. The new final date is Friday, May 22.

If a producer desires to get acreage diversion payments and certificates based on his share in the domestic and export market, he needs to sign up on or before May 22 and be a program cooperator. To become a cooperator, a wheat producer must remain within his acreage allotment, devote his diverted acres to conserving uses and fulfill the program's other requirements.

The "domestic" certificates will have a fixed face value of 70 cents per bushel and the "export" ones will be worth 25 cents a bushel. They will be based on a percentage of the farm's normal production of the wheat acreage within the allotment.

A program cooperator receiving a price support loan and certificates will receive a national average return of $2. per bushel for his domestic share and $1.55 for his expart share, provided his 1964 yield is equal to his normal production and he has the minimum qualifying diversion.

UP AND OVER goes Bemidji's record breaking Mickey James in the pole vault event in the conference meet at Crookston on Tuesday. James is shown clearing the bar easily in one of his preliminary leaps. The versatile Lumberjack (he ran in the 440-yard dash, and ran a leg in the 880-yard relay) went on to set a new Northwest conference record, clearing the bar at 12 feet, 1½ inches. The old mark, set by Carter Batchelder of Bemidji in 1957, was 11 feet, ½ inch.

BURLY Larry Joppru, Prowler weightman, performs in the shot put event in the Northwest conference meet at Crookston. Joppru gained a third place in the event; and then the junior, participating in the discuss throw, made a cast of 131 feet to win that event.

DOUBLE event winner for the Prowlers in the Northwest conference track meet at Crookston on Tuesday was Rick Nelson. The Prowler junior won the 220-yard dash event in 21 seconds and the broad jump event with a leap of 19 feet, 10½ inches.

Leedahl Blanks Ada Monday 12-0 On Two-Hitter

Prowlers' 10-Hit Attack Led by Dave Erickson; Enter Tourney at RLF

Righthander Jack Leedahl, the Cavalier, N. D. curver, making his final apearance on the Fairgrounds diamond as a starting pitcher for the Prowlers, hurled a two-hit game against the Ada Vikings on Monday night as coach Ralph Skay's club marked up a 12 to 0 win.

The Prowlers, the defending District 31 champions, will enter tournament play at Red Lake Falls next week. The tournament pairings will be announced following a meeting to be held this evening.

Leedahl gave up but two base hits, both singles, to the Vikings on Monday night. In the second inning, Ken Pierce sent a ground single into right field and in the fourth inning Dean Vilmo beat out a slow roller to shortstop. Leedahl, boosting his season's record to two wins and one loss, collected eight strikeouts and doled out four walks.

The Prowler batsmen clubbed the offerings of Roger Schwartz, the starter, and Jay McNamar, for 10 base hits. Dave Erickson had three hits in four trips to the plate and freshman Karl Poppenhagen banged out two hits in four tries. Wayne Smith poled out the game's only extra-base blow, a double to the fence in right-center in the sixth inning.

The win boosted the Prowlers' season record to nine wins and three losses.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

After Number Ten

In the years since baseball became a major sport at Lincoln high school, and it was in 1952 that the Prowlers organized their first time in district and regional competition, the blue-and-gold have won nine District 31 titles. And this week coach Ralph Skay's squad will be trying for number ten, and the winning of this tenth title won't be easy.

It was back in 1952, with Bob Nick as coach and such boys as Dick Bjorkman, Jack Hoppe, Joey Poole, Larry Gilbertson, Mike Hajostek, Sid Vraa, LeRoy Aasland, Jack Erickson, Cal Vraa, Ronnie Buen, Lyle Guttu, and others, on the squad, that the Prowlers, by a score of 14 to 3, defeated the Crookston Pirates in the district tourney finals.

In 1953, coach Skjod assumed the Prowler baseball coaching duties, and he has directed the locals to eight district titles, and three Region Eight championships.

A resume of the district tournament finals games, in which the Prowlers were the winners, reads like this: 1953—Thief River Falls, 4, vs. Alvarado, 1; 1954—Thief River Falls, 12, vs. Red Lake Falls, 4; 1955—Thief River Falls, 16, vs. Red Lake Falls, 0; 1956—Thief River Falls, 9, vs. Red Lake Falls, 3; 1957—Thief River Falls, 6, vs. Red Lake Falls, 0; 1959—Thief River Falls, 20, vs. Climax, 1; 1962—Thief River Falls, 8, vs. Red Lake Falls, 3; 1963—Thief River Falls, 4, vs. Red Lake Falls, 3.

In the three seasons that the Prowlers failed to win the district title, in 1958, 1960, and 1961, the locals reached the finals, losing to Crookston in each instance, by scores of 1 to 0, 6 to 2, and 8 to 7.

The Prowler squads that went on to win the Region Eight titles were the teams of 1955, 1959, and 1963. The 1955 squad defeated Karlstad, 8 to 3. This club, co-captained by Sid Vraa and Joey Poole, and with such players as Glenn Carlson, Fred Dablow, Bobby Hallameck, Jack Poole, Rod Collins, Larry Jorgenson, Ross Sloan, Duane Glass, Roy Pederson, and Dave Berg, was perhaps the strongest hitting squad to wear the blue-and-gold colors. In state tournament play, Carlson was named to the All-state tournament squad.

The 1959 Prowlers, by a score of 5 to 2, defeated the Blackduck team for the Regional title. And the 1963 Prowlers, by a forfeit when Bemidji was found to have violated a State Board of Control rule, won the Region Eight title.

So it's good luck to the Prowlers and coach Skay and his assistant Jack Junker as they move into the 1964 District 31 tournament.

Pike Dinners

The reports continue to be glowing as far as last week's walleyed pike fishing season was concerned. There were plenty of pike dinners on this week's menu.

Had a short note from Keith Ballard of Ballard's Resort on the Rainy river, and he states that Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Olson filled their limits on walleyes in little over an hour on Saturday, and also filled their limit on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Larson and Mrs. John Langseth, fishing out of Ballard's Resort, too, filled their limits on the two days. Fact is, all of the parties fishing out of his place on Saturday had their limits by 10:00 a. m. And that's pretty much the story of all the resorts along the Morris Point and Wheeler's Point area.

Let's hope that the fishing reports remain "glowing" for a month or so.

Will Make a Strong Bid

Prowler track coaches, Roger Solheim and Quentin Jones, will take a 19-man squad to Grand Forks on Friday for the District 31 Track and Field meet. And the Prowlers are favored to win the title.

The Prowlers have point-strength in the weights, with Larry Joppru and Marc Pream as entries. And in the hurdles, with Jerry Forsberg and Peter Isaacson and Mark Stromberg entered. Of course, the half mile will find Orrin Joppru facing Plummer's Marv Walter.

It will be interesting to watch the progress of the Prowlers' mile relay team. This quartet—Peter Isaacson, Leland Dexter, Orrin Joppru, and Joel Headley—have been approaching the district record, and they may set a new mark on Saturday.

Miscellany

Jim Oftedahl, who must be given credit for the fine coaching job he has done in developing the Warren baseball Ponies into a district tournament contender, has resigned his position on the Warren high school faculty. One thing is certain, though, and that is that Jim's successor will be inheriting a fine squad as most of the Warren Ponies are under-classmen, and this includes southpaw pitchers Paul Knutson and Pete Gilbert. John Warford, Bemidji's spectacular hurdler and top-flight basketball prospect, has accepted a four-year scholarship at Minnesota. From what I learned, this scholarship is a track scholarship. Warford intends to study medicine. . . . Roger Sinner, the former Fergus Falls athlete, is continuing to make progress in the San Francisco Giants baseball organization. Sinner is taking a regular turn as a member of the Tacoma Giants of the Pacific Coast league. . . Wiley Bogie made an impressive debut as a softball pitcher on Monday evening on the East Side diamond when, as a member of the Bea's Food Market team, he shut out the V. F. W. club, 9 to 0. The team, which had been billed as being the Thorp Loan, has returned to its original sponsor and will play in the city softball loop as the Bea's Food Market team.

City Recreation Plan Expanded, Director Arrives

Younger boys will participate in T-ball, a game played with the same general rules as baseball except that a stationary "tee" is used instead of a pitcher throwing the ball for batters to hit. Tennis will also be offered to both boys and girls and a "Junior Olympics" program for both boys and girls is also planned. It is hoped that a girls' softball league can also be formed.

Swimming at the Tindolph Park pool will begin on May 30 when a lifeguard will be on duty. Further details on the swimming program will be announced later this month.

Adults will not be forgotten in the program which will likely offer volleyball, horseshoe and softball activity. The local softball league will continue to conduct its own program but will receive assistance from the park and recreation committee in maintenance of facilities and providing of equipment.

Foley will also be in charge of supervising park maintenance and development, particularly in play areas of the park system. While summer activities are being given major attention at the present time, a continuous program will be arranged as interest dictates and facilities permit.

The public will be kept informed on the recreation program and schedule in a weekly column to be published in the Monday edition of the Times. Foley will write the column and call attention to events scheduled for the week and any changes in the recreation system.

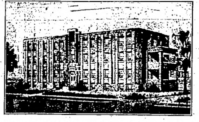
A Story of Progress in Hospital Services for the Thief River Falls Community

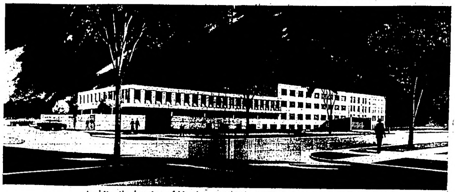
Bethany hospital was built in 1908 and was the first hospital built in Thief River Falls. It had room for about 10 patients.

Hospital services began expanding in 1914 when Mercy Hospital was built at Fifth Street and Duluth Avenue. It was designed with beds for 28 patients. An annex was later constructed at the rear of the building to provide 20 additional beds for hospital service.



With the growth of Thief River Falls as a medical center, space again became a primary concern in providing medical services. In 1930 St. Luke's hospital was built to help meet this need and was designed to accommodate 46 patients.

In 1950 a merger of Mercy and St. Luke's hospitals was effected to form Northwestern Hospital and an addition to St. Luke's Hospital was completed in 1954 to form a 110-bed hospital. In this building hospital services were constantly expanded and improved with a chronic and convalescent care unit developed in 1958. The growth of this unit, and the developments in the field of physical medicine, resulted in a decision by the board of trustees in 1962 to build the chronic care and rehabilitation unit which has just been completed.



Architect's drawing of Northwestern Hospital with Rehabilitation Unit

Rehabilitation Unit Provides For Expansion of Services

The planning for complete health care facilities for Thief River Falls community and surrounding area dates back to 1950 immediately preceding the merger of Mercy Hospital and St. Lukes Hospital Associations to form Northwestern Hospital Association. The professional survey services of James A. Hamilton and Associates of Minneapolis were used to project the needs of this community and area for a 25 to 35 year period. This survey was to project the immediate needs for acute hospital beds, nursing home, and chronic care facilities. As of that date rehabilitation services were being discussed as a part of a complete health care facility but the service was relatively new and very little planning was being done for that type of health service.

This survey indicated the need for chronic and rehabilitation services and also stated that these non-acute facilities would be in greater demand in this area as the years passed and the population of persons over 65 years of age would be increasing at a rapid rate.

The first stage of the long range planning started in 1950 was undertaken with the building of the acute hospital services that were added to the old St. Lukes Hospital building and completed in 1954 to provide 110 beds of acute hospital services. The next step in the long range plan was started in 1958 when 18 beds of the acute hospital service were set aside for a chronic and rehabilitation unit. Very little remodeling or additional equipment was provided for this small section, but the service was very successful and excellent results were obtained in the first two years of the operation of this unit.

At the time of the annual meeting of the hospital association in June of 1961, it was announced that planning had started with the architectural firm of Bettenburg, Townsend, Stolte and Comb and officials of the Department of Health in Minneapolis relative to an addition to the building to provide a rehabilitation unit with chronic care facilities. The planning continued during the next two years and on May 23, 1962, the plans that were developed locally were approved by the State Board of Health Advisory Council for the program to be included in the Hill-Burton Federal Assistance Program for construction.

$849,000 IN ADDITION AND EQUIPMENT

Bids for the construction were let on January 23, 1963, and the actual construction started on March 24, 1963. The total cost of the construction and equipment for this new addition amounts to $849,000 which includes approximately $75,000 in remodeling and expansion of services in the existing hospital building. Additional financial assistance in construction and equipment costs was secured through the application to the Accelerated Public Works agency and when the final cost are computed and federal assistance payments made, the hospital indebtedness for this new construction, remodeling and equipment will be less than $100,000.00.

The construction under the general contract of Dean L. Witcher, Inc. of Minneapolis has proceeded on an excellent time schedule and as of June 1, 1964, when patients will be moved into this new unit, the contract time for completion of this job will be over 100 days ahead of schedule.

MANY ADDITIONAL SERVICES PROVIDED

This rehabilitation unit is located on the north end of the Northwestern Hospital building and adds approximately 29,000 square feet of additional facilities to the hospital. The services are located on three floors and consist of the following areas: 1. A sub-ground floor providing locker facilities for personnel, an expansion of the Department of Radiology and the addition of an Isotope Laboratory, a large meeting and conference room to be used for classroom work, storage, and equipment rooms. 2. The first floor of the addition provides services for physical therapy, occupational therapy, hydro-therapy, dental services, intensive care unit, offices, gift shop, coffee shop, reception areas, and offices. 3. The second floor of the new addition is devoted entirely to actual patient rooms which include 20 rehabilitation and chronic care beds and 16 convalescent and nursing care beds.

This floor is on the same level as the second floor of the general hospital and 9 beds in the general hospital have been added to the 16 convalescent beds, making a total patient care unit of 45 beds. A large day room, dining room and training kitchen and all necessary nursing services including medication rooms, conference rooms, utility rooms and examining rooms, are located on this floor along with the patient bedrooms.

Expansion of this service can be undertaken at a future date if necessary by the addition of a third floor which would house an additional 40 patient beds and allied services and this addition would then be at the same height as the general hospital building.

NO CHANGE IN PATIENT CHARGES

The acutal charges to the patients who are admitted to this service will not be increased over the present rate system that has been in use at Northwestern Hospital in the chronic care and rehabilitation unit for the past two years. These rates start at an inclusive rate of $250.00 a month for the convalescent and nursing care patients requiring a minimum amount of nursing services. In the intensive rehabilitation care section of the patient floor, these charges would start at $12 a day for 4-bed ward facilities and $13 a day for two-bed rooms.

In addition to the in-patient services provided in this new addition, it is anticipated that there will be an increase in the out-patient service through the planning of a specific Day Treatment Program that would accept patients from nursing homes, custodial care homes, and their own homes for a Day Treatment Program consisting of 3 to 4 hours per day and 3 or 4 times a week during which time they would come to the hospital and receive various types of treatment and then return to their own homes following the treatment period. This program has been planned and presented to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for approval as a demonstration project. Decision on the recognition of this program and its sponsorship has not been made as of this date.

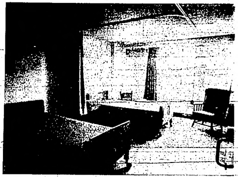
Further Development Planned

The development of medical and hospital services for the community has not been completed with the opening of this new addition as of June 1, 1964, because as of this date, the Board of Trustees of Northwestern Hospital has authorized the building committee to enter into a contract with the architectural firm to start immediately the planning for a new Pediatrics Department on the third floor of the old St. Lukes building. This complete remodeling program will provide a 21-bed Pediatric Department with all of the newest services for these patients who are usually under the age of 14 and will cost approximately $100,000 for the total remodeling and new equipment for this department. Funds for this expansion program have already been arranged and when this is undertaken early this fall and completed by approximately February 1, 1965, the total indebtedness of the hospital for the new addition just completed and the remodeling of the Pediatrics Department will not exceed $200,000. There will not be any solicitation for funds from the general public for either of these programs. Futher planning for the long-range program of Northwestern Hospital includes consideration for in-patient psychiatric beds that could be located on the second floor of the St. Lukes building in the area that will be vacated by the chronic and rehabilitation patients. Some planning has been done on this part of the program but nothing definite has been decided as to the time this part of the hospital development will be undertaken.

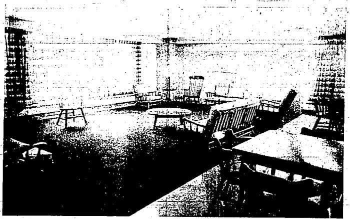
The large, spacious lobby, entered from First street, provides services primarily for the patients and for their visitors. Patients from the rehabilitation floor would be encouraged to use the facilities of the gift shop and coffee and snack bar, and will use the large waiting area to receive their visitors. A garden patio located behind the brick wall on First Street is accessible from the lobby entry and will be used by the patients during nice weather. The reception desk, public telephone and Hospital Auxiliary and volunteer office is also located in this area.

The coffee shop, located in the east end of the lobby on the ground floor, will accommodate 17 people and will serve beverages and pastries. The Gift Shop is directly connected to this area, and both of these services will be operated by the Hospital Auxiliary. All net proceeds from these departments are used to purchase equipment to be used by the hospital and to provide services for the patients.

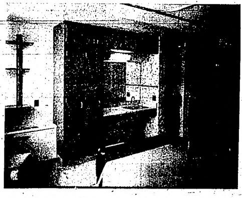
The Teen age group of volunteers known as the Candy Stripers are very helpful in providing hours of volunteer service in these two departments.



This is a typical semi-private (Two-bed) patient room on the east side of the patient floor. The east side of the floor has six two-bed rooms and two four-bed rooms designed for the rehabilitation patient. The furniture is Early American wood finish. Built-in dressers, chests, lockers, television and telephone services are also provided. All equipment and services in patient rooms are designed for the patient who will be either ambulatory or in a wheel chair. Attractive decorative colors in the walls, furniture finishes, drapes, bed spreads and upholstery are used throughout the entire patient area.

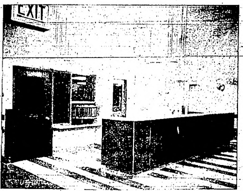


The patient day room is located on the second floor and in the northwest corner overlooking the downtown area. It is furnished in Early American wood furniture that is comfortable and very attractive. This area is carpeted and provides an informal seating arrangement for television viewing, visiting and religious services. Entertainment for the patients can be arranged and presented in this room also. All of the furniture for this room had not been received at the time the picture was taken.



Eight two-bed rooms in this new addition on the west side of the patient floor along with nine beds on the same floor and in the existing building make up a twenty-five bed Chronic Care section in the rehabilitation unit. These new rooms have a connecting toilet and the same built-in lavatory, cabinets and lockers, furniture and other services as the room pictured above. The fan coil unit in the lower left hand corner provides hot water heat and cooling for the patient room as required. Folding doors are provided for the toilets between these rooms.

This view is taken from the patient Day Room and shows the dining area and training kitchen located at the north end of second floor. The training kitchen at the far (East) end will be used in the program of Occupational Therapy to assist in helping the disabled housewife to learn to carry out the usual tasks and duties of homemaking. This kitchen will also serve as the between meal nutrition center for the patient floor. The patients will all be encouraged to come to this room for their meals which will be brought here by heated and refrigerated food carts from the central kitchen.



The central nursing station for the patient floor is located at the exit from the elevator and stairway on second floor. The counter desk pictured contains the patient call system, communication system and all necessary supplies and equipment to carry on the charting and paper work required. The conference and class room for the floor is located directly behind this station and the rotary chart rack accessible from both the station and charting room is shown. The central medication room is also located in this area and is to the right of the chart rack.

The staff cafeteria is located on the sub-ground floor in an area enlarged from the former cafeteria. There is seating for sixty people and it is used by both hospital personnel and patient visitors. The room can be divided into two areas that will be used between meal periods for staff conferences and class rooms. Patients on general diets, who are ambulatory and have permission from their physician, will be able to come to the cafeteria for their meals in a new program being developed at this time.

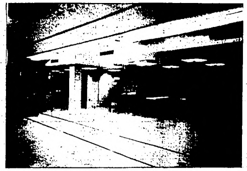
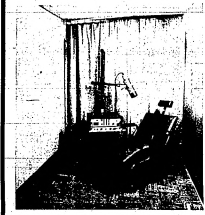
The first floor of this addition accommodates the treatment facilities which include a large Hydro Therapy Unit. Pictured are four stainless steel tanks that utilize water at regulated temperatures under pressure produced by high speed turbines mounted on the sides of the tank. The large tank in the foreground is a Hubbard full-immersion tank. Patients are lifted by an electric hoist on a stretcher over the tank and lowered into the water. Other tanks pictured are for other applications of hydro-massage or hydro therapy.



This area is immediately adjacent to the Hydro Therapy unit on first floor and is the Physical Therapy treatment and exercise room. The various modes of therapy provided by diathermy, ultra sound, heat lamps, massage, range of motion exercise, gait training, traction and muscular stimulation and others are provided here in the treatment cubicles separated by curtains and the open exercise area. Adaptive equipment for assistance in walking and exercising can be attached to the steel channels mounted in the ceiling.

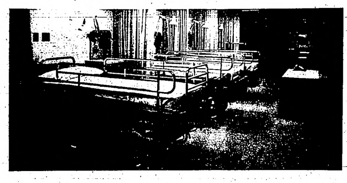
In addition to the patients who will be admitted to the second floor of this rehabilitation unit, patients from the other sections of the hospital will use the treatment services on first floor. Patients will also come from their own homes, nursing homes or custodial care homes for outpatient treatment and return following treatment that same day. Pictured is the waiting room area to be used by the outpatients coming to this unit for physical therapy, hydro-therapy, occupational therapy and dental services that are located on this floor.



This portion of the Isotope laboratory shows Scintimeter, Decade scaler, well counter and chair-cot. The equipment will provide a basic Isotope laboratory, licensed by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Studies that will be done in this laboratory include diagnosis of thyroid disease; treatment of thyroid overactivity and certain types of thyroid cancer; diagnosis and treatment of various diseases of the blood affecting the red and white blood cells; measuring blood and plasma volumes; treatment of certain types of bone cancer; radioisotopes will be available for use on the wards and in surgery for certain malignant conditions; the Isotopes will be obtained from the reactor at Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

This six-bed Intensive Care unit located on first floor is a new service and is associated more specifically with acutely ill patients. A patient admitted to this unit or transferred to this unit from some other section of the hospital would be one requiring special duty nursing service. Each of the six-bed sections is completely equipped with all the necessary services of oxygen, suction, blood pressure equipment, special lighting and a special patient bed. One nurse would be able to attend more than one patient at a time, and the length of time that a patient would be in this unit would vary from as little as a few hours to several days or until the critical condition of the patient had subsided. Acute cardiac cases, major post operative cases and serious accident cases would be the usual cases in this unit. It is entirely self-sufficient with everything that is needed for the most complete care of the patient located within this room.



Floor space of the radiology department has been tripled, providing an additional diagnostic room, dressing rooms, waiting room, additional file space, conference room, Isotope laboratory and improved office facilities.

The new room has birch paneling with lead protection incorporated within the paneling. New equipment which consists of a Capri table, Sierra overhead tube support, Nassau spot film device, Fluorex image amplifier, and complete new darkroom (not shown).

The new radiographic equipment will extend the diagnostic facilities available at Northwestern hospital while delivering a considerably lower dose of radiation to the patient. The amplifier replaces the conventional fluoroscope. It provides an image approximately 3,000 times as bright as the fluoroscopic image, while delivering an exteremely low output of radiation to the patient. This is of great importance in the examination of children. The increased size of the department will make the handling of patients much easier and the increased equipment will decrease the time necessary for numerous diagnostic procedures.

Dr. Miland E. Knapp, M.D., is a physiatrist on the staff of the University of Minnesota Medical School, and was formerly associated with the Kenny Rehabilitation Institute at Minneapolis as medical director. He is a member of the consulting staff of Northwestern Hospital and has been spending one day and evening at the hospital each month since December of 1961. As a specialist in the field of physical medicine, Lr. Knapp has been working with the medical staff, physical therapist and nursing service in evaluating the chronic and rehabilitation patients and instructing in the techniques of physical medicine and rehabilitation through seminars and teaching conferences. As a result of the first two years experience in this consulting and post graduate training program conducted here, Dr. Knapp has expanded this program along the same pattern to four other communities. The program for these first two years was made possible in part by a grant from the Thief River Falls Foundation in cooperation with Northwestern hospital.

Vocational Training Programs Discussed

Importance of adequate vocational-technical training programs for young people whose scholastic aptitudes are below average was emphasized today by John E. Harmon, director of manpower development and training of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Harmon discussed this problem in an address entitled "The Role of the Business Community in Vocational-Technical Education Programs," delivered before a meeting of trade and industrial educators at the annual trade and industrial conference at Camp Arrowhead.

He said: "There are two specific areas which the business community and other lay groups should consider. These areas are often overlooked when these groups develop training programs for their communities and regions:

"1. Is the program adequate to meet all the needs of business and government? 2. Are Minnesota youth with less than average ability receiving meaningful vocational-technical training?"

Harmon commented that there is merit in vocational-technical programs as part of a community college curriculum. "But we must constantly remind ourselves," he said, "not to lose sight of the purpose of such institutions. It is not enough for them to serve merely as a stepping stone into a four-year college course."

"It is important to remember also that a person well versed in vocational-technical education, and close to the changing scene of business and industry, should develop the vocational-technical curriculum for community colleges."

He said he could summarize his comments in this way: "Vocational-technical teachers should be so close to the business community, and to happenings in the shop and store, that they cast the same shadow."

"You have been a leader in this approach," he said about Minnesota. "True, some states have done an outstanding job in developing local programs, but have overlooked the rural youth and the youth from hamlets and small towns. The state legislators of Minnesota should be commended for their vision in appropriating large sums of money for financing the area schools, which provide training programs for all youth in the adjacent areas."

Ronald Stordahl Is Honored at U. of M.

Ronald A. Stordahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stordahl of Thief River Falls, has become a member of Omicron chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honor society in recognition of his scholarship and ability in electrical engineering. Stordahl is currently a junior in the institute of technology at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis.

Phone Employees Train to Measure Radio-Activity

Al Bacon, Frank Brown Would Chart Intensity And Movement of Fallout

Thief River Falls telephone men are participating in a federal-sponsored program for radiological monitoring in the event of nuclear attack, according to J. M. Wilson, local Northwestern Bell Telephone company manager.

Civil Defense officials and the telephone company have agreed on the use of 43 telephone buildings in 35 communities in Minnesota as suitable locations for the program.

At each building, at least two telephone men trained by the company will measure the quantity of radio-activity, or "fallout," in the atmosphere following a nuclear blast. Kits for periodic measurements of the contamination are provided by the Civil Defense.

The men here who have been trained for this assignment in addition to their regular duties are Al Bacon and Frank Brown.

In case of nuclear attack these men will report their findings to Civil Defense officials to enable the government to chart the intensity and movement of the fallout. The data will also be valuable for Northwestern Bell in determining when it is safe for telephone technicians to repair outside damage.

Various governmental agencies and other industrial firms are also participating. The 475 present Minnesota sites are part of a proposed network of 150,000 monitoring stations throughout the United States in the radiological monitoring program established by the Office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense. Buildings are approved for the program only if they meet existing federal standards giving the monitoring personnel the best possible protection. Minnesota eventually will have about 1,000 stations.

Editorials . . .

"The wisest among my race understand that the agitation of questions of social equality is the extremest folly, and that progress in the enjoyment of all the privileges that will come to us must be the result of severe and constant struggle rather than of artificial forcing. No race that has anything to contribute to the markets of the world is long in any degree ostracized." —Booker T. Washington

When Given a Chance

It seems that a great many public "requests" are more imagined than they are real. We are so often told that government costs increase "because the people are demanding more and more services." We have tended to accept this explanation, with some reservations, since there is really no logical argument which can be given against it.

Wisconsin has now provided at least a little lever the taxpayer can use in objecting to "people's choice" taxation. That state recently held an advisory referendum to determine voter sentiment on a proposal to increase the state gasoline tax. Nearly a million votes were cast and the opinion of the voters was six to one against the proposed increase.

Gasoline taxes are among those somewhat less painful levies which are extracted on a pay-as-you-go basis, and we therefore do not pay a great deal of attention to them. In Minnesota the gas tax totals 10 cents per gallon, with four cents going to the federal government. A person driving 15,000 miles a year and averaging 20 miles per gallon (to use easily computed figures) would pay $75 in gasoline tax annually. This is a substantial sum.

Government has been operating on the theory that motorists don't mind paying this tax—in fact, that they are willing and even eager to pay it to finance road-building programs. Apparently the motorists in Wisconsin are not so eager—and we don't imagine they are much different in their desires than motorists anywhere else.

At any rate, the public desires are not always what politicians think they are, and the public can set the record straight when given a chance.

He Is On the List

Rep. Odin Langen, who has given rural Minnesota an audible voice in Washington, was placed on the list of "most wanted men" by a five-state regional labor gathering in Chicago recently. The labor leaders want Langen—but they want him out of politics where he has apparently not been catering to their every whim.

As far as rural Minnesota is concerned, the labor request for funds to help defeat the tall Congressman should serve as added endorsement for his reelection. The fact that metropolitan labor objects, for whatever reason it does, is in itself a recommendation for the independence and self-reliance of Langen, who insists on speaking up for what he believes is right. And because he studies situations before speaking and writing about them, he is usually right.

When speaking at the Northwestern Minnesota Farm Forum in Thief River Falls early this spring, Langen noted that he often embarrassed committee members by asking questions of witnesses. Too frequently, he said, the people appearing before committees with various requests didn't have the answers to these questions. Apparently the other committee members weren't too concerned about background of testimony given.

The Chicago labor meeting report didn't state why Langen has found disfavor with labor bosses. It could be because he asks too many embarrassing questions. Or it could be because he is more concerned about rural Minnesota than metropolitan areas in the Mid-West. Whatever the reason, the anti-Langen move in the labor organization could be the most telling argument in the Congressman's favor with his own constituents this year.

Notable Quotes

Across the editorial desk come a number of clippings and excerpts from editorial pages across the nation. Some of these are used as a basis for full-length editorials in this space. The following are comments from several newspapers which have been passed along to us:

"The nation has a right to ponder the fate of the leader of its largest labor union, recently convicted by a jury of trying to tamper with another jury. . . It is difficult to believe that a majority of the million and a half members of the union can conclude that the jury which convicted Hoffa was fixed or unfair. If Hoffa has to serve his sentence, we suspect that in time the majority of Americans who make up the membership of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters will realize that they have been misled on the emotional question of loyalty and brotherhood, substituting this emotionalism for sober judgement and the good of the country and the democratic system we all enjoy."

—Delmar, Del., "Bi-State Weekly"

"The continuing cry for an all out war to wipe out poverty is beginning to sound more and more like a political campaign slogan. . . The arbitrary poverty line has been drawn at $3,000 for a family of four or more. There are no doubt countless thousands doing very well on $3,000 or less, but it is obvious that the federal government is determined that these people must be informed of their 'poverty'. After all, if the federal government did not wage this educational campaign to tell people how poor they are, they might go for years, earning their own way, improving their own lot in life under our free system. But now that they know how miserable they are, they can just sit back and wait for the federal government to take care of all their wordly needs."

"Once upon a time there was an ant who worked hard all day in the fields. It was summer and the ant was busy cutting grass and dragging it home. The aunt had a grasshopper as a neighbor. The grasshopper lived on welfare and sat in his doorway singing all day. When winter came, the ant had a whole bale of grass. But the ant had violated the Federal Farm Law for overharvesting grass. He was fined $162.50 and the surplus was seized. The grasshopper received the surplus in exchange for his food stamps."

—Corsica, S. D., "Globe"

It Makes Sense

Several manufacturing firms have taken the lead in developing "soft" detergents—cleaning agents which readily break down and become harmless in hours after going down the drain. Known as "biodegradable" detergents, they are considered important in the movement to prevent pollution of the nation's water supply.

As the public relations department of one of these firms states: "It is only common sense to use a soft detergent when one is available. A farmer would never dig his well on the slope below his barnyard. The suburbanite would never discharge sewage into the pool his children use for swimming. Why should anyone pour pollution down every drain in the house when it is merely a matter of selection to keep from doing so."

The term "biodegradable" is now a selling point, and we may be assured that companies manufacturing "soft" detergents will capitalize on it. We do applaud their efforts, however, for conducting research and producing such an item before it is made mandatory by federal regulation. Wisconsin has already adopted a law, to become effective at the end of this year, regulating the sale of "hard" detergents in that state.

We would encourage housewives to look for the word "biodegradable" when purchasing detergents. If each person would cooperate in such endeavors, water pollution would be less of a problem for all of us. It makes sense to do what we can to help.

The Great Triumvirate

"Once, just once, before this old earth turns to ashes, we'd like to see a bureaucrat get a simple lesson through his head:

"The people and the taxpayers are the same; the government and the people are the same; the government and the taxpayers are the same.

"To listen to words from the Washington wind tunnel, you'd get the idea that these are three separate and distinct sets of bodies."

Your Office in Washington

by Congressman

ODIN LANGEN

The Washington scene was multifaceted this past month, covering everything from civil rights and prayer amendments to tariff talks and sugar quota proposals.

Perhaps most of the headlines concern the civil rights debate in the Senate. There is no way of knowing just when and how the log-jam over that controversial bill will be broken. And it is still too early to know just how much the House-passed measure will be amended before the Senate takes final action.

New Threat to Midwest Cattlemen.—Incredible as it seems, there is a bill before Congress that would authorize spending $22-million next year, plus millions more in the following years, to put 9.5 acres of land into grazing for the production of cattle. This comes at a time when our own cattlemen are losing money due to unwarranted imports of meats and a surplus of beef.

This proposal is contained in the bill to attack poverty in the Appalachian region. It's ridiculous to think we can help Appalachia by developing grazing land to raise cattle when the cattle industry already is suffering from the glut of imports. It is most inconsistent for the government planners to blame falling livestock prices to overproduction by our present cattlemen and at the same time recommend increasing production in a new area.

It's interesting to note that the Administrator of the Area Redevelopment Administration plus six members of the cabinet and other government officials have endorsed the complete Appalachian plan. ARA and Accelerated Public Works already have devoted over one-fourth of their funds in Appalachia, without success. This new ARA type of plan is merely one more gimmick that does nothing but spend your money on projects that will hurt your own area. We in the midwest want to help economically distressed areas of our nation, but we're not interested in turning our own area into another "Appalachia" in the process.

Pay Raise Bill Revived—The controversial pay raise for government employes has been given new life after being rejected by the House of Representatives. It's essentially the same bill, providing for salary increases for most government workers, particularly high level executives, Supreme Court Justices and Members of Congress. The new bill is essentially the same as before, except that the increase for Members of Congress would be $7,500 a year instead of $10,000. What we must remember is that every penny of increase under this bill must be borrowed at a time when your government runs in the red. A pay raise will not have meaning until government demonstrates the ability to hold down unnecessary spending and balance the National Budget. That's your money we're borrowing.

Visit to District Enjoyable — I had the privilege of returning to Minnesota last month for the annual Seventh District Republican Convention at Moorhead. It is always interesting to see a political convention in action, because it is an important process in our form of government that gives both parties a direction to follow in the selection of candidates and in the solution of problems that confront us in our efforts to keep the nation free and prosperous, and to strengthen our world leadership. The two-party system has made our nation great. It must continue to do so.

Sugar Bill In Hopper—I have introduced a bill that would increase the domestic sugar quota by 1½ million tons. The bill calls for 300,000 additional tons of sugar for domestic beet expansion, which would make it possible to build four or five additional sugarbeet plants in such areas as our own Red River Valley. An additional 820,000 tons would be allocated to the present growers, which would not only protect them from a possible cutback, but would provide for a modest expansion among the established growers.

Academy Exams to be Given July 13th—Young men of our 7th District who wish to be considered for possible appointment to the Air Force, Merchant Marine, Military or Naval Academies in 1965 are invited to take the written examinations on July 13th of this year. The examinations will be given at locations as near to the homes of the applicants as possible. Those interested should contact this office by June first. To be considered, an applicant must not be less than 17 years of age and must not have reached the age of 22 by the time he would enter the Academy on July first of next year.

Most Jobs of Future To Demand Training

The future is wide open for those who are ready. Multitudes of opportunities lie ahead for jobseekers, but most jobs of the future will demand people with "marketable skills," according to the "U.S. Occupational Outlook Handbook."

The day of the "I-can-do-anything" applicant is gone. The fastest growing occupations are those which call for the most education and special training.

A young man beginning a job or career today has 40 to 50 years of working life ahead of him. The boy who graduates from high school and goes on to college or receives training in some special skills (mechanical or barbering) is much better prepared for the competition he will face from the 26 million young men and women also beginning work during the 60's.

Today's young woman is likely to work for a large part of her life, too. At present, the number of women working is increasing nearly twice as fast as for men. By 1970, one third of all workers will be women, according to predictions. Most single women will spend 40 years at work; married women without children, 31 years; and married women who go back to work after their children are grown, 27 years. Thus, women too, will need as much education or special training as they can get. Examples of these are nurses, business workers or beauticians.

Perhaps the most easily understood pay-off in education is the probability of getting a good job or the increase in income that it brings.

A high school diploma is already a requirement in a great many jobs, yet 30 per cent of all young people in the U. S. never finish high school. These "dropouts" will spend a large part of their life seeking jobs that do not exist, and they will draw much of their below-average incomes from unemployment compensation and welfare payments. Not only will this bring unhappiness to these 7.5 million young people, but they will also be a drag on society, for automation is rapidly eliminating the jobs they can do.

Another 40 per cent of the young people in the working-world graduate from high school but do not go on to college or take specialized training. They fare a little better than the dropouts and can usually hold their own on the job market, though advancement is slow and limited. The life income of a high school graduate averages $1,300 more per year than that of a drop-out.

Top opportunities, however, go to the college graduates. They comprise 20 per cent of the young working force. Most of these young men and women find plenty of jobs waiting when they finish college. Many, in fact, are actually sought by company recruiters who invade college campuses. A college diploma will add an extra $3,500 per year to a graduate's life income. This additional amount alone exceeds the total income of many high school dropouts. Most college graduates have higher incomes than high school graduates with 20 years of working experience or than dropouts with 40 years working experience.

National Plowing Contest Slated

150,000 Expected for Contest West of Fargo

The biggest outdoor show ever held in North Dakota is shaping up for the Elmer Frasse farm, 32 miles west of Fargo in Interstate 94.

Already more than 15 acres (about seven city blocks) have been reserved by exhibitors who want to show their products at the National Plowing contest, Sept. 17-19, according to Robert L. Owens, vice-chairman of the plowing contest exhibit committee.

Owens announced this week that 51 exhibitors, representing most of the major farm equipment firms in the United States, have reserved space at the plowing contest site, and more are reserving space daily.

"We're overwhelmed at the response," said Owens, "but we have the space and facilities, and we're ready for them."

By mid-September a tent city will spring up on the Frasse farm, housing demonstrations, merchandise, shows and special performances, all designed to show the latest developments in the technology of farming.

Adjacent to the exhibit area will be a huge program area where the President of the United States and his Republican opponent are expected to make major farm policy addresses during the three day event.

Owens said that in addition to the exhibits there will be other facilities to accommodate the more than 150,000 persons expected at the plowing contest.

Wool Featured at the Greenbush Sheep Days To Be Held June 4

Wool production and marketing will be emphasized at the Greenbush Sheep Days June 4, 1964. A total of $50.00 is being offered in prizes to the top group of fleeces shown in the wool show. Plans also include competition for open class exhibitors in the pen of ten market lambs and for 4-H and FFE exhibitors in the market trio class.

Judging contests will start and informational booths will be open at 9:00 a.m. Five booths will be manned by authorities in the fields of: Sheep Diseases, Buildings and Equipment, Using Electricity, Wool Care and Handling, and Feeding and Nutrition.

Speakers for the afternoon program which begins at 1:00 p.m. will include Mr. Dick Boniface, of North Central Wool Marketing Corp., who will discuss "Wool Marketing." Dr. Robert Jordon, University of Minnesota "Wool Production," and Dunne Wilson Commissioner of Agriculture will discuss some things about "Your State Department of Agriculture."

LESSONS in laying concrete blocks were given by Wallace Etter to members of the Lincoln high school vocational agriculture classes last week. Following the demonstration, class members used class time during the week to practice with the materials which were stored in the school's farm shop. Paul Brown is the vocational agriculture instructor.

Warroad Indian, Said To Be 120, Feted on Birthday

Ka-Ka Gesick, the ancient Indian now living in a Warroad rest home observed his birthday anniversary Thursday. People attending agreed it was fun but no one is sure just what birthday they were helping hime celebrate.

Hospital records at Warroad list Ka-Ka Gesick as 116 years old. He is known to be more than 100 and other old-timers in the Warroad area claim he is closer to 120. His birthday anniversary was set by the Warroad village council when no one could pin-point his birthday. Ancient legend lists his arrival as "after the wild goose returns".

Prominently displayed at the birthday party was a land grant, signed by President Theodore Roosevelt, giving Ka-Ka Gesick a tract near Warroad in perpetuity.

Billboard Regulation on Interstate System

As of today 20 states have signed agreements with the federal government to regulate billboards along portions of the nation's 41,000-mile Interstate system of freeways. Of these, five states have started to collect the bonus of one-half of one percent of the federal share payable on those portions which qualify under the agreement.

Although the Interstate system was put into operation by the Federal Highway Act of 1956, it was not until the passage of the 1958 Act that the federal government was given the authorization to enter into agreements with the states regulating outdoor advertising adjacent to Interstate highways.

The intent of the federal government is clearly expressed in this policy: "To promote the safety, convenience, and enjoyment of public travel and the free flow of interstate commerce....It is declared to be in the public interest to encourage and assist the states to control the use of and to improve areas adjacent to the Interstate system by controlling the erection and maintenance of outdoor advertising signs, displays and devices adjacent to that system."

This means that if a state enters into an agreement with the federal government to regulate advertising along certain portions of the Interstate in accordance with standards set up by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, it will be eligible for reimbursement of one-half of one percent of the federal share of expenditures for engineering, right of way and construction. Incidentally, this reimbursement does not come from the Highway Trust Fund, but from the U. S. Treasury.

But perhaps the greatest benefit to a state is the federal aid for the acquisition of easements. The federal government will participate in the cost, on a 90-10 matching basis, up to five percent of the cost of the initial right of way.

Otter Tail Power Wins Advertising Excellence Award

The award was made last week at the association's annual convention in Minneapolis.

The company received the first-place award in its classification for a single public relations advertisement which ran in 155 daily and weekly newspapers in the company's service area in February of 1963.

More than 2,500 entries were received in this year's contest, the oldest continuous advertising competition in the world.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Doctor? Lawyer? Merchant? Already Bobbie's parents are planning for his future. They're saving to give him the best education obtainable,—because they want him to be happy and successful . . . a son to be proud of.

It would be splendid if a good education automatically led to happiness and success, but unfortunately it doesn't. Many well-educated men and women have failed utterly when it came to living a stable and worthwhile life, because they lacked the strength of character that would have sustained them.

There is no better training ground for the building of character than the Christian Church. There children are encouraged to follow a way of life that will not fail them, and to respect themselves and their fellows.

Give your child every chance to succeed. Make sure that his education includes a thorough knowledge of the time-tested Christian truths.

More than 250 entries by 4-H club and Future Farmers of America members are expected in the cattle show, according to Richard Hamilton, secretary of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association, sponsor of Dairy Day.

Thirty-six farm girls from 12 northwestern Minnesota counties are expected to compete for the title of Northwest Dairy Princess and an opportunity to enter Princess Kay of the Milky Way competition at the Minnesota state fair. Participating in coronation ceremonies on the afternoon of Dairy Day will be June Walter, Plummer, 1963 Northwest Dairy Princess, and Audrey Meyer of Clarks Grove, Princess Kay of the Milky Way.

This year the show will be moved from Second street just north of the city auditorium to the city parking lot located just west of Knight avenue between Second and Third streets. Cattle will be unloaded at the rear of the city arena on First street, just as they have in previous years, and the parking area there will be used for cleaning cattle before they are taken to the show site.

As a new innovation this year, pancakes and ice cream will be served by the Pennington county 4-H leaders' council beginning at 6 a.m. Exhibitors will be given tickets to exchange for the meal and non-ticket holders will be served for a nominal charge. Box lunches will also be available for exhibitors and their families.

Make It Yourself With Wool Event Opening Announced

Girls 10 through 21 Are Urged To Plan Entrance In Annual Sewing Contest

American Wool council has announced the opening of the 18th annual make-it-yourself-with-Wool contest for girls ages 10 through 21. Grand prize for 1964-65 is a 14 day trip to Paris, London, Amsterdam and Brussels. Other prizes to attract the young girl are scholarships, sewing machines, bonds, sewing equipment and wool fabrics from leading American mills. There is also the trip to Phoenix, Ariz., for the 41 winners.

Last year 11,141 girls modeled wool garments in fashion shows, using instruction given in classes throughout the country. Girls are given opportunity to test their skills and ideas in competition with other talented girls, providing motivation for their educational pursuits.

Uncomplicated designs of current casual fashions encourage young women to make and wear their own fashions. Contest participants have taught themselves the economy which comes from the investment of the application of their own gifts for creativity, according to Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent.

Any of the 100 per cent wool fabrics loomed, knitted or felted in America are acceptable in garments made entirely by the contestants. Smooth worsteds are gaining new fashion impetus. Names that are returning to the fashion vocabulary this year are sharkskin, cheviot, coverts, kashas, whip cords and tricotine. Flannels and nubbed and slubbed crepes have a renewed importance. This is what is new about wools for the fall season, Miss Offerdahl said.

County Agents Report . . .

Crop Conditions In Area Favorable

Stelmaschuk Says Planting Season Is Quite Normal

With the lilacs in bloom a week ahead of Memorial Day it cannot be said that this has been a backward spring. For comparative purposes, County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk checked the records of other years and came up with the following figures on planting dates in the area.

1956—General seeding started May 14. Completed by end of May.

1957—Early seeding started April 29. Interrupted by rains. By May 28 seeding was completed.

1958—First seeding reported March 28. General seeding started April 17. Heavy frost on April 25 and snow and rain on April 28 did not set the crop back too badly.

1959—Earliest seeding was reported April 15. General field work was underway by April 20.

1960—General field work started May 9.

Generally spring work starts in early May and is completed by the end of May, Stelmaschuk stated.

Crop conditions in the area are generally favorable, according to the county agents of Red Lake, Pennington and Marshall counties.

Seeding is well underway in Pennington county, according to County Agricultural Agent Paul Stelmaschuk. Some farmers in the west part of the county are nearing completion of spring work. West of Thief River Falls work started on a general basis last week. Heavy rains in the eastern part of Pennington county delayed seeding. There was a difference of one week in starting of seeding between east and west Pennington, Stelmaschuk reports.

Even though moisture delayed seeding, it was welcome after an abnormally dry fall. Pasture and hay meadows will benefit from the abundant moisture supply. The moisture situation changes rapidly with soil types and weather conditions. The ridge land west of Thief River Falls needs frequent rains to produce crops. Other lands, especially if improperly drained, will drown out under frequent rains.

Generally crops conditions are favorable although delayed about 10 days by rains. Seeding is expected to be completed by the end of May which is about average for Pennington county.

Seeding operations in many parts of eastern Marshall county were virtually complete by May 23, reports Martin Kasperson, Marshall county agent. There is extreme variation though, as some areas are only 15 to 20 per cent seeded by this date. Areas around Strandquist, Gatzke, Goodridge and Middle River have had excessive moisture and seeding in these areas has been delayed.

Where crops have been seeded early the grain is making good growth. Pastures and hayland have progressed rapidly in the last week and some haying will begin the last week of May or first week of June. Genrally speaking, crop outlook is good at this time, he states.

According to Elmo Skare of Red Lake County the bulk of the wheat is in the ground. An estimated 80 per cent of barley and oats and 40 per cent of flax and corn is planted. Whether or not wheat and barley will suffer from late planting will depend to a great degree on mid-summer temperatures and moisture.

Moisture is more than adequate with many summer fallowed fields

ESTIMATION OF INTELLIGENCE

Q. As a school principal I come into contact with children of various types. Are there any simple tests by which intelligence can be estimated?

A. Psychologic testing is highly specialized but it might be helpful to remember that the average 6-year-old can (1) tie his shoes, (2) distinguish between morning and evening, (3) tell what time school begins and dismisses, (4) repeat 4 digits. The average 7-year-old can (1) write a number of words, (2) distinguish months and seasons of the year and (3) repeat 5 digits forward and 3 backward. An 8-year-old can (1) name the months, (2) indicate another person's right or left, (3) classify in terms of similarity, and (4) read faster silently than orally. Abstraction is a sign of intelligence. The average child under 6 years of age can do little or no abstract thinking. When asked, "What is an apple?" the reply is likely to be, "Something to eat," or, "It is round and red and you eat it." The average 7- or 8-year-old will probably answer, "It is a fruit." Questions that demonstrate ability to do abstract thinking will help determine the child's intelligence.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. ROY LEE

French bread is the beginning of this somewhat unusual meat-filled loaf which is served right from the oven, steaming, bubbly and fragrant. It's especially good for a late lunch or a cool evening. It also suggests itself for a bridge luncheon, since the preparations can be made beforehand and the whole thing combined in short order just prior to baking time, leaving the hostess free to rejoin her guests.

FRENCH BREAD LOAF

1 long loaf French bread
1½ lb. ground beef (chuck or round)
two-thirds cup condensed milk (not the sweetened kind) ½ cup cracker crumbs
1 egg
½ cup chopped onion
1½ teaspoon prepared mustard
pepper to taste
1-cup grated American cheese

Scoop out the center of the loaf of bread, leaving about ½ inch all around. Mix all the ingredients (except the cheese) in a bowl, and spoon into the hollowed-out loaf. Wrap bottom and sides of loaf in aluminum foil. Bake 45 minutes in a 350 degree oven. During the last ten minutes of baking, sprinkle the cheese on top the loaf. When the cheese is golden brown, the loaf is ready to slice and serve.

The Lees have four children, Judy, 18, attends business school in Minneapolis; Sylvia is 14, Roger 10 and Mike, 6. Mr. Lee and the boys often hunt together, and during the summer they go golfing. Currently, an effort is being made to get Mom into the act, and she's out there swinging with the rest of them. Picknicking, expecially of the back-yard variety, is something they all approve of the enjoy together, and they are baseball and hockey fans. Young Roger is catching "puck fever," and the family is solidly behind him in his efforts. Mrs. Lee finds sewing relaxing rather than the chore some women consider it. She makes many of her own and the girls' clothes.

Members of Trinity Lutheran church, Mrs. Lee belongs to a church circle and in the summer she teaches vacation Bible school. Mr. Lee is in the plumbing and heating business.

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

I spent a pleasant evening in Bemidji recently enjoying the company of friends of Representative Ed. Chilgren, former publisher of the Little Fork Times. Ed. had announced his retirement from politics, having served his district in the state legislature 19 consecutive terms, a state record. His friends assembled to pay tribute to his long record of service to the area he represented and to the state as a whole.

For me the gathering awakened many pleasant recollections and some interesting reminiscing. Ed Chilgren was a leader among the liberals, and I of course classified as a conservative. Looking back over my 12 years of service in the legislature I can't recall any instance when the differences between the liberals and the conservatives degenerated into really bitter controversy. After the arguing was ended a friendly personal relationship somehow restored itself automatically.

Looking back over my own experiences it occurred to me that I had leaned heavily on the support of several liberals for projects in which I had an area interest. There were Ed Chilgren and Walter Day of Bagley in the House and Harry Bridgeman of Bemidji in the Senate—all of them old-timers in the legislature. They all were liberals, but I can't recall any instance when partisan division kept us from working together for what was best for northern Minnesota.

I am quite sure that not one of these members of the legislature had a college education. Maybe not one of them was a high school graduate; I haven't checked on this. But I do know that all three of them were well grounded in the fundamentals of the problems of our economic system and its social problems, and I am satisfied that the state was better served by their leadership than it would have been under the leadership of a group of college professors.

All three of them were dedicated men and did an outstanding job of representing the north-central area of the state. They understood the problems of the area they represented and always were reasonable in their proposals for its development.

But Ed Children's good reputation was not limited to his own district. His contribution to good government was recognized in other areas of the state, and in support of this statement I am glad to pass along the impressions of an editor whose paper serves a suburban area of the Twin Cities. John Suel, editor of the Shakopee Valley News had this to say about Ed Chilgren's voluntary retirement:

"Big Ed has served in the Minnesota House longer than any other man in the history of the state-38 years-and recently announced that he would not be a candidate for his 20th consecutive term—a term that most people believe would be his for the asking, if he again appeared on the ballot in Koochiching county.

"A native of Sweden, he came to Minnesota as a small boy about the turn of the century and served as both a school teacher and a logger before entering the newspaper business. He published the Littlefork Times for nearly half a century, and at one time also published the International Falls Daily Journal. He recently sold his newspaper to devote his time to "hunting and fishing".

"One of the most respected and honorable men that ever trod the Legislative halls, Chilgren was a power in the liberal group and served two terms as Speaker of the House. Yes, it should be a gala affair at Bemidji next Monday and we join in wishing Ed many years of happy retirement."

At a meeting held in Grand Forks last week representatives of five Canadian, North Dakota and Minnesota utilities discussed the possibility of organizing a giant electric power pool developing sources of power in Manitoba, North Dakota and Minnesota. As reported by the Grand Forks Herald, a study of the possibilities is under way and the engineers conducting the study will report to the managers of the 22 utilities that are members of the Midcontinent Area Power Planners in Winnipeg July 23-24.

Among the sponsoring organizations is Minnkota Power Cooperative of Grand Forks. Other sponsors include The Manitoba Hydro-electric Board, Minnesota Power & Light Co., Ottertail Power Co., and Northern States Power Co.

The expanded power facilities will come largely from the Nelson River in northern Manitoba but would also include lignite generating plants in North Dakota and possibly a nuclear plant in Northern Minnesota. The power from all of these sources would be distributed through an international grid providing dependable and low cost power for a vast area.

It is an interesting prospect and I am sure it would be in the best interests of our community.

Our two United States Senators voted against any further inquiry about the Bobby Baker scandal and the personal relationship that existed between Baker and the members of the Democrat majority he served as he accumulated his fortune. By voting against any further inquiry our two Senators in effect put themselves in Baker's class. He too pleaded the fifth amendment. He didn't want to be questioned either.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the voters supporting me in the school election at Goodridge on Tuesday.

PUBLIC OPINION

Dear Editor:

I am quite distrubed by the Becker Amendment as the House Joint resolution 693 is called. This proposed amendment to the constitution is a very serious threat to our liberties. It would open the way for any government official or public school teacher to sponsor religious activities in the office or school. I certainly believe in Bible reading and prayer and agree with the late President John F. Kennedy when he said that Americans ought to pray a good deal more at home and go to church more. However, I believe that Freedom loving Christians should oppose this amendment to the Constitution because it would weaken and perhaps destroy the First amendment to the Constitution which has ever protected the rights, both Christian and non-Christian, both majority and minority, in the field of religion in relation to the state. This amendment (Becker) is unnecessary, especially since the Supreme Court decisions do not prohibit voluntary prayer and Bible reading, and it could lead to establishment of a state religion.

As I said before, I am for Bible reading and prayer, but I am against the proposed amendment. Some people are obscuring the issue by asserting that atheists and Communists are opposed to this amendment. As much as I am for Bible reading and prayer, I do not think the state should force its conception of religion on any minority.

So, I think this bill goes too far. It would permit any government employee to inject religion into any "public document, proceeding, activity, ceremony, school, institution, or place." This is a repeal of the First Amendment which states that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion"?

I understand its proponents ~~reveal that it is their intention that~~ any government employee can determine the kind of prayer or the kind of religious service he would conduct, and if the citizens don't like the kind of religious service the government agent advocates, they can refuse to reelect him. In the case of school teachers, the voters would have to elect a school board that agreed with the religious convictions of the majority.

Hence, we can see how religion would be injected into every political campaign. It makes us realize what a blessing the First amendment to the Constitution has been and what a tragedy it would be if this safeguard were to be removed.

I am sure some of the proponents are earnest, sincere Christians who want just simple un-denominational prayers, etc., but we have to look further into the future and try to see what this can lead to. Let us appreciate our Bill of Rights our forefathers so carefully drew up and protect our freedoms by writing to our congressman and opposing an amendment that would lead to losing our religious freedom.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Maynard Molskness

P. S. I wonder why, according to a recent survey on modern textbooks, so many of them leave out some of the famous quotations made by our former patriots, such as "Give Me Liberty, or Give Me Death," by Patrick Henry, and "I regret that I have but one life to give for my country", by Nathan Hale. We need these appreciations for liberty instilled into our children as never before. We must beware of our precious liberties.

Dear Sir:

As a one-time resident of that area, I cannot get myself to beleive that you can spend more money on shoe laces than on the care of the retarded.

You spoke of them as the less fortunate. Is this all that can be said and done? Your local Mrs. Jaycees chapter contributed several hundred dollars. Is this enough? Are you satisfied that they are getting the care they are entitled to? These children are dependent on you and anybody else that can help.

This is not to criticize the Mrs. Jaycees efforts, God Bless their hearts, but the pitiful amounts that were received from that area for the operation of your local program.

Even the best psychiatrist can handle only about 50 patients at a time. Here at Cambridge, with a population of nearly 2,000 in its State school and hospital, only the services of one part-time psychiatrist can be bought by the State, and also 9 out of 10 of the 18,000,000 mentally ill in America do not receive even the most routine psychiatric therapy wake up people

Tell your government and friends that you don't want your brothers ~~and sisters put aside and forgotten~~. Ask your government to open their hearts and pockets here in Minnesota and all over America, before looking over seas to spend your taxes.

In America retarded people are entitled to these services and can get them with your help.

Retarded Ass'n. Will View Film Wednesday Night

"Toymakers", a film depicting the need for close ties between the community and mentally retarded persons in institutions, will be shown in Thief River Falls Wednesday. The film will highlight a meeting of the Pennington-Red Lake Association for Retarded Children to be held at 8 p.m. in the basement of the city auditorium.

Research has shown that a large majority of the retarded make more progress if they are able to live outside institutions, preferably with their families. The film shows the community's responsibility to be aware of the retarded person's needs and provide special facilities to meet those needs.

"Toymakers" also raises the urgent problem of the person in the institution who can return to the community only if proper facilities and supervision await him. All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting. Coffee will be served.

Annual Expedition

Goodridge Sixth Graders Make Tour to Twin Cities

Twenty-eight sixth grade students from the Goodridge elementary school took part last week in a trip to the Twin Cities and various points of interest enroute. The annual trip for sixth graders is a regular practice at the school and is designed to give them personal glimpses of the state they have studied in school.

"Each year it is more exciting and wonderful to go, it seems," stated Edna Omlid, sixth grade teacher, "for this class has been working and looking forward to it since they were in third grade."

Chaperoning the group were Miss Yvonne Wells, Gordon Henrickson, fifth grade teacher, and Edna Omlid. Justen Dahlen was bus driver for the trip which started Wednesday at 6 a.m.

Places visited enroute to the Twin Cities were the source of the Mississippi river at Itasca State park, Camp Ripley and Charles Lindbergh's home. Wold-Chamberlain airport and Cinerama were high points of interest for the students in the Twin Cities. Other places visited were the new public library with a special dome for astronomy demonstrations, the state capitol where a conducted tour was given, state historical society, memorial stadium at the University of Minnesota, St. Anthony Falls and Sibley house.

Time was provided for visiting stores in Minneapolis and swimming at the YMCA pool. On Friday the group returned to Goodridge. Some of the comments of youngsters making the trip, written especially for the Times, included the following:

Morrie Millar—"I liked the movie because everything seemed so real. It was about two families that were going West. They built a raft and went down the Mississippi river."

Patty Hardecopf—"In Lindbergh's home there are many historic things. In Lindbergh park there is a swinging bridge which we went over. We have all been in a world of joy on the last three days of our trip and I hope all the sixth graders to come have fun too."

Beverly Sigerud—"Best of all I liked Wold Chamberlain. We saw about three planes land and take off. I went on my first escalator at Wold Chamberlain....Boy, what a wind when it (a jet) took off. We were about 11 yards away from it when it went."

Kathi Wells—"I saw a lot of nice things on our Minnesota trip. I liked the Foshay Tower best. We looked down and Minneapolis was like a toy town. The cars were little, but the people were only about one inch tall."

Barbara Cullen—"The part of the trip that I liked best was touring Camp Ripley. Camp Ripley is 25 miles long and about 7½ miles wide. Camp Ripley uses over a million dollars on ammunition each year."

Bryan Wiseth—"We couldn't go swimming because it was after nine o'clock so they said we could play pool. After a while the girls came to the YMCA. Then they said we could go swimming. We were in there an hour. I enjoyed it very well."

Pam Hardecopf—"The best thing about the trip was Deer Town and Como Park. Even if we didn't see any deer, Deer Town was nice because of the raccoons, bears, skunk, peacocks and other animals."

David Dahlen—"The most interesting part in my trip was the capitol. In the capitol a man took us around and told us what each part of the capitol was made of. After he had showed us what each part of the inside was, he took us outside to see the golden horses."

Mike Holen—"That (Camp Ripley) is what I liked best. We saw many trucks and equipment. We saw some tanks and we went in one. The shells in the tanks are three feet long and cost $85 apiece."

Marie Parnow—"We went to Como Park on Thursday. Dianne (Nornes) and I went on the Tilt-a-Whirl. The first time Dianne wanted to go off before it started."

Darlen Appelman—"I liked everything, but I thought the swimming party was the best. I think this was the most exciting trip I've ever had."

Patti Johnsin—At the Wold Chamberlain airport we saw planes land and take off. Every time a plane left one came in. I took a picture of a huge plane leaving for Thief River Falls."

Roger Solberg—"Cinerama was colorful and beautiful. The Cinerama looked like we were right there I went to sleep for awhile."

Rebecca Heltne—At the Wold Chamberlain we saw airplanes take off and leave. We saw two passenger planes full up leave. It was lots of fun seeing and hearing the airplanes leave and come back."

Donnie Vrna—"We had fun at the Cinerama. It was a very high priced movie. The seats were very soft and the name of the story was "How the West Was Won." The pop was very high priced. One ticket was $1.80 and it was in color. For the whole class it cost $55.

A letter received by the class from the W. T. Grant company in Minneapolis, where the class visited, stated, "Your class of 1970 was the most polite, best behaved young adult group we have had the privilege of serving. We hope you enjoyed your stay in Minneapolis as much as we enjoyed having you."

Takes a Heap 'o Electricity...

This manager of a mink food processing company in Detroit Lakes, Minnesota, says it takes a heap 'o electricity to freeze and store their six to ten million pounds of mink food. He says, electricity plays a pretty important role in the mink food processing business. A lot of motors, compressors, grinders, elevators and washers are needed to process the food. They even use an electric stapler to package the frozen food for shipment. He is one of the thousands of businessmen in the area who enjoy the assistance of dependable, low-cost electricity as supplied by local rural electric cooperatives and generated by Minnkota Power Cooperative, Inc.

Baseball Prowlers Advance in Dist.

Pairings for this evening's semi-finals in the District 31 high school baseball tournament being played at Red Lake Falls will find the defending champion Thief River Falls Prowlers meeting the Red Lake Falls Eagles at 6 p.m. At 8 p.m. the Crookston Pirates will play the Warren Ponies. The tournament finals will be played on Friday, May 29, at 8 p.m.

In first-round tournament play on Saturday, the Prowlers were forced into an extra-inning game before defeating the Climax Vikings, 4 to 3; the Red Lake Falls team side-lined the Alvarado Indians, 3 to 0; the Crookston Pirates edged out the Goodridge Huskies, 5 to 4; and the Warren Ponies bested the Oslo Bobcats, 11 to 3.

Coach Ralph Skay's Prowlers had to make a come-from-behind effort to defeat the Climax Vikings in a tourney-opening game on Saturday morning, with Climax gaining an early 2 to 0 lead. In the first inning, Brian Amundson led off for the Vikings by looping a single behind second base. Bill Keller lofted a pop fly to shortstop Rick Jensen. Larry Solberg, a sturdy righthanded batsman, slammed a home run over the left-field fence, and the Vikings had their 2 to 0 lead.

The Prowlers overcame that deficit, and added a run to take the lead, in the fourth inning. Wayne Smith opened with a single to left field, Mike Benko flied out to left field and Karl Poppenhagen was a strikeout victim. John Hellquist, the Prowlers' captain, slashed a ground single past third base. Pitcher Jack Leedahl drew a walk to load the bases, and when Dave Ellingson also gained a walk, the Prowlers had a run with Smith being forced across the plate. Jerry Tronnes, a southpaw, came in to pitch, and Jensen greeted him with a single to center field, scoring two runs.

Climax knotted the game at 3-all in the sixth inning when, with the walking Tronnes on first base, Gary Peterson rapped a double to the corner in left-field. And in the ninth inning the Vikings made a strong bid to take the lead when Craig Knudsvig and Doyle Heden opened the inning with singles. Tommy Cummings was called in for relief duties, and the hard-throwing sophomore righthander responded by striking out Mike Nesvig, Amundson and Bill Keller.

The Prowlers won the game in the last of the ninth when Hellquist, hustling all the way, reached second base as his ground ball to first base was misplayed and booted out into short right field. Leedahl was out on a foul pop to third base and Ellingson was retired on a line drive that was corraled by the left fielder. Jensen drew a walk, and with runners on first and second, Don Mathieu lined a double into the alley between right and center field, scoring Hellquist with the game-winning tally.

Prowler Trackmen Win Dist. 31 Meet Friday

Rich Nelson Wins Four Medals for Solheim's Squad

Led by four-medal winner Rich Nelson (Nelson won the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash, the broad jump and ran a leg in the record-setting 880-yard relay), coach Roger Solheim's Prowlers, rolling up a total of 84 points, won the District 31 track and field title in the meet held in the UND stadium in Grand Forks on Friday. Crookston gained runner-up honors with 54 points. Red Lake Falls 12½ points; and Plummer had 7 points.

Five new records were set as the athletes were favored by ideal track and weather conditions. The Prowlers' junior hurdler, Jerry Forsberg, accounted for two of the new marks. In a preliminary heat he sped over the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.2; and in the 180-yard low hurdles, Forsberg set a new mark of 20.8. In the high hurdles finals, Forsberg, tripping over one hurdle, and pushing aside another, was disqualified.

Larry Joppru, a double winner for the Prowlers in the weight events, set a discus throw mark with a heave of 137 feet, 9¼ inches, bettering Brian Lofberg's old record of 136 feet, 11½ inches.

And the Prowlers' 880-yard relay team of Brian Collver, Rich Nelson, Bob Olson; and Jerry Forsberg, set a record in the time 1:36.3.

Mark Stromberg of the Prowlers was a double event winner, with the rangy sophomore winning the high hurdles event and the high jump. Joel Headley accounted for the other Prowler individual first, winning the mile run in 4:56.5.

SPEEDING to a new mark in the 180-yard low hurdles in the District 31 meet is, right, Jerry Forsberg of the Prowlers. The junior hurdler set a mark of 20.8 seconds, bettering the old mark of 21.0 set by Crookston's Herschel Lysaker in 1957. He also broke the record in a preliminary heat of the 120-yard high hurdles.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

A Welcome Visitor

Spending a day or two in town last week, greeting old friends and neighbors and teammates, was Lyle Guttu of the Prowler class of 1954.

Lyle, a graduate of Harvard University, where he was a three-year varsity hockey player, is studying at the Union Theological Seminary in New York City. And in addition he is doing welfare work in Brooklyn, specializing in boy's club activities.

During his high school days here, Lyle was an all-round athlete, participating in hockey, football, and track, but it was in hockey that he was at his best. And he continued to play a stellar brand of hockey when he went on to college.

Those of us who witnessed the state championship ice hockey game between coach Dennis Rolle's Prowlers of 1954 and coach Cliff Thompson's Eveleth Bears, and which was won by the Prowlers, 4 to 1, will never forget the hustling exhibition of hockey that Lyle turned in. And there are a number of us who feel that an injustice was done to Lyle when he was left off the all-state tournament squad.

That 1954 Prowler team, which posted a record of twenty wins and no losses, must be rated with the great teams that have played in the state high school hockey tournament. The team roared through the three games in the state tourney by scoring fourteen goals and giving up but three goals. In the opener, the Prowlers defeated Minneapolis South, 6 to 1; in the semi-finals, the Prowlers trounced South St. Paul, 8 to 1; and, as stated, defeated Eveleth, 4 to 1, for the title.

That team had Jack Hoppe, an all-state choice, in goal; Mike McMahon, an all-state selection, and Jim Zavoral and Les Sabo on defense. The two lines, and coach Rolle did not designate the lines as number one and number two, for they were of equal strength, were centered by Marv Jorde and Joey Poole, both of whom were given all-state tournament selections. Lyle Guttu, Sid Vraa, Darryl Durgin, and Bob Helgeland were the wings.

Well, it was surely fine to see Lyle again, and he appeared in shape to play a couple of fast periods of hockey. Coach Rolle always called Lyle the "hot rod". Lyle was enroute to Los Angeles where he was to visit with his parents, and perhaps have a visit with Crookston's Bill Taylor, a Harvard graduate who is now employed with Lockheed Aircraft in the Los Angeles area.

He Has a Point

Clare Lincoln (Nicky) Carlson, who can be relied upon to make some sharp and pertinent comments on sports events, has a point when he voices a complaint about the Minnesota Twins' traveling uniforms.

Nicky maintains that it would be better advertising for the state, and the team, if the traveling, or road, uniforms carried the legend "Minnesota" instead of, as at present, "Twins". The "home" uniforms could be labeled "Twins". And Nicky won't listen to the argument that the word "Minnesota" is too long to be placed on a baseball shirt. And he's right.

And another thing, wouldn't it be possible to work, or blend, the sky-blue color into the Minnesota Twins equipment. Remember when the Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball League introduced a blue that became known as "Laker blue"?

But Nicky has a point when he contends that the Twins "road" uniforms should feature the word "Minnesota".

Fishing

Austin Shanahan, a native of Thief River Falls but now a resident of Crookston, has a valid claim for the honor of catching the biggest fish during the week. Austin, who played football for the Prowlers in the late 1930's, was fishing off Wheeler's Point on Lake of the Woods last week when he caught a 20-pound sturgeon. Shanahan's fish was one of several sturgeon caught in the Rainy river last week, but his was the largest.

And I have heard some rumors about a "heavy" walleyed pike that was brought home by one of the fishermen in the Elks Club group. It seems that this fisherman, being particularly finicky about how his pike are filleted, always brings his fish home "in the round". And it seems that the boys were aware of this, and they conspired to stuff one of his pike with lead sinkers. When he arrived home he was in a bragging mood about the weight of one of his walleyes. "It's not very big, but surely has good weight". When he filleted this pike he came upon the lead sinkers, about a dozen or so, and now he is around challenging the boys to a duel, or something.

The pike fishing on Lake of the Woods has been continuing at a "limit catch" pace this past week. And except for the days when the blustery winds have blown the anglers off the lake, fishermen have been filling their limits with ease. And the boys are picking up some four and five pound walleyes, too.

DOUBLE event winner in the District 31 weight events on Friday afternoon in the tournament held in Grand Forks was the Prowlers' Larry Joppru. Joppru, a junior, won the shot put with a toss of 46 feet, 11½ inches; and set a new record in the discus throw with a heave of 137 feet, 9¼ inches.

Hunter Take of Sharptail Grouse Down from 1962

Total hunter take of sharptailed grouse and Hungarian partridge was down in 1963, game and fish director Ted Shields announced today. Tabulations of hunter report cards and license sales show a total bag of 43,000 in 1963 compared to 55,800 in 1962.

Comparative figures show a decrease in the Hun harvest from 29,300 in 1962 to 22,900 in 1963. The sharptail harvest dropped from 26,500 in 1962 to 20,100 in 1963.

Shields said that there were 341,000 licensed small game hunters in the field in Minnesota in 1963. Of these only about 10,000 hunted sharptails.

Upland game hunters do not usually go out to hunt Huns only. These birds are found in the pheasant and sharptailed grouse range and they are taken by sportsmen while hunting for these other species.

Stiffer Penalties Urged for Major Traffic Offenses in State

Stiffer penalties could be meted out to traffic law violators if the 1965 legislature enacts a bill currently under joint study by the Minnesota League of Municipalities and the Minnesota Highway Department.

The bill, if enacted, would increase from $100 or 90 days to $300 and 90 days imprisonment for major traffic law offenses. This would include driving while intoxicated or under the influence of a narcotic; hit and run; reckless driving; and driving after suspension or revocation of a driver license.

Highway department safety officials believe such a law, over a period of time, would discourage such offenses, thereby adding to safety on Minnesota roads and streets.

Stringent traffic laws, and their strict enforcement, have proved a major element in reducing major traffic violations and reducing traffic accidents. Norway is frequently cited as the most significant example of this.

In that country driving while under the influence of alcohol has become almost non-existent. Such driving carries a sentence of three weeks in jail for a first offense and revocation of license for one year. A second conviction in a five-year period brings permanent revocation of a license.

Connecticut is an example of stringent motor vehicle and driver laws resulting in a low traffic accident death rate. That state, with its tough laws, has the second lowest death rate in the nation, 2.8 per 100 million vehicle miles of travel. In comparison, Minnesota had a death rate of 5.2 per 100 million vehicle miles of travel in 1963.

Region Firemen's Meeting Is Held

Chief Langevin, Marshal Barry Speak at Roseau

Thief River Falls fire chief Roy Langevin and state fire marshal Patrick Barry were among 175 people attending the spring meeting of the Northern Region Firemen's association held recently in Roseau. Firemen and their wives represented 21 communities, some of them as much as 100 miles from Roseau.

In speaking to the firemen assembled for the dinner and program, Barry asked all fire chiefs to check the type of decorations being used at junior-senior proms. He urged department chiefs to be careful and complete when filling out fire reports and reminded firemen of the forth-coming firemen's convention to be held at Brainerd June 7-10.

Chief Langevin reported on the state fire school and noted that it was now being conducted almost entirely by instructors from within the state. Thief River Falls will host the next meeting of the association in August, with Stephen hosting the fall meeting and Warroad being host to the regional session in the spring of 1965. Chief Langevin serves as secretary of the association.

Garden Club at Middle River Has 25th Anniversary

Three Charter Members At Anniversary Program In Arvid Toren Home

Twenty-fifth anniversary of the Community Garden club of Middle River was observed recently when members gathered at the Arvid Toren home. Three charter members, Mrs. Ellef Sorter, Mrs. Florence Anderson and Mrs. Victor Anderson, were present for the anniversary event and have missed very few meetings during the 25-year history of the organization.

It was 25 years ago, on May 4, 1939, that the club was organized at the Ellef Sorter home. R. A. Reierson, Marshall county agent, helped to organize the club. Men gradually began dropping out of the club and it has been mainly a woman's organization for the past 20 years, now numbering 16 members.

A rose bush was given to the 11 members who formed the nucleus of the club and premiums were given to new members as they joined. The club has been a member of state and district horticultural societies since it was formed and has hosted the district meeting four times. Awards of merit have been earned by Mrs. Florence Anderson, Mrs. E. M. Evans and Mrs. Emil Peterson for their outstanding work in gardening and horticulture.

Several tours have been made to points of interest to club members. Present officers include Mrs. Florence Anderson, president; Mrs. Egil Peterson, vice president; and Mrs. E. M. Evans, secretary-treasurer.

Soo Line Reports Crop Conditions in Area as Normal

A Soo Line crop report covering northern North Dakota and northern Minnesota are about normal. Hard Spring wheat is in better than 60 percent and more than half of the durum has been planted. The report predicts a decrease of late flax.

Thruout the area served by the Soo Line moisture conditions as a whole are the best they have been in the past 13 years. No place is there a shortage of top soil moisture, the report states, and subsoil moisture is good in three-quarters of the area and adequate in the remaining 25 percent.

The report states:

"This being the first report, a resume of planting intentions are in order: for durum wheat in North Dakota 16 percent more acreage, South Dakota 10 percent more, Minnesota 39 percent more, and Montana 16 percent more; for hard spring wheat North Dakota 3 percent more, South Dakota 14 percent more, Minnesota 6 percent more, and Montana 3 percent less. Barley acreage will be down in all four states about 8 percent. Rye will be up 15 percent in North Dakota and South Dakota and down in Montana and Minnesota. Oats acreage will be about the same as last year. Flax will be about 9 percent less in Minnesota and South Dakota and the same as 1963 in Montana and North Dakota. Soybean acreage will be up 30 percent in North Dakota, Minnesota, and South Dakota. Corn will be about the same as last year. Potatoes and beets will see very little acreage change."

Against the Law To Dump Minnow Pails into Lakes

Law Prohibits Placing Fish in Public Waters Without Special Permit

Minnesota Game and Fish Director, Ted Shields, today urged fishermen to refrain from dumping the unused contents of minnow pails into Minnesota lakes and streams. Game and Fish regulations prohibit anyone from putting fish into any public waters except under special permit.

The law further prohibits the sale or possession of carp for bait purposes.

Releasing the contents of minnow buckets into state waters could easily result in the introduction of an undersirable species, thus damaging sport fishing, Shields said. Many species of fish, in addition to the usual bait minnows, have a habit of finding their way into minnow buckets.

The soft-hearted fisherman who wishes to save the lives of a few unused fish in his minnow bucket could be doing tremendous harm to the state's sport fisheries resources. Shields cited the many cases where carp have been introduced into good sport fishing lakes as one reason behind the law.

Another reason is to protect approximately 100 reclaimed trout lakes now planted with rainbow or brook trout. The introduction of any other species could destroy the efforts to supply additional trout fishing in these lakes.

Fishermen are urged to trap or buy only the minnows they intend to use. But if they end their fishing trip with a few minnows left in the bait bucket, under no circumstances should they be released in lakes or streams.

An estimated two million Americans now living have survived a stroke and many are back at work The Minnesota Heart Association says.

Too Much Sun Can Be Harmful!

Warning: Be moderate about time spent in the sun, for constant exposure to strong sunlight changes skin texture and can coarsen it.

The Minnesota State Medical Association says that although sunshine is beneficial in small doses and makes you temporarily look healthy and attractive, studies do definitely indicate that too much sun will speed up the aging and wrinkling of your skin, as well as giving you a miserable sunburn and even a possible sunstroke.

Don't try for "instant tan". You'll get a bad burn and also dry some of the natural oils of the skin which keep it soft and flexible. Instead, sun gradually — a few minutes a day for a week or so — until you have acquired a healthy tan. At first, go out before 11 A.M. or after 3 P.M. when the sun's rays aren't so strong.

Editorials . . .

"Every young man should have this sentiment planted and nourished in him, that he is to regard himself as one of Nature's failures, but as also a proof of her great and wonderful intention; she succeeded ill, he must say to himself, but I will honor her intention by serving toward her better future success." —Schopenhauer

More on Beef Imports

Recently provided to us was a copy of "The Cattle Crisis", a compilation of articles from the Omaha (Neb.) "World-Herald". The articles were written by Howard Silber and Darwin Olofson of the World-Herald staff after extensive study of the situation throughout the United States. Their conclusions are based on study, and they are concerned because the beef industry is a vital one to the newspaper's area.

An editorial published on February 16 stated, "Just one of the many discoveries they made is that the volume of imported beef in 1963 was large enough to satisfy the needs of every consumer in America for one whole month." This referred to imports in 1963 which saw a record of 1,750,000,000 pounds of beef swamp the United Sates market.

Production of fed beef in the United States was 11 percent higher in 1963 than in 1962. When this is considered in addition to the vast increase in imports, it is not difficult to see how cattle prices have become depressed. A study of market prices at 12 principal markets showed that from January 1963 to January 1964, steer prices had dropped from $25.72 per cwt. to $21.63 per cwt. and heifers had dropped from $24.94 to $21.02.

The import beef situation has other implications. Suppose the 1,750,000,000 pounds of imported beef had come from animals raised in the United States. This would be somewhere between 3½ and 4 million cattle. They would have consumed more than 20 billion pounds of feed grain equivalent—mostly surplus feed grain. Had these cattle been produced in this country, they would have provided more than 100 million additional man hours of gainful labor in a nation which is considered to have a serious unemployment problem, the World-Herald research shows.

Americans are not guiltless in this import business. An Australian in Washington called it "...a marriage of Australian land and other resources with American capital, experience and resourcefulness." In the last several months the Australian government had received at least 20 inquiries from American cattlemen or cattle interests about the possibilities of ranching in Australia.

American management techniques have reduced Australian cattle loss percentages and have increased the calf crop percentage. Australian land costs run as low as 11 cents a head a year. In the United States a conservative minimum is $25 in land costs for every calf born. A number of big-money cattle interests are already deeply involved in Australian cattle production. Nearly half of the beef imported by the United States last year came from Australia. In 10 years that country has increased shipments of beef and veal to the United States by more than 32 thousand per cent. In the last five years the net weight of Australian beef has climbed from 18 million to 517 million pounds.

The USDA, in a recent report, said the farmer who fed a steer calf to choice weight during 1962-63 marketed the animal for an average of $1.46 more than the direct cost of the calf and the feed it ate, plus transportation and marketing expenses. This $1.46 had to take care of such things as interest on the bank loan which made the purchase of the calf possible, depreciation of equipment and improvement, taxes, insurance, death losses, water costs and labor. The World-Herald reports, "It didn't come close."

It is hard to determine just how much the imports have affected prices. One thing is sure. If a person has a meal of imported beef, he would not stay at the table to eat a second meal of American-produced beef. No matter which way politicians try to explain away the problem, it still remains that a given number of people will eat a given number of meals including a given amount of meat—irregardless of where the meat comes from or what form of edible product it has. And Congress or the administration will not be making any changes in policy unless the people put on the pressure—which should be easier in an election year than in the future.

Kids Grow Up

Girls and boys grow up to become women and men—if they are given the chance. There is nothing more precious to parents than the health and lives of their children. Safety emphasis, to help our community's youngsters grow up to become men and women, is now an item of concern to local officials.

There is nothing really new about a warning to parents to keep their children off the streets and railroad tracks and away from the river and other danger spots. Actually, the warning should not be needed, for who should express more concern than parents themselves?

Apparently there is need for a reminder, however. Particularly in areas where there is an abundance of youngsters, motorists have expressed concern about children playing along or in the streets. Too often there are very young children, inexperienced in the ways of traffic, who are left to wander in the neighborhood without adult supervision. This is an open invitation to a tragic accident—and it is to the credit of motorists that the city hasn't had more serious mishaps.

There are few parents who have not been guilty, at one time or another and for one reason or another, of letting young children take a chance with traffic. Perhaps a concentrated effort—a citizens' safety movement—could be started to alert parents frequently to the dangers involved to their children when left to play outdoors by themselves.

Local officials recognize that children will be children, and as children will do foolish things and take unnecessary chances. It is impossible to guard entirely against such possibilities. But the regular practice of letting toddlers play in the street or young children wander at will through the neighborhood must be considered irresponsible parenthood. This is a crime against our community's children.

Let's get a safety campaign rolling. Let's make parents aware of the dangers involved. And, for heaven's sake, let's get it started before one of our children loses a limb or a life to awaken us!

Welcome, Jim Foley

For too many years the city has gone without a complete recreation program. We have been blessed by interested individuals who have done what they could with what they had, but this has been volunteer effort which is necessarily limited. As a result, many things which could be done have been left undone.

Now the city has hired Jim Foley as a full-time recreation director. We welcome this St. Paul native to God's country, northwestern Minnesota, and look forward to seeing recreational opportunities blossom into fruits of activity.

Our community has a good park system. We could use more playground areas, but what community couldn't? The value of Tindolph park, for instance, is evident all summer when we see people who have driven for many miles to make use of it. Local residents also find the swimming beach and picnic area a summer attraction.

The park and playground facilities we do have did not simply appear by accident. Much of the credit for our park program should go to one Roy Barzen, a veteran park board member, who has had more than one verbal battle with past city councils. Hindsight is a gift of many people, but foresight is much more of a rarity. And trying to translate foresight into words acceptable to a governing body entrusted with public funds is not an easy task. The community can be grateful that Roy, and others, have been able to accomplish at least some of their objectives in relation to parks.

Now it will be the job of one of the community's newest residents, Jim Foley, to coordinate the facilities, the enthusiasm, the knowledge and the people into a workable recreation program. The community should not expect miracles in the recreation field. A comprehensive program can't be expected to materialize overnight. Good luck, Jim, and best wishes for a successful program in Thief River Falls.

On Making Decisions

From the Minnesota Hotel and Motor Hotel association in Minneapolis come these "30 Ways to Avoid a Decision". We suggest you clip and save it so that it will be a ready source the next time you are confronted by a decision. Here are the 30 ways listed:

(1) We tried that before. (2) We've never done it before. (3) I know a fellow who tried it. (4) We've always done it this way. (5) It's too radical a change. (6) Why change it? It's still working okay. (7) We did all right without it. (8) It's too much trouble to change. (9) Our place is different. (10) We lack authority to change; (11) Top management wouldn't go for it. (12) The men will never buy it. (13) The union will scream. (14) Customers won't like it. (15) We don't have the time.

(16) Not enough help. (17) It costs too much. (18) It would run up the overhead. (19) It isn't in the budget. (20) We're not ready for that. (21) Let's put it in writing. (22) We should test it first. (23) A committee should study it. (24) Let's give it more thought. (25) Let's all sleep on it. (26) Shelve it for the time being. (27) You're right, but . . . (28) Good thought, but impractical. (29) It can't be done. (30) It's impossible.

They Told Me I'd Get A Set Of Stainless Steel Cookware
"If they could put siding or roofing on our house"

WARNING!
The 'Itinerant Salesman' and 'Peddlers' Are On the Road

Like the grizzly bear, the "itinerant salesman" comes out of hibernation each year with the advent of warm weather. Like the bear, they are "hungry" after a long time without food, and they are on the road now . . . "peddling everything from house siding jobs and house and barn roofing jobs to farm fire alarm systems, cesspool dredging and "attractive" painting deals.

In many cases, to "close a deal," these people offer "shiny premiums" . . . just for signing up. And in many cases, the contract you sign for work you expect done is "loaded" with fine print, which again in many cases protects not you — the buyer — but which contains an "out" for the vendor.

Such home improvement work as new siding on a house, or a re-roofing job, or chimney rebuilding, are too important for a hasty decision made as a result of high-pressure salesmanship. In this field, the local firms represented below are entirely capable of furnishing you with any of the materials or workmanship you can secure anyplace else. These firms are your friends—people you know — and they are part and parcel of our community. So, if you find yourself in the act of making a "hasty decision," take time to think it over. You can very likely "do better" right here at home.

Council Calls for Bids on Natural Gas and Airport

Meeting in adjourned session Tuesday evening, the Thief River Falls city council issued a call for bids on a natural gas service franchise for the city. Bids will be opened on June 30 at 7:30 p. m. when the council will hear testimony from firms interested in supplying Thief River Falls with natural gas.

Bids were also called for on the municipal airport improvement project with bids to be opened Tuesday, June 23, at 2 p. m. The council will meet the same evening to further consider the bids. Improvements call for widening and lengthening the main runway, surfacing of entrance road and parking lot, extending surfacing on the apron and other related improvements.

The council also decided to have the city sprayed for cankerworms as soon as FAA approval can be received for the low altitude flight required for aerial spraying. The DDT mixture used for cankerworm control will also be effective against mosquitoes and other insect pests. City crews are also expected to start this week in using the fogging equipment for mosquito control.

Following presentation of feasibility reports on several street projects by D. H. Stewart, city engineer, the council called a hearing on the three projects for Thursday, June 18, at 7:30 p. m. Projects involved and estimated cost on each include Birchlane Drive, $12,400; Markley av. N. and Boy Scout park, $10,600; and the southwest area of the city including Knight, Duluth, Arnold and State avenues, $150,600.

Notification was received by the council from the state railroad and warehouse commission that the commission had authorized discontinuance of passenger service on the Soo Line railroad from Thief River Falls to Oslo. The commission noted, however, that there would be no change in the schedule of freight service without author-

AWARDED a B. C. Gamble "scholarship in salesmanship" this week by Stan Pladson, left, manager of the local Gamble store, was Paul Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Peterson and 1964 graduate of Lincoln high school. Also pictured is Robert Reeve, senior high school counselor. Peterson received the $350 award for having demonstrated salesmanship ability in high school projects during his senior year. Pladson won the right to award the scholarship in a one-month sales contest last year.

Cankerworms Are Causing Damage To Trees in City

County Agent Recommends Spraying If Leaves Are Being Damaged by Worms

Cankerworms are stripping elm and apple trees in Thief River Falls, according to Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent. They are also eating holes in leaves of oak, ash, poplar and almost all deciduous trees.

The worm is usually as thick as lead in a pencil, although more mature worms are thicker and longer. They are green in color and are usually suspended from a filament, like a spider web thread. On one leaf in a yard in the city, six worms were observed, attached to ribs of a stripped leaf.

All residents are urged to check their trees for holes in the leaves. If the leaves are being damaged, spraying with DDT is recommended. Apply DDT with a hand sprayer to small trees using one to two tablespoons of DDT per gallon of water.

Attachments can be purchased for water hoses which admit a little chemical into the water and the water pressure is used to reach the tops of trees. For large groves of trees and farm yards, airplane spraying may be the most practical. Use one part of 25 per cent DDT emulsion to four parts of water when using airplane spraying.

DDT also controls most other worms and mosquitoes, so farmers may want to spray yards for these pests as well. Trees which are defoliated in two consecutive years are usually killed because of food exhaustion from the roots.

Bruce Gilbertson Edits Yearbook

Bruce Gilbertson, a freshman from Thief River Falls, has been elected editor of the 1965 Moorhead State College yearbook, "The Dragon," succeeding Pearl Walrath of Wheaton who has served as editor during the past year.

Gilbertson is a graduate of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls where he was co-editor of "The Prowler."

Jaycees To Stage Car Safety Check Here on Thursday

Thief River Falls Jaycees will sponsor their spring vehicle safety check Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. The check will be held on First street between Main and LaBree avenues, according to Audrey Johnson, chapter project chairman.

"This check of mechanical equipment on motor vehicles is entirely voluntary," Johnson said, "but we encourage motorists to have their cars checked and join the Circle of Safety. Check your car, check your driving and help check accidents."

Safe cars and safe drivers are both necessary to prevent accidents, the project chairman added. Check lanes will be arranged on the street in the one-block area by the city police department. Mechanics from the city's cooperating garages will assist in the vehicle check. Vehicles with all items in safe condition will receive a 1964 safety check window sticker.

"More than a half million vehicles checked in the 1963 nationwide safety check needed immediate attention to one or more of the items affecting safe driving conditions," Johnson added. "Items safety checked are brakes, front and rear lights, turn signals, stop lights, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers, rear view mirror, horn and seat belts.

"Discovering unsafe vehicles now will permit owners to have dangerous conditions corrected before they become a factor in a traffic accident. Many motorists don't know they are driving cars that endanger themselves, their families and their community. A safety check is a convenient way to find out if their cars are in safe condition," Johnson added.

Last year safety checks were conducted by 3,600 communities, counties, military installations, industrial plants, governmental agencies, youth groups, new car and tire dealers and other organizations.

Earlier in the year, Miss Gustafson was awarded a scholarship to study German in Vienna, Austria, during the summer of 1964.

School District Rejects Bids on Remodeling Plans

All bids submitted on improvement projects for the Thief River Falls school district were rejected by the board of education following opening of bids Tuesday afternoon. Bids were considered to be too far above the estimate to be accepted.

Three bidders offered proposals on two projects, the first for construction of a new school bus garage and the second for remodeling in Knox elementary school and the area vocational - technical school. Estimates were $81,000 for the school bus garage and $39,000 for the remodeling.

Bids received included those of Adolphson and Peterson, $87,600 on bus garage and $74,900 on remodeling; Prichard Bros., $84,613 on bus garage and $68,990 on remodeling; and Ranum Construction, $86,465 on the bus garage and $67,662 on remodeling.

The board issued a separate call for bids on remodeling at the Knox school but deferred action on the other proposals. In the only other business transacted, A. H. Sollom of Thief River Falls was hired as an instructor of history in the senior high school.

More 4H Members & Homes Needed For 4-H Exchange

More 4-H'ers and homes are needed for the Pennington county 4-H exchange with St. Louis county, according to Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent. The exchange will take place on June 15-22. Cost of $2 each will cover insurance and lunch on the way home.

There is a large difference between Duluth and the Red River Valley. The exchange will provide an economical vacation and an educational experience for the 4-H members.

This type of exchange means a 4-H member lives in the home of a 4-H family in St. Louis county and in exchange a 4-H member from St. Louis county lives in a 4-H home in Pennington county for this week.

Anyone who is interested in the exchange must contact the Pennington county extension office by Friday.

County Awards Contracts for Road Projects

The Library Corner

Collections...momentos of the past and significant expressions of the present...are two more reasons why you should visit your library this week. A collection of books is always available. Private, and very personal items such as those belonging to Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Joyner, are not on view every day in the year. Those who look upon the history of our country as one of the most interesting, and heartbreaking, stories ever told will be greatly interested in the Civil War story unfolded by the case display.

Art enthusiasts will be thrilled with the showing of various artistic efforts of the senior students enrolled in the classes of Donald Lerud. The varied media, the originality and the technique displayed is evidence of the caliber of talent a great many of our young citizens are developing under the guidance of Mr. Lerud, a most accomplished artist, as those who visited the recent show at the library will attest. Mr. Lerud has the ability to impart his knowledge to those just beginning to discover their own talents. Many people from the surrounding area have been greatly impressed by the number of students with more than average capabilities in the art field. If you have only a little spare time, use it to advantage...see the two displays.

Summer fun time, so different from our north country winter sports, takes in a wide variety of outdoor activities. Golf, either for spectator or the whole family can participate. "Ben Hogan's Five Lessons" is a book to read, regardless of your links category. The fundamentals of golf, grip, stance and swing, are explained for the layman in this book by one of golf's greatest.

Archery, another family sport, though year-round, is excellent for summer-fun, because if your so desire you can stand in one spot, neath a shade tree. Then, as you aim at a target supported by another shade tree, effort is at a minimum but fun, at a maximum!

The landlubber turned water sportsman will want to read "Canoe Camping" by Handel. This gives you all the hows, whys and wheres of this ancient mode of travel, which enables you to reach the peak of enchantment.

Family groups enjoy camping... it has become the favorite outdoor sport of the wealthy (and the not-so-wealthy) because of the great pleasure of sharing nature and the great pleasure of cutting expenses. If you've a mind for camping, make sure you avail yourself of the Rand McNally "Campground Guide"...you'll know where to go to pitch your tent and what you'll find when you arrive. Facilities, activities and location of more than 8,000 campgrounds in the U.S. and Canada are listed.

In the same vein of thought is the book of George S. Wells, "The Fun of Family Camping" which doesn't dwell on "where", but more on "why". His descriptions of his own camping pleasures, accompanied by his family, makes even those who long for the comforts of luxury hotels think twice before making reservations! Mr. Wells makes his family-camping-fun a pleasure you'd not like to miss yourself.

Fishing, and all it entails, is described in two excellent books available at your library. There's Robinson's "Fly Casting" and "Minnesota Fish and Fishing." Both are excellent, for the old and experienced, or the untried angler. (In case you should catch one or two, there's another volume you might need...it carries descriptions and photos of species. Ask for "northern Fishes" if you want to know what you're carrying on your stringer.

Whether you are driving along or sitting pretty, or standing in the center of a trout stream or rowing around a lake, there are always birds to watch and identify. Two excellent volumes are "The Book of Bird Life" and "Bird Portraits in Color". The former by Allen and the latter by Roberts will add much to your enjoyment of those flying overhead. (There is also a volume on "plane identification" if you become confused!)

Summer activities, which are what we've been telling you about, bring to mind the summer hours of your library. Remember, this year as in the past, your library will be open for your summertime pleasure from noon until 7 p.m., Monday through Friday. Your library will not be open on Saturday May 30, Memorial day, or any following Saturday until September. Get your books anytime from noon to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Remember your three "R's" for summer are "readin', restin' and relaxin'."

Public Opinion

Dear Editor:

Reading your paper lately has caused me to wonder, and in no small amount to be concerned. Your recent issue carried large ads and displays giving high praise and compliment to the recently completed addition to the hospital, and those connected with it. This support and praise was from local businessmen and citizens as well as from those in related activities outside our community.

I have not yet had the opportunity to go through and see this addition and the new facilities. However, I am told they are very good and that the enw equipment and treatment facilities do much in keeping our community abreast in development and providing the kind of care and consideration our people should have. This is good, and from the displays in your paper and the attitude expressed by the people of the community I am sure this is what we as a community want.

Your paper, in recent issues, has been sarcastic and critical of the APW program. Without this program we could not have our expanded hospital as it now is. Here is where my concern lies. Which expresses the true needs and desires, and consideration for the people of our community? I'll take the hospital.

Another of your editorial gems was something to the effect that Representative Langen is usually right, and that he deserves support just because he is at odds with labor. Time and space does not permit me to go into detail on the former. May I just say you must know a different Langen than I do. One small example. He has continually harped and hollared against Freeman and imports as the cause of our depressed beef prices. (Of course, he offered nothing himself). Well, the Wall Street Journal tells us that imports are down 35 per cent since March and did our beef prices recover? No, they went on down.

Incidentally, the Langen I know also voted against our hospital by voting against APW. (Counting the ads in your paper, you should be in favor of APW program). As to the second part, that Langen deserves support because he is against labor, to me this is more "gone" than the Beatles. Certainly labor has its corrupt, such as Hoffa, who is accused of stealing from the members. But business, or any group, has the same, such as Marvin Kline who is convicted of stealing from crippled children. This has no reflection, and is no basis for evaluating the countless number of honest, community-minded members of labor, including those in Mr. Langen's district.

In summing up, I find it hard to believe your paper, or Langen, deserving favorable consideration just because they are continually against something. Nor that either truly represents the feelings and desires of the people. There is one difference. I can not vote against your paper this fall.

Yours truly,
Lloyd Nelson

Dear Sir:

It is fortunate for this community that there apparently is not the proselytizing of vocal music directors as there is among athletic coaches on the secondary education level. For which all of us can be immensely grateful.

I do not pretend to be a competent music critic but I can attest with heart-felt sincerity to my appreciation of the presentations of recent years and the obvious excellence of the direction.

Not all teachers hew to a criterion of professional competence, either by lack of ability or lack of enthusiasm. When one attains it and exceeds it, those interested in education can do nothing but make mention of it in loud language.

All of our five children have been exposed to the talents of Bryant Ulseth. It has been most gratifying to watch the development of their interest in vocal music and whatever talent they started with.

It is apparently safe for me to speak on behalf of many parents in expressing thanks and admiration to a most competent educator.

Sincerely yours,
Ken Gustafson

Social Security Cards Should Be Secured First

Students entering the labor market should get social security cards first, advises Clifford Kittelson, district manager for social security. Application blanks for cards are available at local post offices or at the social security office. Those who have lost their cards need to complete application blanks for duplicates.

Employers ordinarily want the employees' social security numbers before putting them to work.

Earnings cannot be credited to a social security account without a number. Employees, therefore, should do their part to be sure that they will receive full credit for their earnings under social security.

Mr. Charles Fahlberg, a representative of the Grand Forks district office of the social security administration will be in Thief River Falls, Minn. at the City Auditorium on June 2 from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Bids Received by State for Trunk Highway Projects

Apparent low bids totaling $11,683,672 have been received on 30 trunk highway projects, the Minnesota highway department announces. The bids were among 153 submitted at the May 15 construction letting in the department's central offices in St. Paul.

The projects involve work on 175½ miles of highways, construction of 13 bridges, bridge piers, building removals, installation of traffic signals and lighting systems, roadside planting and installation of a pumping station.

Four of the projects are in excess of $1 million.

One of the projects is in Marshall county and calls for plant-mixed bituminous surfacing on highway 220, extending over a distance of seven miles between the west junction of highway 1 near Oslo and Big Woods. The apparent low bidder was the Ness Construction company of Mahnomen which bid $53,380. Work is to start June 15 and be completed in 25 working days.

Committee Views NSWA To Study Present Facilities

12-Man Group Charged With Phasing-In Plans For Technical Institute

The 12-man committee from the University of Minnesota, charged with phasing in a 2-year technical institute at the Northwest School of Agriculture located at Crookston, was hosted at a dinner meeting recently by the steering committee of the Northwest Educational Improvement association.

The university group visited and held meetings at the Northwest school campus to study present facilities and to study which courses might best be adopted.

T. E. Hagen, president of the Northwest Educational Improvement association, who presided at the dinner meeting, said he hoped curriculum for the proposed institute would include courses in technical agriculture, agri-business and various medical courses, including a course for registered nurses.

Sen. Harveydale Maruska and Rep. Harvey Wilder both pledged their support of the technical institute. University of Minnesota Regent Herman Skyberg said such an institute would be an exciting adventure in education for the State of Minnesota. He said such a facility would bring the people of this area much closer to the "great University of Minnesota."

Those attending, in addition to the university committee, were a number of businessmen, educators and legislators from this area.

Pope Co. Home Agent To Retire

Mrs. Olive Opp, Pope county home agent for 15 years and assistant professor on the University of Minnesota staff, will retire this summer. She was honored Tuesday evening, May 12, by fellow home agents and members of the university extension home economics staff at a dinner in the Campus club in Coffman Memorial Union.

Mrs. Opp was the first home agent in Pope county, a post she assumed in February, 1949, and is also the first Minnesota home agent to retire.

Holiday Ahead—Urge Special Care for Safe Driving

Speed, following too closely, and failure to yield right of way provided the contributing circumstances in 50 per cent of the accidents that occurred during the four-day Memorial Day weekend in 1963, when three persons were killed and 42 persons injured in Minnesota traffic accidents.

Drinking was involved to some extent in 15 per cent of the accidents and in two of the three fatalities.

With a Memorial day weekend coming up, the safety division of the Minnesota Highway Department is calling upon all citizens of the state to join in a concerted effort to make this first holiday of the season an accident-free period. Only by instilling in every driver a sense of his responsibility for himself and others, can such a desirable situation be accomplished, the department pointed out. All safety experts agree that it is the individual rather than any group that must develop the attitude, skill and integrity necessary for a good, defensive driver.

Patrol to Enforce Law on Littering

Instructions to all members of the Minnesota highway patrol to start immediately an active and aggressive enforcement of the law against littering the highways have been issued today by Garnet E. Hall, safety director of the Minnesota Highway department.

"The department's maintenance crews are nearing the end of their annual spring housekeeping chores on the highways," said Hall, "and the cost runs between $300,000 and $400,000. With public attention focused these days on keeping our highways attractive, especially during the heavy tourist season, we intend to support the efforts and investment of our highway department in these beautiful roads."

The average annual cost of litter pickup alone is $200,000.

Mild Winter Reduced Frost Heave Damage on Highway System

Minnesota Highway Department has a special kind of proof that the past winter was a mild one. Completion of an important experiment on TH 25 west of Minneapolis, which was started last August, depended upon a lot of cold weather and a lot of precipitation, but there was not enough of either. Hence, the results were inconclusive.

The experiment is aimed at eliminating frost heave areas on highways by use of a styrofoam-type insulating material. Last summer, department crews excavated two hazardous frost heave areas down to the sub-grade road bed. They placed 2x8 foot sections of two-inch poly-styrene insulation on the bed, and covered it with 12 inches of gravel base and four inches of bituminous surfacing.

It is hoped the insulation will keep frost from penetrating the road bed and causing a heave in the road surface.

Frost heaves generally occur in the same location on highways year after year unless corrected. The usual method of correcting them is to excavate the trouble spot and fill it in with three or four feet of gravel. But this takes a lot of time and a lot of gravel.

No frost penetrated the polystyrene the past winter, but it will take severe winter conditions to determine the true value of such insulation.

Council Calls For Airport Bids, Gas Franchise

ization from the commission.

A petition was received for street improvements on Riverside avenue and the council called for a feasibility report on that proposal. D. H. Stewart was authorized by the council to contact the Minnesota highway department relative to repair of state highways in the city. It was noted that there are several sections of highway in Thief River Falls which are in need of maintenance. Discussion was also held on city streets in the downtown area.

Study Peat As Research Project

A Minnesota land resource that could capitalize on the expanding interest in home lawns and back yards is under long-term study at the University of Minnesota's Institute of Agriculture. The resource is peat, and it covers some 7½ million acres of Minnesota, concentrated largely in north central and northeastern areas.

Relatively undecomposed peat makes a good soil conditioner, but it is not a fertilizer. It can be added to soil to improve water intake and holding capacity and nutrient holding capacity. It can even aid in weed control when used as a mulch.

The promising aspect of Minnesota's peat resources is that at least 20,000 acres are covered with the less decomposed peat which is suitable for commercial development for the horticultural market.

Fixed Assets of Highway Dept. Total $1.3 Billion

An audit report by the state public examiner includes among a number of other tabulations a summary of the Minnesota Highway Department's fixed assets, valued for the fiscal year 1963 at $1,307,263,180.

Fixed assets represent the values of buildings and sheds, motor vehicles and road machinery and numerous other items including real estate. They are regularly recurring assets and do not fluctuate with business volume. In the state audit, they represent the original cost plus betterment less accumulated depreciation. No unit in service is depreciated to less than 10 per cent of original cost plus betterments.

The highway department fixed assets are listed as: highways and bridges completed, land on which buildings in field are located, land on which central office stands, central office building, other buildings, gravel pits, motor vehicles and road machinery, shop tools, shop equipment and office and laboratory equipment.

20 States Have Sign Controls on Interstate System

Although 20 states so far have enacted billboard legislation, the Minnesota highway department in a survey of such enactments finds such statutes to qualify them for the one-half of one per cent federal ance.

Some of the laws are restricted to Interstate routes and some embrace other state routes as well. Several make common use of the term "scenic" in describing those portions regulated.

Kentucky was the first state to receive the bonus for regulating billboards in accordance with federal standards, but only after surviving challenges which carried it as high as the court of appeals. The law had been attacked as an arbitrary exercise of the state police power by motel interests and some landowners. The court said that the legislature "had ample basis upon which to find that the public interest outweighed the private rights in the subject matter of this controversy."

Drotts Attends Insurance Meet

Information on the Federal Crop Insurance program for 1964 was provided at a meeting attended by David Drotts, Thief River Falls agent, in St. Paul last week.

Crop insurance protection is being offered in nearly 1,200 counties in 1964 wth policies being written on a total of 23 crops. It was noted that 300,000 farmers carried the insurance in 1963 with 13 million acres insured and $25 million paid in losses.

Bank Debits Down in April; Up for the First Four Months

Bank debits in Thief River Falls during April were down 2 percent from the same month a year ago, according to statistics released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. In dollars, our bank debits volume during April was $7,784,000. In the same month of 1963 the total figure was $7,933,000. During the first four months of 1964, bank debits here amounted to $32,504,000. During the first four months of 1964, bank debits here amounted to $32,504,000, an increase of .7 percent over 1963's $30,253,00.

Bank debits represent the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts. Since most of these checks go to pay for local goods and services, the debit figure is considered to be a fairly reliable indicator of general changes in business volumes.

Drumming Grouse Are Help to Biologists

One of the real thrills enjoyed by those who wander down secluded forest trails on a crisp spring morning is the distant "thump-thump-thump" of a drumming male ruffed grouse, reports the Minnesota conservation department. Many male grouse drum for an extended period beginning in mid-April and lasting well into June.

Behavior of drumming grouse has been an important phase of the ruffed grouse studies being carried on by the University of Minnesota's Department of Entomolo-cooperation with the School of Forestry and the Minnesota Department of Conservation, Division of Game & Fish, at the Cloquet Forest Research center in Carlton county. This study has provided information essential to management programs, which will meet the demands of increasing hunting pressure in Minnesota's northern forested areas.

Drumming of male ruffed grouse in the spring and the fact that each drummer has his own drumming territory provides a fairly accurate method of determing the grouse population on selected study areas. Since there usually is an average of one adult hen for each drumming male, it is easy to estimate the total adult population by systematically counting the number of drummers.

Effective methods have been developed which enable wildlifers to trap and band nearly every drumming male on extensive areas. At the forest research center, about 90 per cent of the drumming males present have been trapped and banded each spring since 1956. During some years, more than 100 birds have been handled in a three-week period at the peak of the drumming season.

One of the findings of importance of the management of grouse is that fall hunting has had little effect upon the size of breeding populations the following spring. During the eight years these studies have been underway, there has been only a slight difference between abundance of grouse in spring on the Cloquet Forest refuge in which hunting is not permitted, as compared to adjacent areas open to hunting. Actually, grouse densities are more related to cover and food than hunting. Spring breeding populations are larger on some off-refuge areas than on some similar areas on the refuge closed to hunting for 40 years.

Records covering 32 years have shown that not all forest areas are equally good grouse habitat. Certain forest areas are used every year, while other nearby forest areas have few grouse even though they appear to be similar.

It has been found that drumming is not an "automatic" behavior, but is a social activity, a response to activities of other birds. The day-to-day intensity of drumming also varies according to the weather, and the amount of drumming reflects the severity of the preceding winter and lateness of the spring snow melt.

Although the census of drumming males provides game managers with their best breeding population estimates, these are minimal figures, for not all male grouse are on drumming sites each spring. In fact, the percentage of males that drum varies from year to year.

Why do male grouse drum? Apparently it is primarily a defense of a breeding territory, but it probably also serves to attract hens. Whatever the reason, it has simplified the problem of grouse management by providing a usable method of estimating the relative size of the spring breeding population.

'63 Ruffed Grouse Kill Only Half Of 1962 Harvest

Hunters took fewer ruffed grouse last fall than in 1962, reports Ted Shields, Minnesota game and fish director. The ruffed grouse kill last fall, as determined from hunter reports cards, was 204,000 birds compared to 470,000 in 1962.

Shields said the low kill can be attributed to a smaller breeding population which resulted from little snow in the grouse range during the winter of 1962-63. Grouse find protection from the cold by burrowing into snowbanks. This same lack of snow, however, was favorable for deer.

There is no evidence, Shields says, that the grouse population is being endangered by hunting. Studies of ruffed grouse populations made by university wildlife scientists on the Cloquet Forest, and research elsewhere in the United States, indicate that grouse numbers fluctuate greatly whether or not they are hunted.

Closing of hunting seasons in the past in Minnesota has had little effect on grouse populations he said.

Pheasant Hunters Kill 1,040,000 Birds Last Fall

15 Per Cent Increase Over 1962 Harvest But Well Under 1958 Peak

Minnesota pheasant hunters harvested 1,040,000 pheasants last fall according to state game and fish director Ted Shields. This is a 15 per cent increase over the 901,000 shot in 1962.

The figures for both years are based on hunter report cards and total license sales. The total number of pheasant hunters increased about nine per cent over 1962.

Pre-season censuses by the game and fish division last year indicated the statewide pheasant population was up 25 to 30 per cent from 1962. However, difficult and spotty hunting resulted from unfavorable weather, heavy cover and much standing corn early in the season, Shields said.

The fact that the harvest improved in 1963 in spite of poor hunting conditions seems to substantiate the census estimates that there was an increase in the number of birds, Shields added. He also noted that the 1963 harvest was somewhat above the average harvest for the past 20 years during which comparable statistics have been compiled.

The best cock pheasant hunting during this period was in 1958 when 1¾ million birds were bagged. The poorest season found only 593,000 cocks being bagged in 1953. Average yearly kill since 1944 has been about 956,000.

Censuses of the breeding birds present this spring are being made by game wardens, game managers and biologists. Results of these censuses along with the roadside census of pheasant broods in August will provide the basis for forecasting prospects for the coming season, Shields concluded.

In Memorium

In loving memory of our beloved father, Erick Eskell who passed away February 21, 1964 in Los Angeles, California:
The years will wipe out many things,
But this they'll wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
We think of him in silence,
His name we oft recall;
But there's nothing left to answer
But his picture on the wall.
Just when his life was brightest,
Just when his hopes were best,
God called him from among us
To a home of eternal rest.
—His loving children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren. 1t43c

IN MEMORIAM

"Gone from our home, Oh, how we miss her; loving her deeply, her memory will keep; Nor till life ends shall we forget her. Sacred is the place where she is asleep.

Defend District Crown

Prowlers Advance To Baseball Finals

Given near-perfect support by his teammates, righthander Rick Jensen, limiting the Red Lake Falls Eagles to but four hits, pitched a shutout as the Prowlers defeated the Eagles 3 to 0 in a District 31 baseball tournament semi-finals game at Red Lake Falls on Monday evening. In the other semi-finals game, coach Linton Lehrer's Crookston Pirates defeated the Warren Ponies 6 to 3. The Prowlers, the defending district champions, will meet Crookston at 8 p. m. on Friday on the Red Lake Falls diamond for the district title.

The Prowlers tallied the game's first score in the second inning when, with two men away, Don Mathieu beat out an infield hit. A wild pitch permitted the fast-moving Mathieu to reach third base. Dave Ellingson banged a ground single past third base, scoring Mathieu.

The Prowlers added a pair of "insurance" runs in the fifth inning. With one away, Buzz Olson was hit by a pitched ball; Jensen, attempting to sacrifice, beat out the throw to first base for a hit. A passed ball moved the runners to second and third. John Hellquist hit a ground ball to the right of shortstop Bob Phillon, and was credited with a base hit when the Eagles' fielder was barely able to make a backhanded stop of the ball. Olson scored on the play. Dave Erickson bounced to Phillon, and when the shortstop booted the ball, Jensen came across with the game's final tally.

Coach Mike Hajostek's Red Lake Falls club did not have any trouble in getting "good wood" on Jensen's pitches, but the drives were at the Prowler fielders. Mathieu, in center field, had seven putouts, and four of these putouts were well-hit line drives. Brent Mead, with "three for three", was the game's hitting star, having two solid raps and an infield hit. Jensen, beating out a pair of bunts, aided his own cause by having "two for four" and scoring a run.

LEADING the Prowlers into their District baseball tourney finals against the Crookston Pirates on Friday night will be newly-elected captain John Hellquist. Hellquist, a senior third baseman, was chosen the team's captain at a squad meeting held last week. The Prowlers will meet Crookston at Red Lake Falls at 8 p.m. on Friday.

PROBABLE starter in the championship game of District 31 Friday evening at Red Lake Falls will be sophomore Tommy Cummings of the Lincoln high school Prowlers. The defending champion Prowlers face Crookston Central in the title tilt, with the winner to represent District 31 in the Region 8 tourney. Cummings won his third game of the season against a single loss in the opening game of the tournament. He came on in relief of Jack Leedahl in the ninth inning against Climax with runners on first and second, nobody out and the game tied at 3-all. He struck out the side without allowing a run and his team mates scored in the bottom of the inning to gain a 4-3 win.

Region Eight Golf Tournament Here

Prowlers' Bob Stordahl Is Among Participants

Region Eight golf tournament will be played over the Thief River Golf club course on Friday with the Crookston Pirates representing District 31.

In the District 31 tournament held at Crookston on Saturday, the Crookston trio of Jeff Hiller with a 37-38-75, Jack Robinson with a 38-38-76 and Greg Klein, with a 38-38-76, scored a 227 for the team title. Hiller's 75 gained medalist honors.

Coach Bob Gaarder's Prowler squad gained runner-up, posting a three-man total of 248. Warren scored a 272 and Red Lake Falls chalked up a 278.

The Prowlers' Bob Stordahl, scoring a 40-40-80, gained a berth in this week's regional tournament, as did Crookston's Jon Simon, who scored a 40-40-80, and Keith Sanders, who had a 42-40-82.

Prowler Tennis Team Wins Dist. Title Saturday

Coach Bill Herzog's Prowler tennis squad won the District 31 title in a meet held in Crookston on Saturday, scoring a 5 to 4 margin over the Crookston Central Pirates. The Prowlers doubles team of Elroy Froiland and Paul Peterson, by scores of 6-4 and 6-1, defeated Crookston's Cliff Manwiller and Berger Anderson.

Crookston's Roger Parkin won the district singles title, defeating the Prowlers' Jim Jaranson, 6-0 and 6-1.

Parkin and Jaranson, in the singles, and Froiland and Peterson, in the doubles, will participate in the Region Eight tournament at Bemidji on Friday. The team finished the season with a record of four wins and six losses in dual competition against Moorhead, Grand Forks, Crookston, Bemidji, Detroit Lakes and Fertile.

Regional Records in Jeopardy

Given favorable weather it's a cinch that several of the Region Eight's track and field records will be broken on Friday. That's the date, Friday, May 29, when the Region Eight meet will be held at Bemidji State college.

And even if the weather fails to cooperate with the record-breaking efforts of the athletes, it's certain that the individual rivalries will be such that the track buffs attending the tournament will get plenty of thrills.

For instance, the 440-yard dash will find these runners competing (and the time in which they won their respective district titles): Jerry Prickett, Middle River, 52.8, District 32; Tom Sullivan, Park Rapids, 52.9, District 29; Rick Ellingson, Ada, 53.3, District 30; and Bill Snider, Crookston, 54.9, District 31. The Region 8 record is held by Baudette's Jack Nielson, who posted a 51.8 in winning the event in 1961. It will take some doing to better Nielson's mark, but the race should be a fine one.

And in the mile run you will find the defending record-holder, Gary Lyons of Baudette, who set a mark of 4:38.1 last year, meeting such runners as Marv Gunderson of Ada, who posted a 4:38.3 in winning the District 30 title; and Dick Kimball of Park Rapids, who ran a 4:41 mile in winning the District 29 honors. And, of course, the Prowlers will have Joel Headley and Roy Delorme in the event. A new record should be in the offing.

One of the older records in the Region Eight track annals is the 2:02.2 set by Twin Valley's Glen Albertson in the 880-yard run in 1950. And this mark may be in danger on Friday when Park Rapids' John Schlattman, Plummer's Marv Walter, and the Prowlers' Orrin Joppru move off the starting line. Walter set a new mark for District 31 last week when he ran the event in 2:05.5, and he should be ready for an all-out effort on Friday.

And, of course, we must not forget the personal duel between Bemidji's talented John Warford and Littlefork's all-round performer, Don Parmeter in the hurdle events. Warford won the two events in last week's District 29 tourney, but in each instance he was pressed to record-breaking efforts by Parmeter.

I will be watching with great interest the 880-yard relay and the mile relay, and in both of these events the Prowlers will be contenders. In the 880-yard relay the Prowler foursome of Brian Collver, Rich Nelson, Bob Olson, and Jerry Forsberg will be up against the Bemidji quartet of Mickey James, John Warford, Bill Bohn and Jerry Phillips. Bemidji had a time of 1:34.3 last week, and that's better than the Region Eight mark of 1:35.4.

And in the mile relay, the Prowler squad of Peter Isaacson, Leland Dexter, Orrin Joppru and Joel Headley, will be up against a top-flight team from Park Rapids in Dick Kimball, Mac McDowell, Roger Sternberg and Tom Sullivan. The Park Rapids quartet posted a 3:36.4 last week, and that, too, is better than the regional record.

Longest standing record in Region Eight competition is the broadjump mark of 21 feet 4½ inches set by Ray Carlson of Beltrami in 1933.

I'll venture the guess that coach Don Thompson's Bemidji squad will win the Region Eight team title. The Prowlers' point-strength, unfortunately, will be pitted against some outstanding athletes from other schools in the Region, while Bemidji's strength is in such events as the pole vault and the hurdles, and is certain to score heavily.

He Merits the Honor

At a squad meeting held last week, John Hellquist, Rosewood's gift to the Prowler baseball and hockey teams, was elected captain of the 1964 Prowler baseball team. And John, or Ernie as he is called by his pals, merits the honor bestowed upon him by his teammates.

John has been one of the most hustling athletes ever to perform for the blue-and-gold in baseball and hockey. He has a fine attitude, doesn't complain or gripe, and never gives any evidence of discouragement when, on occasions, the odds are against him.

Johnny started his Powler hockey career as a goalie, but after a couple of so-so years in the nets, he was brought out on the ice and placed in a wing position. He proved to be a capable winger, having the grit needed to skate into the corners to dig out the puck. And this season, John was shifted to a blue-line spot, and he did not shy away from the body contact that is called for by a blue-liner. You would think that all this shifting of positions would be discouraging, and perhaps it was, but you would never hear it from John, or notice it by his play. He is one of those athletes of whom it is said "he came to play."

And now I hope that John and his Prowler baseball squad defeat the Crookston Pirates in Friday night's District 31 baseball finals at Red Lake Falls.

Cankerworm Hatch Poses Threat to Trees

Cankerworms are beginning to damage shade and fruit trees in the area and control is advised to protect these trees. The best time to spray trees for cankerworm control is just when young worms begin to feed and before leaves are badly damaged, according to the agricultural extension service of the Universityy of Minnesota. Worms are beginning to hatch now in this area.

The following recommendations are given by the extension service:

Use DDT or methoxychlor at one of the following rates:

1. 50 percent wettable powder at the rate of 2 tablespoons per gallon of water.

2. 25 per cent emulsion concentrate at 4 teaspoons per gallon of water.

For large scale operations use one of the following:

1. 2 pounds of 50 per cent wettable powder per 100 gallons of water.

2. ½ gallon of 25 per cent emulsion concentrate per 100 gallons of water.

Spray small ornamental and fruit trees with a compressed air, knapsack, trombone, or similar sprayer. Spray large shade trees with powerdriven hydraulic sprayers, mist blowers, or by aircraft. Mist blowers use a concentrated spray mixture such as one part of a DDT 25 per cent emulsion concentrate in nine parts of water.

It is often difficult for a homeowner to adequately spray large shade trees unless he hires a commercial spray operator. One practice that may help reduce severity of infestations is a 5 per cent DDT spray application to tree trunks before moths lay their eggs.

Since egg-laying moths are wingless and crawl up trunks, many are killed by the trunk spray. Use one part of 25 per cent DDT emulsion concentrate in four parts of water. Spray trunks thoroughly with a coarse spray just after the first frost in the fall; and again just after the first general thaw in the spring. Spary about 6 or 7 feet of the trunk from the ground up.

Because young larvae may be blown for some distance, the tree trunk treatment is most effective if practiced on an area or neighborhood basis.

TB Outpatient Control Program To Be Expanded

Current expansion of the statewide tuberculosis control program in Minnesota to include outpatient clinics is helping to fill what has been a major gap in control efforts that widened every time a county sanatorium closed. Expansion is in part due to 1963 legislation authorizing a grant-in-aid program that enables the state board of health to assist counties in the development and operation of local tuberculosis control programs, especially outpatient clinics.

As of March 15, seven tuberculosis outpatient clinics were in operation or approved. These seven facilities serve 36 counties with an estimated population of 2,435,181.

Recognition of the need for tuberculosis control services at the local level led the 1963 state legislature to appropriate $30,000 for each of the fiscal years, July 1, 1963-June 30, 1965.

The law provides that the local tuberculosis control programs shall be under the direction of county sanatorium commissions, if there is one in the county or combination of counties. Otherwise, they are under the direction of the county board of commissioners or boards through a tuberculosis advisory committee set up in the same way that sanatorium commissions were formed.

Civil Rights Bill Support Asked

Seeking support for passage of the civil rights bill, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota has sent about 1,000 letters to clergymen and lay leaders in the state. Included with the letters were books entitled "Moral Crisis: The Case for Civil Rights" and containing a collection of speeches by himself, President Kennedy, President Johnson and Sen. Kuchel of California.

State Census To Determine Number of Resident Ducks

Aircraft, Automobiles And Boats Will Be Used To Survey Entire State

Using low flying aircraft, automobile and boats, wildlife survey crews of the state game and fish division have begun a census to determine the size of the resident waterfowl breeding population.

Observations of water conditions and the number of waterfowl in the state for the 1964 nesting season will provide game researchers with information needed to make hunting season recommendations.

Flying at altitudes of 100 to 200 feet on transect lines 12 miles apart, aerial census crews will cover the entire state from Iowa to Canada, with the exception of heavily forested areas.

With good flying weather, the 3,000-mile aerial survey will be completed in five days. Other crews on the ground will conduct a detailed census by automobile in certain areas, covering an additional 500 miles.

Selected areas have also been earmarked for more intensive study, and on these the survey crews will census the ducks from boats or on foot.

Bob Jessen, waterfowl research supervisor, said: "These birds comprise the resident population that returns each year to Minnesota to nest. The reproduction from these birds provides a large portion of the duck hunting for state sportsmen. Information on the status of the breeding population is vital if we are to manage our waterfowl to provide hunting in Minnesota during the coming years."

State Retarded Association Will Hold Convention

Minnesota Association for Retarded Children (ARC) will hold its 13th annual convention June 5 and 6 at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter.

Speaking at the convention banquet June 5 will be Dr. Alanson Hinman, Washington, D. C., deputy special assistant to the president for mental retardation. He will talk on federal legislation. Dr. I. Ignacy Goldberg, special education department, Columbia University Teachers college, New York will psesk Saturday afternoon on "Goals in Educating the Retarded Child."

Other speakers will be Mrs. Sally Luther, administrative assistant to Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, who will speak on the role of Minnesota's Mental Retardation Planning council; Dr. Harriet Blodgett, program director, The Sheltering Arms, Minneapolis, who will report on a study of siblings of retarded children; Dr. Bruce Mattson, Mankato State college, who will talk on the Mankato State college special education program; and Gerald F. Walsh, executive director of the Minnesota ARC, who will talk on the role of state institutions.

Careful Driving Urged on TH 10 Through Anoka

Drivers traveling on TH 10 through Anoka are cautioned to drive carefully through an area now under construction.

Highway department plans, which will affect traffic all summer, call for construction of two additional lanes, one eastbound and one westbound. The 3,000 foot project will extend from Park street to Green avenue in the west end of Anoka.

The first phase of the project will be to cut off the existing shoulder and build a third lane in the eastbound roadway. Just one eastbound lane will be open to traffic during the day but both will be open at night.

388 Forest Fires Noted This Spring

Fewer acres were burned over by forest fires this spring than in any year since 1959, the state forestry division reported today. So far this year there have been 388 fires which destroyed 8,387 acres. This compares with 19,191 acres destroyed for the same period last year and 79,647 in 1959, worst year of the last six.

Over 6,000 acres burned this spring were classed as "grass" with relatively little damage done to forested areas, the report stated.

Forestry officials credited spring rains and continued improvement in fire detection and suppression methods for the low fire destruction recorded so far this year.

Planning Booklet Available to Groups

"Municipal Planning in Minnesota: An Inventory" is the name of a booklet published recently by the Minnesota Highway Department, the work on which was done by the economic studies unit of the Planning and Programming Division.

The booklet is intended primarily as a reference for the department's district office personnel. However, in this day when many urban activities are dependent upon highway and planning concepts, it serves as a handy reference in numerous other channels. A limited number of copies of the booklet are available to planning groups.

Some traffic violations may seem "minor" compared with other offenses, but don't forget that they can cause "major" accidents.

"Who shall put his finger on the work of Justice and say, "It is there?" Justice is like the kingdom of God: it is not without us as a fact; it is within us as a great yearning." —George Elliot

Public Opinion

It has been most gratifying to receive letters to the editor expressing personal opinion on a number of subjects, many of them having first received comment in the editorial columns. This seems to be in line with an aroused public throughout the nation—a free nation where the status quo is more likely to create apathy and complacency than disagreement and debate.

In general, we try to avoid on-going feuds over differences in opinion. Almost without exception we do not "answer" public opinion letters in the editorial column, since we believe this to be taking unfair advantage of an editorial position.

As we have said in the past, freedom of the press is not restricted to the opinions of the editors and publishers. Individuals who have opinions, ideas and suggestions which they feel should be circulated are encouraged to write letters to the editor. This opportunity is part of the individual freedom guaranteed by the founding fathers of our country who gave us our Constitution—the world's greatest document of personal liberty.

We do not pretend to be non-partisan in our editorial comment. We express opinion, and that opinion is no more important than your own. There is only one thing on which total agreement should prevail, and that is the right of anyone to disagree with the opinion of anyone else.

School Is Out

While the grammar may be poor, school is out. Commencement exercises will be held tonight at Lincoln high school gymnasium and hundreds of proud parents, relatives and friends will feel a tinge of pride when their favorite graduates receive their diplomas. And the graduates themselves, judging from our own high school days, will have mixed emotions of relief, pride, apprehension and regret.

Lost somewhere in antiquity is the origin of the word "commencement" as describing graduation ceremonies. It is a good word, filled with much more meaning than the word "graduation", but which is often used in the same terms. Graduation signifies completion while commencement is only the beginning.

This year's list of graduates is an impressive one, from both standpoints of quantity and quality. There are 184 members of the Class of 1964, and among them are many destined for future success. This class, just as every graduating class in the nation for this year and previous years, faces a wide world of challenge and opportunity. Success awaits those who take advantage of the opportunities and work to meet the challenge. While the years of elementary and high school have been important to the students, the coming years will now assume greater importance. The students have been provided with their basic education — the tools which they are to use in accomplishing the task. How they use these tools will be the determining factor in the type of lives they lead.

We congratulate the 184 individuals who will receive their high school diplomas tonight. We are proud of their individual and collective accomplishments. With our best wishes goes the hope that each will continue to learn according to his ability, progress according to his aptitude, develop according to his capacity and succeed according to his desire.

Rebirth of Leadership

Historically there have been many miscalculations in assessing the strength of this country in various areas of activity relative to the needs and realities of the time. A good example has been the tendency in the nuclear age to overlook the continuing importance of a strong American merchant marine.

A popular concept has been that if there is a nuclear holocaust it will be over in a matter of minutes and there will be no necessity for ships to carry supplies. Under such circumstances, it is said, what need is there for "The fourth arm of defense" represented by American merchant shipping? This the trap of despair that our communist enemies would be pleased to see us fall into. In reality nuclear conflict is not inevitable. What is inevitable is economic conflict — ruthless competition for the world's trade and commerce. This is the field in which Premier Khrushchev intends to bury us.

In the light of the years of international economic competition that lie ahead, our merchant fleet assumes a more diverse and vital defense role than ever before. An official of a leading steamship line has pointed out that, "The threat of world Communism is both military and economic, and our Merchant Marine is in the thick of the struggle in both areas."

Fortunately, there are indications of an awareness of the role to be played by merchant shipping. It is now active government policy to encourage exports and greater use of American-flag ships. President Johnson has referred to this advance in shipping as "the bright promise of a rebirth of American maritime leadership." If this rebirth enjoys the full public support it deserves, we will truly be at ". . .the threshold of the greatest maritime era this country has known since the Clipper Ship."

Lest We Forget

It was back in 1868 when Memorial Day was first observed officially on May 30, under order given by Gen. John A. Logan, Commander G.A.R. This day, May 30, is now generally observed as a remembrance of all men and women who have given military service to their country and are no longer living.

On Saturday the veterans organizations in Thief River Falls, in cooperation with the local National guard unit, will present Memorial Day exercises at Riverside park. The natural amphitheater afforded by the park makes an impressive setting for the services, and the public should extend more effort to attend and join in paying tribute to those who served to keep our nation free.

We would also like to commend two dedicated individuals who exert extra effort at this time of year to assure that deceased veterans will not be forgotten. M. R. (Rudy) Levorson and Hjalmer Rafteseth travel throughout the county to place miniture U. S. flags and memorial poppies on the graves of veterans. This is indeed a service worthy of commendation.

We as Americans are privileged to live in a great nation where we are free to think, talk and act as free people. It is through the efforts of our military men that this freedom has been preserved against those forces which have sought to take it from us. An hour of remembrance should not be too much to ask in return.

Every Litter Bit . . .

Picnic time, travel time, camping time and general outdoor living time has now descended upon Minnesota. This means that thousands upon thousands of Minnesotans and tourists visiting our great state will be traveling the highways, visiting parks and recreation areas and otherwise taking advantage of our beautiful climate.

It also means that considerable time and energy will be expended by local and state governments and private individuals in cleaning up debris left by the merry wanderers. This spring alone it cost the Minnesota highway department (which means taxpayers of the state) $200,000 just to clean up trash along the state's highways. Add to this the village, city and community parks, state parks, picnic areas, swimming beaches, lakes, rivers and other places where litterbugs congregate, and you will have a good idea of clean-up costs.

This expenditure would be needless if people would only be a little more thoughtful and put forth a little more effort on their own. Every car should be equipped with a litterbag (any paper sack will do) and every parent should instruct children not to throw paper, banana peels, apple cores, soft drink bottles or cans and other debris out of car windows. After giving this instruction, parents should set a good example for their children to follow.

It isn't wise management to spend our money to beautify our state and then create an unnecessary situation which causes more expense to keep it that way. If everyone does his part there will be no problem. As the slogan goes, "Every Litter Bit Hurts."

State Purchases 570 Acres for Pike Spawning

Purchases Made Under Natural Resources Act Passed by Legislature

The Minnesota Conservation department's program to acquire northern pike spawning received a big boost from the Natural Resources Act passed by the 1963 legislature.

This was revealed today with the report that during the past six months, the state has taken 30 options in 20 key spawning areas located in 10 counties.

Under the Natural Resources Act, the conservation department was allotted $150,000 for a two year period for the acquisition of northern pike spawning areas, including costs of legal services, engineering work and added salary expense. Development of the spawning areas will be accomplished as funds are made available, said Swenson.

Development of a spawning area usually consists of improving the channel from the lake proper to the adjacent spawning marsh, construction of dikes as needed, and installation of a water control structure.

Adult northern pike are either placed in the marsh from winter fish rescue work, transferred from channel to marsh over the dam by hand during the spawning run or allowed to enter the marsh by removal of stop logs from the dam.

The water control structure holds water levels up in the marsh until spawning is complete, and the young fish have attained a length up to 4 or 5 inches. Stop logs are then removed and the fish are allowed to enter the lake or are trapped and transferred to other lakes requiring stocking.

Valuable Awards Available for 4-H Electricians

The national 4-H electric program, now in its 29th year of sponsorship by Westinghouse Educational Foundation, has kept pace with the changing times leading right into the space age, reveals Leon M. McNair, program coordinator for the national 4-H service committee.

He points out that since the program's introduction in 1936, the electrical project literature used by the cooperative extension service, 4-H leaders and members has been periodically updated and expanded.

Awards given annually by Westinghouse are four medals per county; an expense-paid trip for the state's top member to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago; $500 college scholarships for six members whose electrical projects are judged best in all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Among the useful — and money-saving — skills learned are electrical wiring; repairs to cords, lamps and small appliances; proper selection and use of motors; radio and television construction; energizing previously hand-powered tools and equipment.

There's virtually an unlimited choice of projects for the 4-H member. All offer a challenge and an educational experience as well. Reports from former 4-H'ers show that working on electrical projects triggered an absorbing interest that led to specific educational pursuits and choice of career.

Illegal Spearing Results in Many Warden Arrests

Attempting to spear fish illegally wss the largest single violation of state game and fish laws recorded during the month of April, the Minnesota Conservation department reported today.

Other fishing offenses included fishing with more than one line, fishing without a license or during a closed season and unlawful netting or trapping. These and other fishing violations accounted for 91 arrests made by state game wardens during the month.

Violations of the trapping regulations brought 10 arrests and 11 persons were apprehended for carrying loaded or uncased firearms in motor vehicles.

Counting miscellaneous offenses, the April arrest total for all game fish law violations was 148, and included three persons arrested for obstructing or hindering a game warden in the performance of his duties.

Mrs. Swanson Reports On 4-H Leaders Forum

Mrs. Ernest Swanson of Goodridge attended the 4-H leaders forum in Washington, D. C., recently and later presented the information at the Pennington county 4-H leaders council meeting. Mrs. Swanson stated that "Citizenship is a relationship between oneself and others in which each person acts with intelligent concern for the good of all."

"Citizenship begins in the home. This is the place it is learned and practiced. Clubs are important in developing citizenship as a person grows from childhood to maturity. Community activities with people we see occasionally give opportunities to develop citizenship," Mrs. Swanson added.

"As citizens of the state, we have common problems and interests we may never see. This was discussed on the St. Paul campus with the various people from the different counties in Minnesota.

As citizens of the nation, we have common concerns and interests. This was noticed by Mrs. Swanson in Washington, D. C. She found out one can influence what goes on in the House of Representatives and the Senate through letters and lobbying.

Citizenship in a world of nations is crucial. We, as 4-H leaders, are beginning to realize our citizenship responsibilities in the world. A visit to the United Nations headquarters emphasized to the leaders, Mrs. Swanson stated, how small the world is becoming.

There are many areas of life which provide "angles" to work on better citizenship. They are the family, economic organizations, political organizations, social organizations, educational development and values to live by. Three underlying principles make for a firm foundation. They are scientific methods, democratic ideals and to make the best better.

"Set up goals for the program and methods to achieve these goals, then evaluate them. Democratic ideals are not pat answers to problems. Rather, they are workable standards by which we can choose what to do," she added.

"Start with things the way they are and improve the situation. It is time to expand the area of freedom and responsible citizenship."

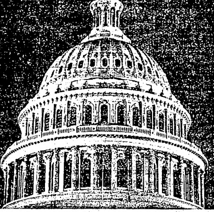
STATELY MANSIONS



Recognize this building? Whether you live in Yuma or Butte — or Concord or Dallas you know that this is the dome of the Capitol in Washington. And what is more, you would be able to identify the Eiffel Tower or the Taj Mahal without a second glance. All of us are attracted to and enticed by faraway places. And yet we tend to ignore and take for granted things and places of interest and beauty at our very "back door."

Our lives, too, have lofty domes and towers that we may be unaware of. We develop our physical bodies, our personalities, our talents, and we think we've done everything necessary for happy living. Yet it is a fact that unless the higher, spiritual life of man is developed also, lasting happiness is impossible. And when we live entirely on the materialistic level, we are only half alive.

Open your eyes and look to the Light. Discover your full potential by joining and supporting the church of your choice.

Hi!

Beef roast, steak, ground beef—take your pick for May meals with appetite appeal. And to vary the main course, serve turkey often for both the family and guests.

Because both of these meats are on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for May, they will be good buys all month. Other foods on USDA's plentiful list are milk and dairy products, salad dressings and oils, lettuce and canned ripe olives.

Beef is a bargain buy — price-wise, nutrition-wise, variety-wise and flavor-wise. Supplies are at record levels. Meat counters will have an abundance not only of beef, but of Choice quality beef. Although retail prices will fluctuate, week-end specials should offer consumers excellent beef buys.

Farm marketings of turkeys in May will be about a fourth greater than a year ago. Cold storage holdings are up 12 million pounds. This big supply means shoppers should keep an eye on poultry counters during May. Turkey may be just the thing for a Memorial Day cook-out, whether you choose a small bird for your rotisserie or a large bird cut in half for on-the-grill roasting.

Supplies of milk and dairy products will be increasing as they approach their annual peak in June. Warm weather is an ideal time to serve cottage cheese salads and ice cream desserts. Ice cold milk, of course, makes good drinking any time of year.

Appropriately for May, which is Salad Month, grocers' shelves will have large supplies of salad dressings and salad oils and vegetable bins will be filled with crisp lettuce. Shipments of lettuce from California and Arizona are expected to reach a peak during the first half of May.

Since this season's record pack of ripe olives is almost 18 per cent above that of a year ago, consumers can look for specials on canned ripe olives. Ripe olives add interest to salads and to the relish plate.

To bring spring to your table, do not forget strawberries in your menu planning. The spring crop of strawberries from the South and Southwest will reach its peak in May. This year's crop is above that of last year and prices are lower, on the average.

Thus, you can tell, there is a wide variety of foods on the market for May. Why don't you try them?

Are you planning a college education but frightened by the costs? Though financing higher education is a growing concern to young people and their parents, more and more scholarships and loans are being made available to help pay college costs.

If your college days will be here within a year or two, start now to investigate these financial aids. High school counselors or the bureau of student loans and scholarships at your chosen college will supply you with information.

Last year the University of Minnesota awarded about 450 scholarships averaging over $300 each to entering college freshmen. Several Minnesota colleges also offer scholarships to entering freshmen who are graduates of Minnesota high school classes.

Each year National Merit scholarships are awarded to outstanding students all over the country. You may become eligible by taking a test administered annually in all high schools.

Numerous scholarships are given by private companies and industries to encourage young people to enter their particular field. For example, five scholarships of this type are offered to Minnesota 4-H'ers each year. They are the McKerrow scholarship for participants in the 4-H livestock projects, the Keep Minnesota Green award for forestry students, F. H. Peavey and Company scholarships to 4-H'ers in the bread project and two scholarships by Watkins to an ourstanding boy and girl in 4-H.

Nearly 200 national scholarships are available to active 4-H members. Most are awarded on a competitive basis of achievement in various project fields. These 4-H scholarships are to be used for courses at state land grant colleges.

Under the Nationl Defense Student Loan program, you may borrow $1,000 per year up to as much as $5,000 during your years in college.

It is essential to investigate early since not all schools have sufficient funds to meet demands of all applicants. I might add that this is an excellent way to have enough money to attend school.

Most colleges and universities make other scholarships available to many students after successfully completing at least one quarter of college work.

Nearly all scholarships are based on a combination of need, academic achievement and frequent participation in various high school or college activities.

So now is the time to begin thinking, looking and writing for information for financial help in attending college whether it be a scholarship or a loan.

MAIN STREET, U.S.A.

BY BERT MILLS
Washington Editor of "National Publisher"

Why does Lyndon B. Johnson lead such a hectic life? Why does he chase here and there, making as many as 14 speeches in a single day, more than five months before election day and about three months before he becomes an official candidate to succeed himself in the White House?

There are at least a dozen good reasons why all this Presidential activity does not make sense at this time, but none of them matter. The President has set his course and he will follow it no matter how many cogent arguments are presented to suggest an alternative policy.

LBJ wants exposure in whatever way he can get it—in the papers, on TV and in person. Let others worry about "over-exposure". The President has made it clear that he not only has no concern about seeming to be over-eager but he covets that image.

Some of the President's best friends and closest advisers have counseled a slow down. Their point is that Johnson has long since established himself as a personality in his own right. The vast majority of people, every poll shows, approves of him and will support him on election day.

Surely Johnson does not see on the horizon any Republican Presidential candidate who figures to have anywhere near an even chance to beat him. Things could change by November, but in May it seems sure the G. O. P. nominee will be a distinct underdog.

LBJ Sets Travel Record

In his first five months as President, Johnson broke all records for getting around. He made 18 out-of-town trips and logged 23,848 miles. Nor did he leave the U. S. He has kept his promise not to go overseas while there is no Vice President.

By contrast, President John F. Kennedy made only seven trips in his first five months in office. Excluding a 10,120-mile flight to Vienna for a conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Kennedy's log showed 10,320 miles in the U. S., or less than half Johnson's total.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower was even more of a stay-at-home in his first five months in office. He made seven trips and covered 8,418 miles.

These comparisons may not be entirely fair since this is an election year for Johnson whereas at comparable periods Eisenhower and Kennedy were not screduled to be on the ballot for three more years. However, the figures prove that Johnson has been moving about at a record pace.

Intoxicated by Crowds

After 27 straight years in elective office, President Johnson is still intoxicated by crowds. He forgets his schedule when greeted by a throng of well-wishers and tarries to shake hand after hand.

In his earlier days in the White House, President Johnson did not attract vast crowds when on the road. Late in February he went to Los Angeles and the turnout was described as modest, far below what an Eisenhower or Kennedy would have drawn.

There has also been an increase in the enthusiasm of those who turn out to see the President. What used to be a polite reception by people more curious than ardent, as in St. Louis in February, is now more likely to be a noisy demonstration of affection.

In South Bend and Pittsburgh on an April trip, Johnson received a hero's welcome and was practically mobbed. The same thing happened on his latest Appalachin tour through Maryland, Tennessee, North Carolina and Georgia.

In Atlanta, the chief of police was amazed by the crowd, saying, "I've never seen anything like it, including FDR and 'Gone With the Wind.'" And that bestseller title somehow suggests our peripatetic President.

Plant Warm-Season Vegetables

Most vegetable crops can be planted in the garden as soon as the soil is prepared in spring. Seeds of some vegetables, however, have difficulty germinating when the soil is still cold. These crops include sweet corn, beans, cucumbers, melons and pumpkins. They should not be planted until after mid-May.

Some special practices are often used to warm the soil so these crops can be planted earlier. For example, black plastic mulch may be used directly over the soil. The seeds may be planted in cuts through the plastic. The plastic not only warms the soil but smothers weeds as well. Hot caps too, are often used to warm the soil and make earlier planting possible.

Cucumbers and melons can be planted between rows of early crops like peas and lettuce to conserve space. After the early crops are harvested, the space can be taken over by the late-maturing vine crops.

Make three or four plantings of snap beans and sweet corn to insure a longer harvest of good quality produce. Plant corn in three or four short rows instead of one or two long continuous rows to assure better pollination and better developed ears of corn.

Cucumbers, melons and squash can be planted as close together as you want them in the garden without fear of crossing. There is very little evidence that they will cross and affect quality of the fruits.

Tomatoes, eggplant and peppers are also warm-season crops, but they should not be transplanted into the garden until after Memorial Day because they are very tender and extremely sensitive to cold soil and cold air temperature.

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

News from the Civil Rights front is not encouraging. A so-called Civil Rights bill probably will be adopted, but no bill of this kind will meet with the approval of the extremists on either side of the questions involved. Therefore it is reasonable to assume that we are headed for more trouble—and more violence. The following clipping from a New York Times editorial, points up this problem. States the Times:

"The existence of a Harlem gang indoctrinated in hatred of all white persons is chilling news. It is as indefensible as the Ku Klux Klan. It must be firmly repressed by the police. It should be extirpated, once and for all, by the aroused sentiment of the better elements of the Harlem community.

"But while it is the function of the police to put a stop to the gang's lawlessness and that of the leaders of their own neighborhoods to cope with the blind hate that motivates it, only the community as a whole can meet the much greater, the far more difficult problem of remedying the conditions that have made possible such manifestation of evil."

Thinking in terms of ideal solutions for such problems, the New York Times is right. But the mere passing of a law is never an effective solution for the differences that are based on prejudice. The basic weakness of those leaders who have championed the Civil Rights bill has been their ignoring of the fact that over a period of many years progress has been made in the establishment of racial equality.

Unfortunately, those who have been giving leadership to the Civil Rights bill, and its purposes, have been inspired too much by political considerations. Their's has been the selfish approach too often, measured in terms of votes.

Let's start facing the facts realistically. The negro slaves who were brought to our country against their will were wronged. But most of the descendents of those slaves who now, nearly two centuries later, have white blood in them. And I am sure that not one of them would want to go back to Africa which is the home of their "fortunate" cousins whose ancestors escaped slavery. I visited their cousins in their native land and my conclusions are based on personal observations.

Of course we have a race problem, and it deserves our most serious consideration, but that problem is not going to be solved by passing a law. Time alone will take care of it, not in one generation nor in one century. Eventually we will no longer be whites and blacks and reds and yellows. We will be one people, a mixture of all, as we have in northern Africa and southern Europe, and in general, as we have throughout Europe and Asia.

Isn't it a little disturbing that great leaders such as Senator Humphrey do not understand these things?

A copyrighted report from the U. S. News and World Report, Inc., tells us in a Horatio Algier story style, just how the Lyndon Johnson family became suddenly rich. Most of the credit for this fast accumulation of wealth is attributed to the financial genious of the wife of the president, and her two daughters, who have a controling interest in the corporation that is known as the Texas Broadcasting Corporation.

The copyrighted story revealed by the U. S. News and World Report, states that no presidents in the past had held fortunes approaching in size those of the Kennedys and the Johnsons. John Kennedy was the richest president we have had, according to this news agency.

All of which raises reasonable questions as to how these fortunes were accumulated. Both of these fortunes, it appears, were accumulated more by political influence than by business acumen or social interest. The Kennedy fortune, it seems, was based largely on a government concession that gave to the elderly Kennedy an exclusive right to import Scotch whiskey when prohibition was repealed. The Johnson fortune, we gather, was made possible largely by favorable decisions by federal government agencies that gave to the Johnson family a virtual monopoly in the radio and television field in a large area of Texas.

The background of the Johnson family fortune is closely associated with the Bobby Baker scandal, and the Texas bankers with whom he was associated. The United States Senate has voted to close the door on any further investigation of these operations, and this action was supported by both of Minnesota's members of the Senate, Humphrey and McCarthy. This whole story of how the Kennedy and Johnson wealth was accumulated, and the relationship between Johnson and Bobby Baker, should have a much more thorough investigation.

T.R.F. Foundation Given Federal Tax Exempt Status

Organization Has Granted 57 Loans For College Study

Thief River Falls Foundation, established in 1957 by a group of local citizens primarily for the purpose of making loans available for students, has finally received recognition by the federal government as a tax exempt organization, Robert J. Lund, secretary, reports.

Difficulty in securing this status was based primarily on the fact that in organizing, the foundation used articles of incorporation of a similar society that had been long established. The pattern that was proper accoreing to the laws of the land many years ago was no longer a proper guide due to important changes that had been made in the laws governing benevolent organizations of this type seeking tax exempt status.

Recognition of the Thief River Falls Foundation as a tax exempt organization means that contributions made to the foundation by donors are also tax exempt. In his letter to Lund, the district director of the Internal Revenue service stated: "Based upon the evidence submitted, it is held that you are exempt from federal income tax" as a charitable organization.

"Contributions made to you are deductible by donors. Bequests, legacies, devises, transfers or gifts to or for your use are deductible for federal estate and gift tax purposes."

The foundation has made progress during these years of official questioning, but Lund is of the opinion that the organization being now officially recognized as tax exempt will be an important factor in securing contributions and bequests.

Lund points out that the foundation has made loans to 57 students since it was organized and 27 of these loans have already been repaid in full. The foundation has also made two annual contributions of $1,000 each to Northwestern hospital on a matching basis with the hospital in the sponsoring of the services of Dr. Miland E. Knapp of the University of Minnesota medical school and the Kenny Rehabilitation institute in spending one day a month at the hospital as a consultant in the field of physical medicine. His services have been made available at no cost to the patients.

Early Rye Crop Is Reported On Henry Rux Farm

Rye which measured 38 inches in height and was topped by well-formed head was brought to the Times office Thursday by Henry Rux who farms in Sanders township 11 miles southwest of Thief River Falls.

Rux planted the rye in late August of last year, and reported that deer had grazed heavily on the crop during the winter. If weather conditions cooperate, he expects to begin harvesting the 24-acre field in June—extremely early for this part of Minnesota.

He received a fractured knee-cap, cuts and bruises but will be released Tuesday from Northwestern hospital. Christensen was alone in the car which was traveling south on CAR 75 when he lost control of the vehicle and it rolled one and one-half times on the road, according to the Pennington county sheriff's office which investigated the accident. The 1953 model car was believed to be a total loss. Christensen remained in the car as it rolled, narrowly missing a plunge into a deep ditch on the west side of the road.

Special assemblies will feature talks on Indian folklore, career opportunities in conservation, Minnesota wildlife and conservation of human resources. A Sunday morning service in Preacher's Grove, a tour of Itasca state park, a boat trip on Lake Itasca, treasure hunts, softball tournaments and volleyball tournaments will be other features of the camp.

Crops Damaged by Severe Frost

With the temperature dropping to 18 degrees Sunday night there is bound to be damage to field crops and gardens, Paul Stelmaschuk, county agent, told the Times this morning. The extent of the damage will depend to a large extent on the weather that follows, he said.

An immediate swing to hot temperatures would be bad, he stated, while a gradual warm-up would make possible a better recovery by damaged plants. It will not be possible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the extent of the damage for several days.

Mr. Stelmaschuk recommends that in view of the frost the first cutting of hay should proceed as rapidly as possible.

Reports from Lake Bronson indicate that the potato processing plant to be built in northwestern Minnesota by Ore-Ida Food Products, Inc., of Ontario, Idaho, will be located on the Soo Line tracks a mile and a half south of Lake Bronson. The report states that the plant will employ between 300 and 500 persons.

This report has not as yet been confirmed by the company itself, but the Adamson Construction company of Grafton, N. County Farmers Plant Many Trees

Second Largest Total In 15 Year History Of Conservation Dist.

Planting of 35 acres of trees has been completed by 46 Pennington county farmers this spring, according to Robert Kloubec, work unit conservationist for the Pennington County Soil Conservation district. A total of 17,500 trees was planted—the second largest amount in any one year since the district was organized in 1949.

All of the trees were planted in farmstead windbreaks with the exception of a field shelterbelt planted by Oscar Mosbeck of Polk Centre township. Farmers planting the most trees were Verland Zahn, Kratka township; James Erickson, Sanders; Earl Arnold, Wyandotte; Merle Lundeen, Deer Park; and Clifford Vad, Highlanding.

Eighteen farmers used the district tree planter which was contributed to the district by local banks a few years ago. Glennis Iverson, district tree planter operator, was in charge of all machine plantings, Kloubec said.

Several of the farmers had their tree planting areas sprayed with a chemical to control weeds. Spraying was done on an experimental basis by the Pennington county district to determine whether or not the chemical will prove effective.

Twelve farmers are already working their tree ground in preparation for planting trees in 1965. It appears that 1965 will be a record-breaking year for number of miles of one-row field shelterbelt plantings, Kloubec added. One-row shelterbelts have been proved very effective in reducing soil and crop losses due to wind erosion.

County Fair Knitting, Crocheting Winners May Enter National

Knitters and crocheters from Maine to California will be needling their way to fame against fellow needlework hobbyists this year as contestants in the 1964 national wool needlework contest, according to Mrs. Adam Lendobeja. To enable residents of this area to participate, entries for the nationwide competition will be submitted for judging locally at the Pennington county fair from July 23 to July 26. No entries may be made directly to the contest's national headquarters.

The contest, which is being held again under the joint sponsorship of the National Hand Knitting Yarn association and the American wool council, is open to all non-professional needleworkers and will offer a grand national prize of $1,000 cash, a three-day stay for two in New York and a special engraved trophy. Additional cash awards and ribbons will be made to national winners other than the grand national champion.

Contestants must initially win a first prize in the judging being held at the Pennington county fair, before being eligible for the national judging, which is to be held in New York in 1964. The blue ribbon award at the fair will be made for afghans, sweaters and three-piece baby sets for knitters and crocheters.

An engraved trophy will be awarded to the top entry selected from the six first prize winners as "Best of Fair." Additional ribbons will be awarded to the second and third place winners.

The first six place winners selected by the fair will then be supplied by the National Hand Knitting Yarn association with complete information and official forms for entering their winning designs in the national finals.

All articles submitted for judging in the 1964 national wool needlework contest must be knitted or crocheted of 100 per cent wool or mohair yarn. Entries must have been completed since January 1, 1964, and carry one label of the yarn used.

Ask Wool Growers For Opinions On Incentive Payment

1965 Is Last Year of Payment Under Program Of National Wool Act

Wool producers are being asked to make recommendations on the incentive price level for shorn wool for the 1965 marketing year, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. Recommendations are requested by Monday, June 8.

The chairman explained that the incentive level for shorn wool for the 1965 marketing year will be announced this summer so that growers may know the level when they are shaping up their flocks for next year's production. The marketing year for wool now runs on a calendar year basis.

The incentive price level has been 62 cents per pound since the beginning of the wool payment program, and the Department of Agriculture is considering the continuance of the present incentive price level for shorn wool again next year.

Dahl pointed out that the 1965 marketing year will be the last year covered by the National Wool Act of 1954 as amended. The original 4-year act has been extended twice. The national wool act provides that the support price shall be at a level necessary to encourage an annual production of the duties collected on imports of wool and wool manufacturers.

U. S. production of shorn wool declined from the peak in recent years of 265 million pounds in 1960 to 238 million pounds in 1963. Factors contributing to the decline included low prices for lambs in 1960 and 1961, competition for range and production problems such as rising costs.

Views on the shorn wool incentive price level should be submitted by June 8 to the Director, Policy and Program Appraisal Division, ASCS, USDA, Washington, D. C. 20250.

U of M Receives Assistance Grant For Iron Ore Study

ARA Announces Granting Of $90,000 Technical Assistance for Study

U. S. Department of Commerce has announced approval of a $90,000 technical assistance contract with the University of Minnesota to help establish a pilot plant to demonstrate a new process for concentrating presently non-marketable iron-bearing material from the Mesabi range in northeastern Minnesota.

Favorable outcome of this research project is expected to help revive the economy of the Mesabi range country and provide new job opportunities in the area.

"If this project demonstrates commercial feasibility, the economic benefits could be extremely large. The process would apply to the largest potentially usable iron-ore resources in the United States. It also has potentials for use in other economically-distressed areas where depletion of high-grade iron ore resources have caused declines in output and employment," stated William L. Batt Jr., ARA administrator.

The new process, developed by the University of Minnesota Mines Experiment Station, produces a high-grade iron concentrate which can be pelletized for use in blast furnaces. Thus far, work has been done in the laboratory on a small scale and some tests have been carried out at the sub pilot plant level.

Total cost of the 18-month project will be approximately $235,000, about $90,000 of which will be in ARA technical assistance funds. The University of Minnesota will provide $15,000 for such items as employment of engineers and technicians, administrative support, space, equipment and facilities. Nine mining companies will supply ore valued at $15,000 and two local railroads will provide transportation valued at $5,000.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

MRS. LEWIS HRUBY

A savory, satisfying, and altogether simple and uncomplicated meal-in-a-pan entirely in harmony with the primitive methods of campfire cookery is this campers' special. The taste of the wood-smoke permeating every bite of this main dish spices it with a tang especially in tune with summer. The potatoes can be cooked at home, cooled and diced, and the other ingredients prepared over the camp fire or grill.

A family favorite of the Hrubys, it was toted along on many picnics, and still finds its way into the outdoor meals which take them no farther from home than the backyard grill.

CAMPERS' SPECIAL

Brown 1 diced medium onion in hot fat. Add:

1 lb. ground beef and brown together. Pour off the excess fat. Season with salt and pepper according to your preference. Add:

1 15½ ounce can pork and beans
3 cups diced, cooked potatoes. Heat all through, and spoon onto the waiting picnic plates. A green salad, or strips of colorful vegetables served as finger-food for texture interest, along with pickles, and a beverage, and your obligations as a provider of nourishing meals have been admirably fulfilled.

Outdoor cookery isn't the sole open-air activity of this homemaker: she "loves" yard work, and gardening. The bright colors of a flower garden intrigue her more than the practicality of growing their own vegetables, hence she sticks mainly to flower-gardening. Mention music...any kind...and Mrs. Hruby's ears are at the alert. Two daughters, Kathy, and Gail (Mrs. Richard Bergland) both play drums. Kathy also plays violin and was in the school orchestra at Lincoln high. She is now a cosmetologist in Minneapolis. Mrs. Bergland, it is commonly known, plays drums in the city band and leads the Bridgeman Half Pint drum and bugle corps. Mr. Hruby is the owner of the Hruby body shop.

Read!

Read!

A young child "reads" a picture book and is amused yet learning something at the same time without even realizing it because of the way the material is presented.

A child who is a little older reads a book with both pictures and words...and is amused and educated simultaneously. A teen-ager reads the words and his mental picture is developed a little more if an illustration is included. An adult reads the words, forms his own mental photograph. Oftentimes he would rather not see a picture of the hero, the heroine or the place described. (Simply because the picture in his mind is different from the picture in the artists mind!)

There is nothing under the summer sun as good as a "good book" regardless of the age of the reader. Parents should definitely encourage their children to make good use of the public library during the summer months. Young minds are in the habit of "absorbing" the written word. Three months can make the "mental muscles" a bit soft from lack of constructive exercise. Encourage children to read and to tell about what they read...It is important that parents listen, too, while they're being told!

If your child has never visited the library, bring him in to browse. Let him look around and become acquainted with the world of books. Let him see the faraway places he can visit and the different people he can meet. Let his imagination be stimulated, his inquisitiveness encouraged and his curiosity aroused. Let him question...and help him to find the answer.

Your library has books about a multitude of subjects...subjects of interest to all ages, all sizes and both sexes. Your library, and the information it contains, is maintained for you...and your children.

Those readers in the "picture with words book" era will love toting home "The Turtle and the Dove" by Don Freeman. "The Alphabet Tale" is written for this same age group...and it is such a "different" book, parents will be reading it, too, after "lights out" for the original borrower!

Those who are a little older will like "The Limerick Trick" by Scott Corbett. It has a bit of a different twist, too, and may start a "fad" around your house!

Those who have outgrown "Cowboys and Indians" (but still go to sleep with the sound of a war-dance in their ears) will be excited when they read "Time of the Tomahawk" by R. E. Alter, a well-known writer of tales for the young fiction reader. This historically accurate novel is a Junior Literary Guild selection and termed an "outstanding" book.

Animals are always good characters for books aimed at the younger set and "Two Dogs and a Horse" by Jim Kjelgaard will delight those in this category. The author is a favorite of the young reader. His books are always well-worn before they've been very long on the shelf.

"The Golden Book of Magic" is a natural for a young man or lady with "life of the party" leanings. The Great Merlin (Clayton Rawson) has "untied his bag of tricks" for the youngsters. Complete descriptions of the tricks, with illustrations to aid the novice, make magic tricks as easy as disappearing is for a rabbit!

There are other books about other things...each contains magic, really, the magic of words.

Come in, bring the children, and browse a bit. Your library is open every day, from noon until 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, all during the summer.

Farmers May Sell Wheat to Anyone Under '64 Program

ASCS Office Informs Farmers That Practice Applies Just as Before

Under the 1964 wheat program, as in the past, a farmer may sell his wheat production to anyone at any price he can get, according to Winton Knutson, of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. This applies whether or not a farmer is cooperating with the program and whether or not he is eligible for marketing certificates.

The chairman pointed out that neither the domestic nor the export certificates will follow the grain trade channels. The farmer will receive the value of the certificates at the ASCS county office as a part of the program designed to bolster farmers' income from wheat.

Domestic certificates are valued at 70 cents per bushel and apply to the domestic portion of the farm's marketing allocation; the export certificates are valued at 25 cents per bushel and apply to the export portion of the allocation. These certificates — as well as wheat diversion payments — will be available to wheat growers who participate in all provisions of the 1964 wheat program.

A grower who keeps his wheat acreage within his farm allotment will be eligible for a price-support loan on his entire wheat crop, based on a county average of $1.42 per bushel.

Thus, the total of the loan rate and the domestic certificate will price 1964-crop wheat for domestic consumption at about $2.12 per bushel or a about the same level as in recent years. The price producers are expected to receive for the export portion of their allocation will be about $1.67 per bushel.

The farm marketing allocation will provide certificates for the smaller of 90 per cent (45 per cent for domestic and 45 per cent for export) of the normal production of the farm's acreage allotment or the normal yield of the acreage planted for harvest if this is less. If the lesser figure applies, the amount of export certificates will be reduced first. There will be no reduction of the domestic certificates unless the acreage planted for harvest is below 45 per cent of the allotment.

Prices for the 1964 crop of flaxseed will be supported in Pennington county at $2.90 per bushel for No. 1 grade, according to Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

County rates for major producing areas generally reflect terminal rates less handling and freight charges needed to get the flaxseed to terminals. County and terminal rates are further adjusted by premiums and discounts for grade and quality factors to determine support prices for individual producers.

As in 1963, flaxseed grading No. 2 will be discounted 6 cents per bushel, and flaxseed with moisture content from 10.6 to 11 per cent will receive no premium.

Price support on 1964-crop flaxseed will be carried out through farm and warehouse-stored loans and purchases. Flaxseed loans will mature on March 31, 1965.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Carolyn Offerdahl

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

There is no time like the present to plan for the future.

Career planning must be a continuous process. Begin early. There are things you should do while still in high school to guarantee a satisfying future. Will you attend college, get specialized training at a professional or vocational school, or seek full-time employment? Look beyond high school and plan your courses accordingly.

About four of every 10 teenagers will begin college. If you are among them, you will have to meet entrance requirements of some sort at any college or university you select. These requirements vary significantly among schools and usually include completion of specific courses and a specified level of achievement in all high school work.

Why not write to the admissions offices at all colleges or training schools in which you are interested? Be sure to ask for their bulletins. Most of them are free. Read them carefully and compare school curricular and entrance requirements with each other. Discuss them with your parents and high school counselor or principal. Then let this information guide you in choosing high school courses to avoid delay and disappointment later.

Many high school vocational programs lead to early employment. Some are self-evident and tie in easily with local opportunities. The future secretary, for instance, should take courses in typing, shorthand and office practices. Other vocational programs may not be directly related to immediate employment but will be of great value in specialized training programs after high school.

Investigate colleges, visit with employers and explore the job market to gain a better understanding of the importance of your high school program to your future. Successful high school programs do not happen by accident; they are planned. A good high school experience is invaluable. Do not waste it through poor planning or lack of information.

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

Southeast Asia is one of the hottest of the many hot trouble spots throughout the world that threaten our civilization and that give me considerable consolation in the otherwise disagreeable fact that I am a grandfather and on my way out. Looking over the international field at the present time, and taking into consideration the deteriorating position we are in as a nation in this international mess, I would not be at all interested in exchanging my old age for the youth of my grandchildren and their prospects for a longer period of survival. As our national and international interests are moving now, the generation that succeeds us will have little reason to be grateful for the manner in which we have been managing our national and international affairs.

Confining my observations for the time being to our problems in Southeast Asia, it now appears that we, in the last three years, have involved ourselves in a struggle from which we cannot emerge as the victors and from which we cannot retire without a loss of self-respect. This is a mess that has developed within the last three years and which is the sole responsibility of the present administration.

It is a fact that, internationally, we no longer command the confidence or the respect, of our friends. Our good friends and well-wishers, our Candian neighbors, are critical of our conduct and our high-handed manner in dealing with situations such as have developed in Southeast Asia.

Reviewing the background of the situation in what was once French Indochina, the Winnipeg Tribune makes the following interesting observations, on developments dating back to the time when "An international control commission for all areas was created composed of personnel supplied by Canada, India and Poland." Then, according to the Tribune:

"The situation in Laos got out of hand in 1962 with right-wing factions, assisted by outside support, battling with Communist factions also with outside support. In 1962 an agreement was reached in Geneva at another conference on Laos to which the United States was signatory, to preserve the neutralist position of the Laotian government. This situation was upset four months ago by an attempted right-wing coup."

And our government, it seems, was a part of this revolution, and according to the Tribune, in spite of the many millions of dollars our country poured in South Vietnam, "The people of that area have never been more wretched, impoverished or less secure. This land, one of the best rice-growing areas in that part of the world, now imports food," and says the Tribune:

"It has been brought to this condition because of the determination of a small group of quarreling would-be rulers, backed by the United States, to prevent Ho Chiminh and his Communist regime in Hanoi from gaining political and economic control in Saigon."

In concluding its observations on what has developed and is developing in Southeast Asia, the Winnipeg Tribune says:

"As was the case in China in 1948, military units equipped with U. S. arms are deserting in ever-increasing numbers to the enemy. A consideralbe portion of the nearly $1.5 billion which the U. S. taxpayer is pouring into South Vietnam is thus going to reinforce the Communist offensive against the forces favored by American foreign policy.

"It has become quite impossible for the international control commission, composed of Canadian, Indian and Polish personnel, to function either in Laos or in South Vietnam. In Vietnam the commission is simply ignored by the Saigon regime as well as by the United States. In Laos the commission members barely escaped with their lives in the renewed fighting in the Plaine des Jarres.

"President Charles de Gaulle's advice with respect to this part of the world makes more sense with each passing day. It is a battle which the western alliance cannot win. All that present policies can do is prolong military stalemate, political frustration and economic stagnation. This is hardly calculated to win friends or influence people anywhere.

"Worse still, it almost guarantees that a similar situation will develop in Thailand and then in Malaysia. It is providing a training ground for an extension of Communist activity throughout the whole southeast Asia."

Unfortunately the prospect for improving this situation within our own country during this campaign year is far from bright. What probably is the most corrupt political machine our country has ever had no doubt will be restored to power. We now are in the middle of the most costly presidential campaign the taxpayers have been forced to pay for. The spending program has been set up to create a boom period around election time. The "bust" will come later, but that will be after the election returns are in.

For the time being, we are enjoying the pleasure of spending ourselves rich. As one drunkard says to another drunkard, let's have another drink.

So we will cut taxes once again and increase the spending. Happy time being.

PIGEONS AND DISEASE

Q. Can pigeons transmit diseases to humans?

A. Pigeon excreta may contain a variety of viruses and germs that cause disease in man. For example, the virus of ornithosis, a disease similar to parrot fever, is frequently acquired from pigeons. The birds are susceptible to the disease and usually continue to discharge the virus in their excreta for long periods after recovery. A fungus organism (Histoplasma capsulatum) grows in pigeon droppings. Inhalation of dried material containing this organism has been incriminated as a cause of a disease in man which may be fatal. Several other conditions are known or suspected to be pigeon-spread to man.

Langen Questions Award to ASCS Head

"It seems strange that the Department of Agriculture can bestow a Distinguished Service Award on a man whose policies and administration continue to be questioned by Committees of the Congress," said Congressman Odin Langen (7th Dist., Minn.) today. Langen referred to this week's Departmental award to Horace D. Godfrey, Administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"The award comes during the very same week that the House of Representatives chopped almost $3-million dollars from requested funds for the Cropland Conservation Program due to operational weaknesses found in the program," said Langen. The Cropland Conservation Program, an experimental effort, is administered by Godrey and the ASCS.

Langen noted that among the operational weakness in the program, uncovered by the Appropriations committee investigators, were lack of documentation of land ownership and eligibility, failure to require that practices be carried out on acres covered by contract, lack of consideration of economic feasibility, the questionable practice of making cost-sharing payments on earth moving on horseshoe, badminton, basketball, baseball and tennis courts, lack of limits on cost-sharing payments with possible cost per acre in excess of the value of the land, and failure to require that recreational facilities developed under the program be made available to the public.

"Mr. Godfrey appeared before the Committe, defended the program in spite of the firm evidence by investigators that the pilot project was mis-managed, and informed the Committee that he will seek additional authority to expand the program by an additional cost of $50-million.

"Is this the record of public service we expect from those who receive the Agriculture Department's award of distinction?"

Minnesota has had 10,545 Miles of Roads Improved

A quarterly report by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads on federal aid to the primary, secondary and urban highway systems (commonly termed ABC roads) shows that projects in Minnesota since July 1, 1956 total 10,545 miles. This mileage is "project mileage" and includes such duplicating miles on a project as grading and surfacing.

Since July 1, 1956, Minnesota has had 10,545 miles of construction on the ABC systems, second only to Texas which had 13,167 miles.

Total cost of construction, engineering and right of way on these projects in Minnesota cost $319 million, shared 50-50 by the federal government and the state.

Currently Minnesota has 1,153 miles of ABC road improvements under way or authorized, total cost of which will be $78,000,000.

Veterans Pension System Popular

4-Year-Od Program Is Optional Before 1960

A Veterans Administration pension system that is less than four years old is reported to be producing increasing interest among veterans and the widows of veterans who receive VA pensions under the old system.

John R. Parrish, center director of the Veterans Administration in Fargo, said that in the first three months of this year, more than 4,000 of these pensioners decided to receive their pensions under the new law, which went into effect July 1, 1960. This was an increase of 16.6 per cent over the same period in 1963.

The old pension law grants a flat rate pension and set certain income limits. The new law raises these income limits slightly and sets a sliding scale so that a larger pension payment goes to those with less incomes.

Parrish said that all persons coming on the pension rolls on or after July 1, 1960, must receive pension under the new law. Those already on the rolls on that date have the choice of remaining under the old law or electing to receive pension under the new law.

VA To Send Two Reminder Notices On GI Insurance

Limited Renewable Term Insurance Is Subject To Change to Permanent Plan

Two reminder notices will be sent to Korean conflict veterans who hold GI limited renewable term ("W" type) insurance in order to warn them when their policies will no longer be renewable, according to the Veterans Administration.

John R. Parrish, center director of the Veterans Administration in Fargo, said policies of this type expire at the end of the five-year term period which contains the 50th birthday of the insured veteran. After that period, the policy must be converted to a permanent plan or it expires.

The two-reminder system is possible, Parrish said, through the use of modern data processing equipment.

One reminder will be sent to the veteran a year before expiration of the policy and the final "last chance" reminder will be sent 90 days before the policy is due to expire.

Mr. Parrish said that veterans of any war who hold term insurance should check into the possibility of converting it to a permanent type of insurance to secure better or longer protection and avoid increasing term insurance costs.

Vanishing Wilderness

Some excellent points on the wilderness question are contained in an article by Morris Patterson in the March-April issue of the "Conservation Volunteer", publication of the Minnesota Department of Conservation. Patterson is wildlife manager of the Hubbel Pond Wildlife Management unit near Detroit Lakes.

"When the first Europeans arrived on this continent," Patterson writes, "they found a land mass of 8,500,000 square miles—all wilderness. When we break this down into units with which we are more familiar, it amounts to 5,380,000,000 acres. The area of the United States is 3,624,122 square miles or 2,319,488,080 acres. Of this total area, we have retained in government ownership about 720,000,000 acres.

"Some of this is desert that has no value even for recreation. Federal lands that are suitable for wilderness areas are found in our national parks, national forests, wildlife refuges and game ranges. Out of all these lands we possibly have about 63,000,000 acres that could be called wilderness. Actually, we can assume that three per cent of our total area might be classified as wilderness and has recreational values as such. That is only a remnant of the original, yet there are those who want to exploit even that.

"Must we convert in the name of progress, or because of our economic system, the last vestige of a God-given heritage?" Patterson asks.

The wilderness question which has been debated by Congress (passing in the Senate but stalled in the House) is a question of value. It is a question which can not be easily resolved on the basis of statistics, although a good many statistics are involved in the debate. There is certainly a considerable amount of sentiment woven into the pros and cons of the wilderness bill.

We are inclined to agree with those who would like to assure retention of wilderness areas—pockets of serenity in a cloak of busy living. We do not know how many people "use" wilderness areas directly, nor do we particularly care. We agree with Edward G. Voss, associate professor of botany at the University of Michigan, who says: "The counting of noses gives us useful information for some purposes, but it is not a criterion of value."

We can see no good reason for exploitation of wilderness areas to favor a few. Patterson comments as follows:

"Anyway, do we need—really need—the small amount of natural resources within the wilderness areas? We already have more of nearly everything than we can use. About the only commodities in short supply are fresh air, clean water and space.

"Foresters say we are under-cutting much of our forest. Agricultural surplus, which is a burden to the taxpayer, tells the story of need on that front. There is talk of limiting imports of beef because we are reaching over-production of that commodity at home. We have large stockpiles of uranium ore, huge reserves of cheap coal and oil, then why not just cross off those resources located in the wilderness areas as not needed? Perhaps at some critical future date, we will need them more than now and they will be there."

Our nation is one which caters to minorities. We have museums for those who like history, galleries for those who like art, concerts for those who like music, stadiums for those who like athletics, country clubs for those who like golf, theaters for those who like movies or plays, rocking chairs for those who like to sit and highways for those who like to travel. It should not be too much to ask that we also have wilderness for those who want to get away from the modern innovations which have added to our complex society.

An Important Industry

Our nation's railroad industry is an important one, as some facts and figures recently quoted in the "Industrial News Review" quite graphically show. The industry is one of the most heavily regulated by government and is waging a constant battle to show a profit for the thousands of people who have ownership in it. Consider the following statistics:

The railroads have 215,000 miles of right-of-way linking virtually all cities, and they are the number one common carrier, moving 43 per cent of all intercity traffic. They employed 679,000 people last year with a total payroll of $4.6 billion—and the average earnings for these workers was almost $1,000 higher than for manufacturing workers.

Since World War II, the railroads have invested nearly $1 billion in modernizing their passenger fleet and, last year, they provided passenger service for cross-country travelers amounting to 310 million tickets.

In that same year, they performed 622 billion ton-miles of freight service — the equivalent of moving nearly nine tons of freight a mile each day for every one of our citizens. Their postwar expenditures for freight cars has reached the unbelievable total of $6.8 billion.

Their purchases, for fuel and other supplies, amount to $2.4 billion a year, and their tax payments run to some $886 million a year, with all levels of government participating. The industry represents $26 billion in investment by some 932,000 stockholders plus thousands of bond-owners. And these really are underprivileged citizens. The rate of return in 1963 barely passed 3 per cent—well below the level that is considered sound.

Just Once . . .

June is the month of weddings—that month when the mystical magic of romance culminates in matrimony. We have yet to talk to any male partner in these ceremonies who was much impressed with them—and granted, we have not talked to them all. Perhaps this is because the bride is the focal point, from planning list to honeymoon, and the groom exists merely as an incidental object of interest—like a bearskin rug after a thrilling Alaska hunt.

We believe that newspapers are responsible for much of this. Weddings are social events, women usually write social events, and women are always interested in other women. As a result, through the years, it has become common journalistic practice to elevate the bride to a pronounced pedestal in the social reporting of these matrimonial unions. The groom, thus included only as a matter of political expediency, tends to lose interest in the ceremonial pleasantries.

Just once we would like to see a wedding story written by a man. It would probably be something like the following:

Joe Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith of East Podunk, was married Saturday evening at Community Independent church by Rev. John Jones. Smith was an all-conference tackle on the state university football team and gained honorable mention as an All-American candidate. His bride was Mildred Fink, daughter of the Oswald Finks, also of East Podunk.

Smith looked extremely handsome in a tailored suit of navy blue wool, featuring a single-breasted coat with rolled lapels and a minimum of padding in the shoulders. The sleeves extended from the shoulders to the wrists and were cuff-less, accented by two blue buttons above each wrist. The trousers were sharply creased in the front and back, cuffed at the bottom and held in place pessimistically by both belt and suspenders.

His shirt was white with a button front, starched collar and long sleeves with French cuffs closed with large gold cuff links engraved with the image of a prancing stallion. A blue tie, with pin to match the cuff links, blue socks and black shoes completed the outfit, and a large white carnation graced his lapel. The bride wore a white wedding dress and carried some flowers.

Smith's attendants were "Bull" Gondzjershalevsky and "Wings" Zilch, team mates of Smith on State's conference champion football team. Gondziershalevsky was a senior guard and Zilch a speedy sophomore halfback. They wore matching suits of blue wool, similar to the groom's, white shirts, blue ties and socks and had lovely white carnations in their lapels. Their black shoes had ½ inch heels and leather soles with bows accenting the top of the lacing.

The bride was attended by two of her sisters who carried some flowers. Some friends of the bride sang a couple songs during the ceremony.

Following the reception attended by many of Joe's friends and some other people after the ceremony, the couple left for Upper Ipswich, Mo., where Joe will soon begin practice with the Ipswich Itches professional football team. He is rated a fine prospect and we expect to hear a great deal about him in the future.

A Legend Dies

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, 74, who had grown into a legend since India became independent in 1947, died Thursday after suffering a stroke. The influential leader of India, who made his voice heard throughout the world, was devoted to keeping his country neutral in world controversy and socialistic in national development.

Although G. L. Nanda, home minister and a senior cabinet member, was sworn in as acting prime minister 10 hours after Nehru's death, the question of who will be his permanent successor remains a mystery. In his tight hold on his country, Nehru had never disclosed his preference for a successor. There is no doubt that considerable unrest will prevail in the Indian government and that the communists will exploit every means at their disposal to gain a firmer foothold.

As spokesman for the nation of 470 million people, Nehru was non-committal on many world problems. He accepted foreign aid from whoever would extend it to him and poured it into his socialistic industries and utilities. The Moslem nation of Pakistan was his major political problem and it is a problem that remains unresolved with a United Nations truce line separating India and Pakistan troops in Kashmir.

In spite of criticism from both sides on affairs outside his country, Nehru accomplished much inside India. He fought hard for the independence of India until it was accomplished in 1947 and assumed full control when Mohandas Gandhi was assassinated in 1948. Realigning India after it received independence was a monumental task.

His effectiveness as a statesman is not to be denied, and the world scene is certain to miss his presence.

Federal Building at Baudette
(Baudette Region)

A wire from the office of Congressman Odin Langen Friday revealed that an independent offices appropriation bill including $159,700 for construction of a federal building for Baudette had been passed by the House of Representatives. The bill must still be approved by the Senate before the money will be available.

A previous appropriation of $98,100 was for site of acquisition.

Home owners whose property is involved in the chosen location have been given notice to move by July 1. A beginning date for the actual construction is yet to be released but late summer or early fall appears a strong possibility at this time.

Warehouse at Roseau
(Roseau Times Region)

Ore-Ida Foods started construction of a 400'x45' potato warehouse near the Polaris Industries building in Roseau Tuesday with Herb Reese, Jr., doing the excavating work. The structure is being built with poles cut in this area earlier in the year and will feature 10' dirt walls, layers of slabs, straw and a dirt cover over that. The warehouse is expected to furnish potato supplies to the plant which is to be constructed somewhere in the Northwestern area of the state.

Drayton Dam Started Soon
(Kittson County Enterprise)

Work of constructing a low level dam across the Red River is expected to get started soon. The dam will be built about two miles north of Drayton, N.D. According to Milo W. Holsveen, Bismarck, it will be started in late July or early August.

Holsveen, engineer and secretary of the North Dakota State Water Commission, has called for bids on the construction job. The bids will be opened at the State Capitol on June 15.

The dam, which will insure a ready reserve of water for use at the American Crystal Sugar Company's refining plant, now under construction, will entail approximately 83,000 cubic yards of earth work.

Vandalism in Detroit Lakes

An additional 18 clothes lines were cut in Detroit Lakes Wednesday and Thursday evenings and total damages caused by the recent outbreak of vandalism has reached about $150.

Besides scissoring a number of clothes lines, the vandals also have slashed two large lawn chairs, cut garden hoses and have broken trees in various places.

Some 40 clothes lines have been cut in the outbreak and the $150 damage estimate was listed by Roger Arildsen, juvenile officer for the Detroit Lakes police force.

Prowlers Win District Baseball Title Friday

Coach Ralph Skay's baseball Prowlers made a successful defense of their District 31 title Friday when, in a finals game played at Red Lake Falls, the locals defeated the Crookston Central Pirates, 5 to 2. The Prowlers, along with Halstad of District 30, Roseau of District 32, and Bemidji of District 29, will participate in the Region Eight tournament at Warroad on Tuesday and Wednesday. The pairings for Tuesday's opening round will find Halstad meeting Roseau at 1 p.m.; and Bemidji playing the Prowlers at 3 p.m. The Region Eight championship game will be played on Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

In Friday night's district tourney finals game at Red Lake Falls, coach Linton Lehrer's Pirates took a 1 to 0 lead in the second inning when, with one out, Jerry Kraft was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and scored on Bruce Campbell's double.

The Prowlers evened the game at 1-all with an unearned run in the last half of the third inning. Dave Ellingson opened with a walk, and was sacrificed to second by Tommy Cummings. Crookston's Roger Schmidt, attempting to pick Ellingson off second, made a wide throw, permitting Ellingson to sprint to third base, and when the throw eluded the centerfielder, Ellingson continued on to the plate to score.

A single by Kraft, a sacrifice, and Campbell's second double gave Crookston a run, and the lead, in the top half of the fourth inning. But that lead was short-lived as the Prowlers came back to score three runs. Mike Benke, with one out, drew a walk; Wayne Smith struck out; Jack Leedahl singled to right field; Ellingson walked to load the bases; and then Cummings, with a ground-rule double to center field, with the ball bounding over the fence, scored Benke and Leedahl. A wild pitch permitted Ellingson to tally the third run.

The Prowlers added a run in the sixth when Benke doubled to left field, moved to third on a wild pitch, and scored on a fielder's choice.

BRIDGEMAN CREAMERY
Thief River Falls

BROODING over her young comes naturally for this Canada goose, photographed by Ralph Town, acting manager at Agassiz National Wildlife refuge, shortly after she hatched the brood shown. The Canada goose is the only goose which nests locally and is the earliest of the waterfowl to nest at the refuge. Ten hours usually elapse from the time the first gosling breaks the shell until the last of the clutch of five eggs is hatched. When the young birds dry out and their down becomes soft and fluffy, the parents take the young into the water and to dense foliage away from the nest. In 10 to 12 weeks the goslings will grow their flight feathers and begin making short flights to nearby fields for feeding.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Getting Plenty of Mileage

Prowlers have been getting plenty of mileage out of the comparatively few hits they have banged out this season. When the Prowlers defeated the Crookston Pirates on Friday night, 5 to 2, to win their thirteenth game of the season, and their tenth District 31 title, the locals were outhit, 7 to 4. And it marked the fourth time in the thirteen wins recorded, that the Prowlers were outhit.

In only three of the games played this season, against Goodridge, Ada and Warroad, were the local batsmen able to rap out hits in double figures. The Prowlers had 11 hits in beating Goodridge, 12 to 0; poled out 10 hits in defeating Ada, 12 to 0; and having a season's high of 13 hits in defeating the Warroad Warriors, 11 to 2.

In the three games that the Prowlers played in winning the district title, the Prowlers were able to outhit only one team, and that was the Red Lake Falls Eagles, where the hit margin was 7 to 4 for the Prowlers as they won the semi-finals game, 3 to 0. In the tourney opener, against Climax, and which was won by a 4 to 3 score, the Prowlers were outhit, 7 to 4.

All of this indicates that the coach Skay's 1964 team isn't a slugging club, and don't think that the Prowler mentor isn't aware of this lack of batting punch! He and his assistant, Jack Junker, have worked harder on the hitting aspect of baseball this season than in any other year.

And it is probable that the base hits will be hard to come by on Tuesday afternoon when, on the Warroad diamond at 3 p.m., the Prowlers meet the Bemidji Lumberjacks of District 29 in a Region Eight first-round game. Coach Horace May has a pair of capable righthanders to throw against the Prowlers in Jerry Fossand and John Dow. In the two games that the Prowlers played against the Jacks this season, these two boys limited the locals to but two hits, both of the scratch variety, in 8 innings. Fossand, who is rated as the Jacks' number one pitcher, will perhaps get the assignment against the Prowlers.

Could be a "Sleeper"

While much of the interest in the first-round play in the Region Eight baseball tournament will be centered on the Prowlers vs. Bemidji game, the tournament's "sleeper" may come out of the opening game between the Halstad Pirates of District 30 and the Roseau Rams of District 32.

And in this game, the Pirates from Halstad will be the favorites. According to Crookston's Chuck Whiting, who, along with Andy Carey, did an excellent job in calling the district games, Halstad has a very capable southpaw pitcher in Duane Ramstad. Local basketball fans will remember that it was this same Ramstad, playing at guard, that nearly led Halstad to a win over the Prowlers here last February. The Prowlers won the game, 65 to 62, but Ramstad scored ten field goals and six free throws.

Whiting states that Ramstad, who is a chunky five-foot eight-inch athlete is possessed of a sharp-breaking curve ball, and he has tremendous desire and confidence. Fact is, Whiting rates Ramstad right up there with Fertile's Rod Olson, and Olson was one of the better pitchers to come out of District 30.

Fishermen and Fish

There was quite an exodus of local anglers this past week, and these parties were, for the most part, headed for Canadian waters. On Wednesday, Bob Evenson and his parents, the John Evensons, left for The Pas, Manitoba, and Clearwater Lake, for a try at lake trout and northerns. On Friday morning, Lloyd Samuelson, Red Thyren and Carl Onkka left for Eskimo House, I mean The Pas, and they, too, had evil plans for the lake trout. On Friday evening, with an all-night trip in prospect, Web Mayes, Phil Hess and Wendy Olson left for The Pas. They, along with Red and Sam and Carl will be fishing Clearwater lake, too.

But while these boys were making plans for catching fish, a local angler, Allen Narverud, the 12-year old son of the Arnold Narveruds, did catch a fine walleyed pike. Fishing out of Springsteel Island at Lake of the Woods on Saturday, Allen, using a minnow-baited hook, caught a walleyed pike that, according to John Moum's scale, just about reached the seven-pound mark. Well, that's a bragging-size fish. And it is perhaps an indication that the Springsteel Island area is becoming one of the Lake of the Woods' "hot spots".

TRF Creamery Proposes Merger With Karlstad

Crop Damage from Frost Is Most Damaging to Hay

Small Grain Apparently Escapes Damage; Most Alfafa Should be Cut

Crop damage from the 18-degree temperature reading Sunday night seems to be most extensive to alfalfa hay and early-emerged corn, according to a survey made early this week by Fred Sorensen, agricultural representative for the Union State bank. Sorensen was formerly agricultural coordinator for the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school.

A saving factor was the dry period before the severe frost, Sorensen said. Rain and warm temperature prior to the frost would have left crops in a much more vulnerable condition. Nurserymen use the practice of withholding moisture to "harden up" plants before setting them out in the spring, making them better able to resist frost.

In the case of alfalfa, immediate cutting has been recommended by the Pennington county extension service. The frost will retard growth about a week to 10 days. Since most cutting would begin in about a week anyway, early cutting will give the second crop a better start. Hay cut immediately should make excellent forage, high in feed value.

Some corn may have to be replanted but most escaped damage. Small grain is not expected to suffer from the frost and flax fields inspected by Sorensen showed no sign of damage.

North Central Airlines weather station at the Thief River Falls municipal airport recorded another sub-freezing temperature with 30 degrees last night. A reading of 26 degrees was noted Monday evening, following a high of 59 during the day. High and low temperatures on Tuesday were 68 and 38.

PUREBRED Ayrshire dairy calf, shown here by Audrey Meyer, Princess Kay of the Milky Way, will be presented at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday to Clark Erickson of Badger. Clark showed the grand champion grade animal at 1963 Dairy Day and selected the Ayrshire breed as his choice for an award of a purebred heifer calf. The heifer calf is from the Mor-Ayr Farms herd of Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Graves at Red Wing, a herd which holds the highest classification (87.7) for type of any herd in Minnesota. The dam of the presentation calf has produced over 500 pounds of butterfat on standard 305-day test. Photo Courtesy MDIC

Shareholders of Local Plant Will Meet on June 23

In a move which would bring an extra 160,000 pounds of butterfat into the operation of Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association, the local creamery board has negotiated a merger with Karlstad Cooperative Creamery association. The merger would be effective on July 1, according to Vernon Anderson, president of the local creamery board.

While the groundwork has been laid for the merger, it can not become effective until approved by shareholders of both cooperatives. Thief River Falls creamery shareholders will hold a special meeting on Tuesday, June 23, at 8 p. m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium. At that time ther merger will be explained and shareholders will have the opportunity to ask questions before voting on the board's recommendation.

Also included in the board's recommendations will be a change in the by-laws of the local cooperative, changing the number of directors from five to seven. With this change, two members of the present Karlstad board would be appointed to the local board for terms to expire in 1965 and 1966. Directors would be elected to these positions for three-year terms when the appointive terms expire.

Shareholders of the Karlstad creamery will meet Monday, June 22, to discuss and vote on the merger proposal. Polls of the patrons have indicated that a majority favor merging with the Thief River Falls creamery and the Karlstad board has expressed its approval of the merger.

Merger Explained

Under the merger proposal, negotiated by the two boards with assistance from Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., and the University of Minnesota, the Thief River Falls creamery would assume control of the assets and liabilities of the Karlstad plant.

A receiving station would be operated at the present Karlstad creamery with Elwood Jacobson, present creamery manager, continuing as manager of the receiving station. Bulk milk producers would continue to receive on-the-farm pickup from their bulk tanks, but the milk would be hauled to Thief River Falls for processing. A considerable amount of the Karlstad creamery volume is from bulk tanks.

Arrangements are made in the merger for retirement of patron's equities in the Karlstad creamery on a scheduled basis as funds permit, Anderson said. If the operation did not permit retirement of equities in the Thief River Falls creamery due to the lack of available capital, no payment would be authorized to shareholders of th former Karlstad plant.

Local Plant Grows

Last year the Thief River Falls creamery handled about 1,200,000 pounds of butterfat from its own producers, plus about 500,000

Leader's Council Hears Norway Talk

Bjorn Pederson, a foreign exchange student from Norway spoke to the Pennington county 4-H leaders council on Monday evening, according to Miss Carolyn Herdahl, Pennington county home agent. Bjorn is 19 and graduated from Fertile high school on May 28. He has been in Fertile all year and will be returning to Norway sometime in July, where he will finish his one year of high school training in Norway

Slides were shown by Bjorn to explain Norway to his audience. Norway is the land of fjords, mountains, valleys, and plains. In the northern part, due to the midnight sun, they have almost constant daylight from April to mid-September. Norway does not have the extremes in termperature that Minnesota has.

Norwegians have a zest for life that will exhaust the average American, Pederson said. There very few cars with most people using bicycles as a mode of transportation. Norway has a constitutional monarchy with a King and a parliament known as the Storting, but the government is thoroughly democratic.

Peder Furuseth was selected by the junior leaders to be their representative to the state 4-H federation as their voting delegate. Other junior leaders to attend the conference on June 23-26 are Sandra Gunderson, Gary Skibicki, Wayne Ptacek, Barbara Wold and Florence Arneson. Gary will be participating in the tractor contest. Bonnie Finstad will also return to the conference this year as a continuation committee member and will conduct classes and act as a counselor.

Crookston Club Week camp attenders were reminded that the deadline for registering for the camp is June 7. Deer Park 4-H Club will be giving its play, "The Marriage Proposal", on June at the camp.

Dairy Day work schedule was given to the leaders and explained. Only part of the clubs are working for Dairy Day this year, since the others worked for the Top of the Natino dairy sale last fall. It was felt that the work load would be less for the clubs if they did not have to work for every event.

Pennington county has done enough work in safety to place the county as one of these top five in the state for the sixth consecutive year, it was announced at the meeting.

Mrs. Ervin Muzzy and Mrs. Leonard Melin volunteered for the committee to meet with Mrs Caster Moe and Mrs. Vatsaas to make arrangements for the 4-H food stand at the county fair. Mrs. Moe and Mrs. Vatsaas have agreed to be the cooks at the county fair again this year.

Oliver Haugen, Harland Knutson and Lloyd Nelson will be working on general improvements for the 4-H buildings. General cleaning and improvement of the grounds will be done by some of the 4-H clubs. Points for work done will be given towards the Club of the Year award.

Mrs. Bert Kron, Mrs. Ernest Swanson and Oliver Haugen are looking into the possibilities of having the food demonstrations at the fair grounds this year. Acts for 4-H night, Friday, July 24, were asked from anyone who knows of any good acts. They should contact the extension office by July 1. County fair premium lists and car stickers were given to the leaders at the meeting.

Silverware was purchased by the council to use for the various events served by them. The council voted to continue to pay $3 to each club for having a play, $5 to top elimination plays, and $8 to the top county play going to Crookston.

4-H leaders were reminded to set tour dates between June 29 and July 10. These tours are in preparation for the county fair. Records and entry blanks are due in the extension office by July 1.

4-H'ers were reminded of Greenbush Sheep Days on June 3 and 4. June 3 is the workshop while June 4 is the date of actual judging pounds processed for other area creameries. This year's production has increased substantially, among both patrons and other creameries, according to K. E. Gigstad, local manager. Addition of the Karlstad creamery volume of about 160,000 pounds of butterfat would assure the largest volume processed in the local plant's history.

"The board has moved forward with the merger proposal, believing it is acting in the best interests of the cooperative," Anderson said. "We hope for a large turnout of shareholders at the June 23 meeting so that the merger can be explained and throroughly discussed."

champion purebred.

This year the show will be moved from its familiar location on Second street north of the city auditorium to the city parking lot between Second and Third streets on Knight avenue. The entire program including the dairy show, judging and princess coronation, will be held at the new location.

Prizes valued at approximately $3,000 will be awarded to participants in the show. Box lunches will be provided to 4-H club and FFA members taking part in the show, and the Pennington county 4-H leader's council will serve pancakes and ice cream beginning at 6 a. m.

Good weather has prevailed throughout the past parade of Dairy Days, and members of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association, sponsor of the event, are hoping for fair weather on June 9.

Bemidji Tips Prowlers In Region 8 Tourney

The Bemidji Lumberjacks, utilizing their extra-base power (poling out four doubles and a triple), defeated the Thief River Falls Prowlers, 4 to 2, Tuesday afternoon in a first-round game of the Region Eight baseball tournament being played on the Warroad diamond. In a game played prior to the Prowlers vs. Lumberjacks tilt the Halstad Pirates of District 30, holding off a seventh inning rally by Roseau, defeated the Rams, 7 to 5.

This evening, Wednesday, with game time at 7:30 p.m., the Bemidji and Halstad cubs will meet for the Region Eight championship, with the winner advancing to the state tournament in St. Paul's Midway stadium on June 10 11 and 12.

The Prowlers opened the game's scoring in Tuesday afternoon's tilt against the Jacks when, in the first inning, leadoff batter Rick Jensen was hit by a Jerry Fossand pitch. A balk moved Jensen to second base, and when Jack Leedahl rammed a single into right field, Jensen raced home with a tally.

That lead had a short life as the Jacks, in their half of the first inning, scored a pair of runs. After two men had been retired, Jensen hit Marv Hanson and John Dow with pitched balls; and southpaw-swinging Fossand lined a double against the fence in right field, plating two runs.

Bemidji added a pair of runs in the fourth to take 4 to 1 lead. After Steve Dale had popped to shortstop, Bob Shadlow pulled a triple down the right field foul line, and scored when Hanson sent a ground single into left field. Dow was retired on a foul pop fly to third baseman John Hellquist; but Fossand, hitting his second double, scored Hanson.

The Prowlers, who had failed to take advantage of a streak of wildness by pitcher Fossand in the fourth inning, tallied a lone run in the fifth. In the fourth, with one out, the Prowlers, on walks to Tom Cummings, Hellquist, and Don Mathieu, had the bases loaded, but Fossand struck out Wayne Smith and Dave Ellingson to escape unscathed. But in the fifth, after Jensen had been retired, pitcher to first, Leedahl drew a walk, Dave Erickson was out, second to first, moving Leedahl to second, and when Mike Benke lofted a looper into short center, Leedahl came around to score, just beating Dow's throw to the plate. Cummings drew a walk, and at this point coach Horace May of the Jacks called in Bob Shadlow from right field to take over the pitching duties. Karl Poppenhagen, batting for Hellquist, sent a hopper to shortstop, and Cummings was forced, short to second.

The Prowlers made a threat to score in the seventh inning when, after Jensen had whiffed, Leedahl and Erickson drew walks. A well-executed double play on Benke's solidly-hit ground ball, short to second to first, closed out the game.

Legion Baseball Season to Open

First Game To Be Here Thursday with Warroad

The 1964 American Legion baseball season in Thief River Falls will open with its first home game on Thursday at 8 p.m. Commander Orville M. Hanson of Ecklund-Holmstrom Post 117 announced today. Opponents for this first home game will be the Warroad team.

"Our Post is proud to be a participant in this nationwide program, which since its establishment in 1926, has proved that American boys receive on the baseball diamond a thorough understanding of the true value and meaning of Americanism," Commander Hanson declared.

Commander Hanson pointed out that, in addition to providing for the development of stronger bodies, a sense of good sportsmanship and fair play, and an awareness of citizenship responsibilities, American Legion baseball has been a stepping stone to major league stardom for more than 2,000 youngsters.

Inviting the attendance and support of community sports fans, Commander Hanson added, "The Legionnaires of Post 117 can offer no greater service to this community than through our efforts for our youth. We seek and need the community's support of this activity.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Back From the North Country

Some of these angling parties, who ventured into the country of the perma-frost, in northern Manitoba, have returned, and the stories are bigger than the fish. Bob and John Evenson came back from The Pas with a near-limit of lake trout, but they weren't able to bring in any trophy fish. And Red Thyren, Lloyd Samuelson and Ray Thyren returned on Tuesday evening with a mess of trout. This group fished clearwater lake, out of The Pas, but broke camp there on Sunday and moved up to the Flin Flon country, where they had better luck fishing in Lake Athapopaskow. They met Web Maves, Phil Hess and Wendy Olson at Clearwater lake, and they reported that Web and his party were catching trout.

And speaking of lake trout fishing, Carl Hovle and Clarence Knudsen and their wives, were fishing out of Bob Booren's and Tuss Langlie's Arrowhead Lodge at Nester Falls last week. That is, they were headquartered there, but they moved over into Crow lake for a try at lake trout.

Carl, indulging in a bit of catfish-style angling, baiting his hook well and tossing it out into deep water, and then proppong the rod up against a rock, had the misfortune of having a trout yank the rod and reel into the lake. They spent several hours in an eddort to snag the line, but to no avail.

The next day one of the Arrowhead Lodge guides, Mike Barnowky, fishing in the area, hooked the line and when the gear was brought up an eleven-pound trout was on the hook. That was the only trout that Mike's party caught, and they had the fish for lake-shore meal. Carl was glad to get his rod and reel back, and he hopes that the boys enjoyed the trout.

The walleyes have been hitting quite well around Springsteel Island on Lake of the Woods. Engval Lund, Herman Christofferson and Hardy Bjerk were up there on Monday, and they filled their limits in a couple of hours. Herman maintains that the fishing was so good, or that he was catching the fish so fast, that he burned out a bearing in his reel!

I'm willing to sign a petition keeping those Silverton, Agder and Steiner township farmers off Lake of the Woods. They make it tough for us ordinary anglers. I would be willing to reserve Sarah and Union lakes; and perhaps Pine, for these fellows!

Hope I'm Wrong

I hope I'm wrong, but I have a hunch that the Bemidji Lumberjacks will defeat the Halstad Pirates, in this evening's Region Eight baseball finals at Warroad. The Pirates, after experiencing a shaky seventh inning, during which Roseau scored three runs and had the tying runs on the bases, do not appear to have the poise to contend with the Lumberjacks.

Halstad does have their nifty southpaw, Duane Ramstad, ready for Bemidji, and with Bemidji's batting power pretty cenered in southpaw-swinging Bob Shadlow, John Dow and Jerry Fossand, the lefthander, with his sharp curve, may be troublesome.

Bemidji will prehaps send John Dow to the mound, and the husky junior righthander will probably show the Halstad batsmen more speed than they have seen all season. Dow comes in with on overhand delivery, and he has the physical size to be impressive on the mound. On the other side of the ledger, Halstad's Ramstad is a watch-charm kind of guy, small and nifty. But he is a bulldog of a competitor, and it's a fact that he won't be overawed by the Jacks. I hope the southpaw hurls a no-hit and no-run game.

The Game of the Week

It's not much of a doubt but that the softball game slated for the East Side diamond on Thursday evening can be termed the "game of the week". It will find the Bridgeman's, the defending league champions currently sharing the league lead, meeting Wiley Bogie and the Bea's Food Market squad.

The Bea's had a couple of anxious moments on Monday evening when, in their game against Hamm's Beer, they were forced into extra innings before winning, 16-6. That's right, the score was 16 to 6. The Bea's held a 5 to 4 lead entering the last half of the seventh, but the Hamm's club scored the tying run, on a error, to force the game into extra innings. Gus Holmes, who had pitched well for the Hamm's, ran into a streak of wildness in the ninth inning, and it proved costly as the Bea's erupted for 10 runs, and won their third straight game.

But to get back to Thursday's affair. This should be a crowd pleaser, and it will find the Bea's capable pitcher, Wiley Bogie, up against his toughest opposition to date. The Bridgeman's, and it is probable that manager Dave Clough will send John Drury to the mound, has a well-seasoned squad. Gary Klungness, attending Concordia college, is home for the summer months and he will undoubtedly be assigned to the Bridgeman's outfield, where his speed will be used to advantage.

Thursday evening's game has generated considerable interest, and that's all to the good. Now if a couple of those teams that are occupying the lower rungs of the league ladder could come up with a capable pitcher or two, the league would have excellent balance. It's a fine thing for softball that Bogie, who is a fine pitcher with great experience, is hurling for the Bea's squad.

Don't miss the "game of week", on Thursday, featuring Bridgeman's vs. Bea's Food Market.

NW Bell Program Is Given to Rotary, Lions

Gerald Ramsdell

A preview of what telephone service might be like in the year 2000 was the subject of a talk by Gerald G. Ramsdell, executive assistant, Northwestern Bell Telephone company, Minneapolis, at meetings of the Thief River Falls Rotary and Lions clubs Monday and Wednesday.

Using demonstration equipment, the speaker showed models of a possible personal mobile wireless telephone, also a picture phone—a telephone with a television screen.

"Both of these phones are within technical capabilities right now," Ramsdell said, "but are not commercially feasible. In fact, there is no demand for such service now. When the time comes that such service is required, telephone scientists will be ready with the necessary technology," the speaker said.

Speaking of new developments within the range of the near future, Ramsdell demonstrated touch-tone service which will become operational this fall in selected Minnesota communities. The touch-tone instrument uses ten push-buttons for numbers and letters instead of the present dial wheel. It is entirely electronic and uses different combinations of audible electric frequencies to pass signals over the line.

Ramsdell described a new form of electonic switching equipment that will permit a much wider variety of personal services then is possible with present day mechanical switching equipment. Frequently called numbers will be reached by dialing two or four digit numbers instead of seven or 10.

A third party may be "added on" to an existing two-party conversation. Another unique service that will be possible will be a "call waiting" feature. A person already talking on a call would be notified by a tone that someone was trying to reach him. He could excuse himself, push a button and pick up he waiting call, then return to his original call without breaking the connection. First installation of this all-electronic central office is tentatively scheduled for 1967 in Minnesota.

Data communications were described in the talk as the fastest volutionary development in modern tele-communications. Present day equipment is handling material and data at speeds of up to 2500 words per minute, but laboratory tests show that potential speeds of up to one and one-half million words per minute would be feasible.

Computers "talking" to computers will be commonplace in a relatively short time. "By 1975 we expect that machine-to-machine communication over telephone circuits will exceed people-to-people talk," Ramsdell said.

The speaker opened his talk with a demonstration of a working model of Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone, along with several other antique phones, to illustrate the marked improvement in instruments since the invention of the telephone in 1876.

BEN WICHTERMAN, Plummer farmer and DFL-endorsed candidate for Congress in the 7th District, recently received the best wishes of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Wichterman served six years in the State Legislature and currently is vice president of the State Junior College Board. Until he resigned recently to oppose Odin Langen in the Congressional race, Wichterman was a member of the Minnesota Agricultural and Conservation committee.

Wichterman said he would campaign on the issues: "Langen's opposition to the wheat bill, the emergency feed grain program, Area Redevelopment, the federal tax cut and the Food Stamp program."

MAIN STREET, U.S.A.

BY BERT MILLS

Washington Editor of "National Publisher"

For six years Congress has been trying to find a painless way of helping old folks pay their medical bills, and the question is being studied intensively right now.

The administration's medicare program would provide limited health care benefits for everyone over 65, regardless of need. Financing would be under the Social Security system, with increased taxes levied on every worker covered by Social Security and every employer.

Medicare would by no means solve all the health problems of senior citizens. It would cover few doctors' bills and furnish no drugs obtained outside of a hospital. The American Medical association contends that medicare "would cover less than one-quarter of the total yearly health care costs of the average aged person."

Nevertheless, medicare is politically attractive, particularly in an election year, and has strong support in Congress and out. President Lyndon B. Johnson's legislative "must list" calls for passage of medicare this year.

The House ways and means committee has been holding daily sessions on medicare and related problems. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D., Ark.) has consistently opposed any medical benefit program incorporated into the Social Security system. His power is such that unless he changes his mind, medicare under Social Security is not likely to become law.

Alternatives Being Studied

The ways and means committee is examining various alternatives to medicare. One is to reduce the number of days of hospital care from a maximum of 180 a year to perhaps 45. Another is to allow the Blue Cross hospital insurance system to manage the program, instead of the department of health education and welfare.

A possibility is that the medicare proposal may be scrapped in favor of liberalization of the existing Kerr-Mills program. Enacted in 1960 as an alternative to medicare, the Kerr-Mills law provides federal funds to states which set up medical assistance programs for the aged.

Liberals oppose the Kerr-Mills approach on two principal grounds. One is that it requires what critics term "a degrading means test" which eliminates aid to those who can finance their own health care. The other criticism is that too few states have passed legislation to tie into the Kerr-Mills program.

Organized medicine's answer to medicare is Kerr-Mills plus voluntary health insurance through private enterprise. In the recent past, there has been a tremendous boom in private health plans. In 1952, there were about 13 million persons over 65, and only 3.4 million had health insurance. In 1962, there were 17.3 million over 65, and 10.3 million had health insurance.

Most of the remaining 7 million old people had some protection, 1.1 million being service veterans, 2 million being covered by the federal old-age assistance program, and 2.5 million were eligible for medical assistance to the aged, another Social Security program.

Financing Is Stumbling Block

Proponents of medicare, including President Johnson, say the program will cost individuals only $1 a month. This is a highly misleading figure. The medicare bill calls for an additional payroll tax of one-quarter of 1 per cent on the first $4800 of annual income. That works out to $12 a year, or a dollar a month.

But the employer must match the worker's contribution, and that is another $12 a year. Also, a top HEW official has admitted that the raise in hospital costs recently will require both a larger percentage and a higher base amount, perhaps 1 per cent split between employees and employers on a $5,200 base. This would lift the annual cost per head to $34, not $12.

This would be on top of existing Social Security taxes. The current rate is 3⅝ per cent of the first $4,800 of annual earnings, the employer matching the employee contribution. Present law calls for increases to 4 and one-eighth per cent in 1966 and 4 and five-eighth per cent in 1968. At that time the bite will be $444 a year on both employee and employer—without medicare.

Lumping together employee and employer taxes, the 1968 rate will be 9.25 per cent. Administration officials have regarded a 10 per cent total tax as a maximum that the public would accept. If a one per cent Medicare tax is added, the limit will be exceeded. This is one reason why Congress is taking such a long look at medicare.

The Facts on Fat

June is dairy month and a fitting time to mention one of the items which the dairy industry has been fighting for several years. This is the charge that cholesterol, animal fat, is dangerous to health. Milk, and products made from milk, contain a certain amount of cholesterol.

Dr. G. P. Whitlock, nutritionist from the University of California, spoke recently at a meeting of the California State Bureau of Milk Stabilization. "Cholesterol is a perfectly normal substance needed by every cell in the body and may well turn out to be a good guy instead of a bad guy," Dr. Whitlock stated.

"Laziness may well be a greater cause of heart disease and mental ill health than whether you eat saturated fats or go on a fad diet," the nutritionist added. This statement tends to indicate that the American public should not blame all its ills on cholesterol while leading a dormant existence.

In Cleveland the American Heart association meeting heard doubts raised as to the role of diet in the development of heart disease. One of the reports that sent researchers hunting for non-dietary factors is a Chicago investigation that has been in progress four and one-half years.

The Chicago study covers approximately 2,000 middle-aged men. A total of 296 men in the highest fat intake group have had 14 new cases of coronary disease while 296 in the lowest fat intake group have had 16 new cases.

These research findings and several others with similar results have convinced many scientists working on the problems of the heart and circulatory system that neither dairy products nor any other specific food is responsible for coronary disease.

Since it is made from butterfat, the cream of the milk crop, butter is one of the items scored by some groups for its cholesterol content. Minnesota butter is among the finest in the world. In the state buttermaking contest recently, 139 out of 223 entries scored 99 points or more out of a possible 100. This nearness to perfection is one reason why dairying and its related industries are so important to Minnesota—and one reason why the state's dairy farmers should be concerned about what people are saying about their products.

It is largely through the efforts of the American Dairy association that the cholesterol challenge has been answered. This association, representing dairy farmers of the nation, must remain militant as well as aggressive in salesmanship. It is difficult to sell a product that the public is afraid to buy. We like to believe the research that explodes the theory of cholesterol danger in the diet.

We Are Doing Well

Soviet Premier Khrushchev will need a larger shovel and a lot more elbow grease if he is going to make good his boast to "bury" the United States. Figures presented by "Minnesota News-Features" indicate that our free enterprise nation is doing well in its comparative race with the Soviet Union. MNF states the following:

Here are some comparative figures showing how the United States and Russia are doing at this time in major production gathered by Radio Free Europe from official sources:

	United States	Russia
Population	190 mil.	225 mil.
Armed Forces	2.4 mil.	3.6 mil.
Steel (tons)	150 mil.	65 mil.
Elec. Power (KWH)	840 bil.	292 mil.
Coal (tons)	427 mil.	513 mil.
Cement (tons)	59 mil.	43 mil.
Crude Oil (tons)	2.5 bil.	945 mil.

The United States, in conjunction with the free nations of Western Europe, maintains a big edge in production of all these major industrial needs except coal, according to the figures.

The free world produces three times as much steel and cement as all the communist countries, four times as much electric power and 2½ times as much crude oil.

The comparative population of the free and communist worlds is 441 million in the former and 295 million in the soviet bloc. The free world armed forces total 6,800,000; those of the soviet bloc number 5,128,000.

The estimated gross national product for 1970 is $1.5 billion in the free world bloc against $680 billion among the communist nations.

It Takes Courage

We salute the publisher of the Hope, Ark., "Star" who has expressed opposition to the construction of a $500,000 federal building for a new post office in his town of 8,000 people. It takes courage to turn down an apparent government hand-out, such as the proposed building to replace a three-story brick and frame building which was built in 1912.

We don't know the condition of the building or the full plans for the proposed federal building, but the "Star" publisher apparently does. His concern is the replacement of postal facilities arbitrarily every 50 years—the plan under which the postal department is said to operate.

This is not to condemn the postal department, nor the necessary improvements it makes to replace worn-out facilities or to provide for faster, more efficient mail service. It is rather to recognize that the "Star" publisher has shown the fortitude to express doubt when "federal funds" are offered to his community.

"The government has an obligation much greater than the 50-year rule of bureaucrats — the obligation to keep itself solvent so our country can defend itself in time of war and honor its social security pledges in time of peace," he states. "The tragedy of the people is—we start off with a country, and wind up with a government."

The stand of the Arkansas publisher is almost unique in our nation today. We complain about the federal expenditures throughout the nation until they happen to affect us or our communities. The idea that ". . .everyone else is getting government aid, so we might as well get our share" is a sure way to perpetuate the bureaucratic vote-buying campaign. Until some people start saying, "No, thank-you, we don't need it," the expensive bandwagon will continue to roll.

Minnesota on the Move

Commuting to and from work is often thought of in this area as something normal only in the metropolitan areas of the East Coast. Far from it, according to the Upper Midwest Research and Development council. Commuting plays an important role in the life of many Minnesotans, the council explains.

The council states that commuting is becoming a substitute for migration in the Upper Midwest as growing job centers reach out 30 miles or more to small towns and rural townships for the labor available in them. It is observed that the long-distance commuter in Minnesota is not the stereotype of the high-salaried executive, but is more likely to be a blue-collar or clerical worker who drives to the factory job, school or business office. He may be a part-time farmer or resort operator.

"Commuting is a form of daily mobility which can be a substitute for a residential move closer to one's job," the council states. "Work trips have greatly lengthened and increased in numbers from suburban and outlying areas to places of employment. The labor force has grown by 50 per cent and the number of cars on the road has more than doubled since 1950."

Migration to the Upper Midwest is now 67,000 persons per year, nearly twice the pre-war amount, but out-migration of 107,000 results in net losses of about 40,000 people annually.

Some of the recommendations made by the council include the following:

School counseling policies, employee placement services, and thorough appraisal of regional opportunities can reduce unprofitable migration.

Regional information centers should be established for collection and exchange of employment and migration data and trends.

Multi-county planning bodies might include an analysis of migration and commuuting in their programs.

Emphasis should be increased upon training and education for jobs in expanding industries and occupations.

Encouragement of home-to-work commuting from small towns and rural areas to growing centers would yield dividends to employers and under-employed workers.

Expansion and upgrading of facilities and services at centers with locational advantages can render them more attractive to trained labor and potential investors.

New Man on the Go

We respectfully ask that Thief River Falls area people will welcome Jim to the community and make him feel at home while learning the varied aspects of the journalistic field. Any courtesies and cooperation extended to him will be sincerely appreciated.

Mustang leads the stampede the big Ford started. This has been the hottest sales year in Ford Division history. We have a winner in the Super Torque Ford, a car so well built, so predictably tough, that competition-modified Fords took eleven of the last twelve NASCAR 500-mile races. Ford sales are up 17% this year. We have a luxury car that's taken off like a skyrocket: Thunderbird, with sales up 68%. Falcon is selling almost as many cars as Valiant and Chevy II combined. Fairlane continues to be a favorite in its own field. Now comes Mustang . . . turning the trend to Ford into a downright stampede. Mustang, by any measure of sales or excitement, is the most successful new car ever introduced in America—ever. When you see a stampede, it makes sense to find out what started it. That's something only your Ford Dealer can tell you about.

MR. FARMER...
WOULD YOU BE WILLING TO PAY 15.7% INTEREST FOR MONEY??
OF COURSE NOT!
At least you wouldn't if you intend to keep on farming very long with the prices that you receive for what you produce today.
Yet hundreds of farmers in this area are LOSING this much on their purchases every season. And the amazing thing is they seem to be satisfied with this loss. The low prices that farmers receive for their products is no secret, yet, how can he rightfully complain about this when he willingly loses up to 15.7% on what he purchases?
LET US EXPLAIN...
Briefly summarize your last year's expenses below (EXAMPLE)
Gasoline $... $ 420.00
Diesel Fuel $... $
Burner Fuel $... $ 184.00

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

The senate rules committee is said to be working on a code of ethics for Senate members that will put an end to the kind of misconduct that was in part revealed by the investigation of Bobby Baker's activities. It is interesting to note that the committee recognizes the fact that Baker was guilty of "gross improprieties", and the proposal for a code of ethics for members of the Senate indicates that the committee is also aware of the fact that some members of the Senate, and other leaders of the party holding high office, were also guilty of gross improprieties.

But a code of ethics, while it might serve a useful purpose as a guide for honorable members of the Senate, will have no effect on those whose votes and influence are for sale. Bobby Baker refused to answer questions because the answers might tend to incriminate him—and also some of his bosses and friends. His friends, who controlled the investigating committee, did not crowd him very hard, and the investigation didn't reveal the actual facts. That will have to be a job for the historians.

In self defense, the majority group in the Senate came to Bobby's defense. And the roster of those members of the Senate who voted against a proposal that members of the Senate be questioned as to any connections they may have had with Bobby Baker in his amazing rise to riches, no doubt included a large number of the members who, for the same reason that Baker gave, preferred not to be asked questions that might tend to incriminate them. All of them, of course, are suspect. It will take time, but in time most of the sordid facts will be revealed.

Our United States Senator, Eugene McCarthy, is getting a little tired of increasing the nation's debt limit each year. He thinks the debt limit should be removed entirely and forgotten about. He points out that the debt limit does not really operate as a check on federal spending and that government fiscal authorities have several devices for "circumventing the limit."

There is some truth in what the Senator says. The rascals who do our bookkeeping in Washington, can, and do, juggle the figures, especially in a campaign year.

It is a little disappointing however, to have a man who represents our state in the United States Senate speak so casually of what to me is a very important matter. Going into debt, in itself, is not necessarily bad, and especially not if those who go into debt plan their affairs so that they will live within their means and be able to meet their obligations. Those who become too deeply involved in debt, be they individuals or governments, are headed for trouble.

Removing the debt limit at this time would be an admission of irresponsibility that could effect adversely our national credit, discouraging the confidence of investors in our promises-to-pay. Senator McCarthy points the way down the primrose path to eventual disaster.

He obviously has gone along with those dreamers who think we can spend ourselves rich. For him, increasing national indebtedness is the way to prosperity. Following him and his playmates will lead us inevitably over the hill to the poor house. Their plan, instead of decreasing poverty, would increase it.

I am inclined to string along with the conclusion of James Reston, who writes for the New York Times Service, that neither Goldwater nor Rockefeller will be the GOP nominee for the office of President. Reston was writing from Los Angeles on the eve of the Republican primary election.

Goldwater and Rockefeller have done an effective job of killing each other off and I am satisfied that the delegates to that national GOP convention will include that neither of them would have a chance of winning in the finals. Nixon ruled himself out as a great leader by the crybaby manner in which he took his deafeat in California a couple of years ago and moved to New York.

Reston thinks that the weary fellows in the smoke-filled rooms along about three or four o'clock in the morning will finally agree on either Scranton or Lodge, and there is much to be said in favor of both of them. Neither of them has much of a chance of defeating Lyndon Johnson in the finals, but both could be effective in helping to build-up the conservative strength in Congress, and that, as I see it, is the really important thing in this election.

There is such a thing as being too liberal or too conservative, and for too many years we have had too much liberal government. We have gone down the road of reckless spending to the point where we now have a 38 cent dollar and a steadily increasing national debt of much more than $300 billion.

The liberals have been in the driver's seat too long. By our foolish mismanagement we will have added greatly to the poverty of our people. But I can see no chance of defeating Lyndon Johnson in the coming election. The campaign-year boom will be in full blossom around election time. A boom has always been followed by a bust.

Snow Removal On State Roads High

Costs Rise in Spite of Relatively Easy Winter

Despite the "reputation" Minnesota's last winter got for being both mild and comparatively light in snowfall, highway snow removal and sand and chemical application costs ran ahead of the 1962-63 winter, according to figures just compiled by the Minnesota highway department.

The cost of such work on state highways from July 1, 1963, through April 30, 1964, was $3,890,000. For the same period in 1962-63 the cost was $3,214,000. These figures are compared with the winter of 1961-62 (considered a severe winter) when costs ran $5,288,507.

What happened to Minnesota in April is familiar; the state was hit by a series of snowfalls just before the advent of warm weather. April costs this year were $593,000; as compared to April, 1963, $163,000; and April, 1962, $217,000.

Records since 1904 place Minnesota's average snowfall at 41½ inches. Snowfalls of the last three years were: 1963-64, 23.3 inches; 1962-63, 34½ inches; and 1961-62, 81.3 inches

Maintenance section officials, after studying the cost figures, state that increased use of chemicals, higher costs and increased mileage of interstate highway help account for generally higher figures of maintenance.

THE PRAYER IN THE SAND

Anzio . . . Okinawa . . . Iwo Jima? On which beachhead did they find it, that cross crudely drawn in the sand?

No doubt it appeared on every blood-stained shore where gallant men of Christian faith have fallen wounded or dying!

For the Cross on which Christ died has ever stood as the symbol of His Life and Truth. And often It has spoken eloquently what human lips could not frame.

Is it not too little simply to honor those who have fought and died for our freedom? Each generation must inscribe its own prayer on the beachhead of history.

Religious freedom is the heart of our heritage.

In a world in which Liberty must be armed to endure, faith must be practiced to be preserved.

Pray for yourself, your family, your nation, your world . . . in the church of your choice next Sunday.
